WHAT ARE WE COMING TO.

When good men, men who, under ordinary circumstances, would be spoken of as "law abiding citizens," come out boldly and say not only that an unusually brutal crime should be punished with instant death, without trial or hearing, but furthermore, if a sworn officer of the law in the discharge of his duty, to maintain order and protect the life and property of the people, shall be so unfortunate as to cause the death of one or more men, engaged in an open violation of the law, he too should suffer death.

There are now sixty-three veterans in the Soldier's Home here. The last Legislature appropriated $200 for repairs and improvements and $8,000 a year for maintenance.

Upon examination, I found that Mr. Thomas Campbell once selected "Pleasures of Memory" as a subject suitable for a poem. Strange how great minds will run in the same channel, isn't it? I have heard that Mr. Campbell—but then I was speaking of memory.

And yet nine out of the ten men you meet will declare, without hesitation, that Mayor Trout, of Roanoke, should be hanged, because, forsooth, he stood between an infuriated mob and a prisoner under the protection of the law.

Let the criminal be assured that crime will be punished and crime will draw in its horns instead of strutting rampant down our streets.

their daily life by them, may not have made even a more startling and humiliating disclosure. Yet we do judge our pagan brethren. We do strain our eyes to see the mote in their eyes and are all the while apparently unconscious of the beam in our own.

RALEIGH, N. C., Sept. 23.—State Auditor Furman says the pensions will this year be $100,000, and that the increase in the amount realized equal the increase in the pension tax.

LIKE A NEW MAN

A Well-known Lowell Grocer Debilitated by overwork, makes use of AYER'S Sarsaparilla and soon feels Strong and Well.

"A year ago, my partner died, and the whole burden and responsibility of a large grocery business fell upon me. The increased care and hard work, in connection with the low state of my blood, severely taxed my strength, and I became all run down, had no appetite, was weak, nervous, and endured all the torments which headache, indigestion, general debility, and total loss of energy could possibly inflict. The medicine recommended me by my physicians did no more good than so much water. AYER'S Sarsaparilla being favorably brought to my attention, I tried it, and, in a short time, began to feel better. I continued to take this medicine for two months, at the end of which time I felt like a new man. My appetite, energy, and strength returned, my food digested perfectly, and all traces of headache and nervousness disappeared. I am convinced that if I had not taken AYER'S Sarsaparilla, instead of being strong and well, when the warm weather set in, I should have been confined to my bed, under the doctor's care, and totally unable to attend to business. I am a thorough believer in the merits of AYER'S Sarsaparilla for restoring to healthy, vigorous action, the vital organs of the body, when they have become weakened or exhausted."—WILLIAM H. BROWN, 33 Gorham St., Lowell, Mass.

For the Good of Others

Rev. Mrs. Williams heartily endorses Hood's Sarsaparilla. We are pleased to present this from Rev. A. A. Williams, of the Silabec Street Christian Church, Lynn, Mass. "I see no reason why a clergyman, more than a layman, who knows whereof he speaks, should hesitate to approve it."

Article of Merit and worth, from which he or his family have been signally benefited, and whose commendation may serve to extend the benefits to others by increasing their confidence. My wife has for many years been a sufferer from severe Nervous Headache, for which she found little help, she has tried many things that promised well but performed nothing. Last fall a friend gave her a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla. It seems surprising what simply one bottle could and did do for her. The attacks of headache decreased in number and were less violent in their intensity, while her general health has been improved. Her appetite has also been better. From experience with

Hood's Sarsaparilla I have no hesitation in endorsing its merits. A. A. WILLIAMS, HOOD'S PILLS are the best family cathartic, gentle and effective. Try a box. Price 50c.

A Fire at Durham. DURHAM, N. C., September 23.—At 4:45 this afternoon fire broke out in the plug factory of J. W. Swift & Co., on the corner of Third and North streets. The building was also burned. Both were large wooden buildings. Two cottage houses were badly damaged. Loss about $35,000. Swift had $5,000 insurance on building stock. Burton had a total loss of $2,500 on stock of tobacco. There were eighty hogheads in the house, not more than half of which were saved.

Vanderbilt's Great Scheme. ASHEVILLE, N. C., September 23.—One of the latest of Vanderbilt's schemes in connection with the building of his palace is the construction of a dam across the French Broad river and forcing a volume of water through the channel, thus forming a great island, which will be stocked with buffalo, antelope, deer, and other animals, and becoming scarce in America. Vanderbilt hopes to eat Christmas dinner in his palace in 1896, with Chauncey M. Depew as his guest.

GROWTH OF FINGER NAILS. Results of Some Curious Observations Made by a Prominent Manicurer. A prominent manicurer who has devoted many years to the study of the subject has presented the result of his observations that the finger nails of the human species grow more rapidly in children than in adults, and that the growth is slowest with the aged. His observations, however, do not stop at this, for he finds that both in childhood and age they grow faster in summer than in winter. In one instance a nail that required one hundred and thirty-two days to renew in winter renewed in summer in exactly one hundred and sixteen days. During both seasons the patient upon whom this experiment was made enjoyed normal health.

The method of testing the growth was in each instance the same. The nail was pared close and slightly notched at the quick. Both the right and the left hand were studied, with the result that he affirms that the growth of finger nails is more rapid on the right hand than on the left. As the person was right-handed it is possible that the contrary is true of left-handed individuals. One peculiarity of the growth of finger nails in addition to those stated is that the period of renewal differs proportionately with the length of the nail. Thus it is more rapid in the middle fingers than in any others. In the fingers on either side the middle finger the period of renewal is about equal and slower. It is even more slow in the thumb finger, and slowest of all in the thumb.

Comparing the same fingers of the different hands, the person who discovered these curious phases of growth states that on an average the nails on the left fingers of a right-handed person require eighty-two days longer to renew than those of the left hand. In one particular the growth of the nails on the hair and beard are governed by the same law, that they grow more rapidly in summer than in winter.
