THE ADVANCE, Wilson, N. C.

THURSDAY, April 27th, 1893. CAN YOU AFFORD IT.

Some business men seem to think it economy not to advertise in their local paper. Opinions differ on this point, however, and the experience and testimony of the most successful men are to the contrary. Indeed, it is no longer a question as to whether advertising pays or not. But the average business man may well ask himself if he can afford not to advertise. Every business in town is either doing all it can or less than it can.

If you are not doing all the business you want, surely the best way in the world to launch on the flood tide of success is to advertise it. If you are prosperously doing all the business you want to, surely you are the last person in the world to deny your local paper that which it needs and ought to haveyour moral and financial support-in return for what it does for the community in which you live and are inyour living.-Henderson Gold Leat.

Strong and Well. "A year ago, my partner died, and the whole burden and responsibility of a large grocery business fell upon me. The increased care and hard work, in connection with the low state of my blood, so severely taxed my strength that I became all run down, had no appetite, was weak, nervous, and endured all the torments which headable, indigestion, general debility, and total loss of energy could possibly inflict. The medicine recommended me by my physicians did no more good than so much water. AYER'S Sarsaparilla being favorably brought to my attention, I tried it, and, in a short time, began to feel better. I continued to take this medicine for two months, at the end of which time I felt like a new man. My appetite, energy, and strength returned, my food digested perfectly, and all traces of headache and nervousness disappeared. I am convinced that if I had not taken AYER'S Sarsaparilla, instead of being strong and well, when the warm weather set in, I should have been confined to my bed, under the doctor's care, and totally unable to attend to business. I am a thorough believer in the merits of AYER'S Sarsaparilla for restoring to healthy, vigorous action, the vital organs of the body, when they have become weakened or exhausted."-WILLIAM H.
