school buildings of Annapolis College, established under the charter granted at Annapolis, and the apparent intention of the Turkish government to the outrage, notwithstanding the complexity of some of its officials, has already been remonstrated, which was followed by promises of reparation and the punishment of the offenders. Indemnity for the injury to the buildings has already been paid, permission to rebuild given, registration of the school property in the name of the American owners secured, and efficient protection guaranteed.

THE HAWAIIAN EMBROIDERY. It is hardly necessary for me to state that the questions arising from our relations with Hawaii have caused serious embarrassment.

Just prior to the installment of the present administration, the existing government of Hawaii had been suddenly overthrown, and a treaty of annexation had been negotiated between the provisional government of the Hawaiian Islands and the United States and submitted to the senate for certification.

This treaty I withdrew for examination and dispatched Hon. James H. Blount, of Georgia, to Honolulu as a special messenger to make an impartial investigation into the merits of the case, and to report to the secretary of the treasury to issue bonds not as clear as it should be and the bonds authorized are disavowed by the government.

Higher of all in Leavening Power.—Latest U. S. Gov't Report.

While I am distinctly in favor of consistently pursuing the policy we have inaugurated of building up a thorough and efficient navy, I cannot refrain from the suggestion that Congress should carefully take into account the unfinished work on our hands and the depleted condition of our treasury in considering the propriety of an appropriation at this time to begin new work.

The continued intelligent execution of the civil service law and the increasing approval by the people by its operations are most gratifying. I am, if possible, more than ever convinced of the incalculable benefits conferred by the civil service law, not only in its effect upon the public service, but also what is even more important in its effect in elevating the tone of political life generally.

After a hard struggle, tariff reform is directly before us. Nothing so important claims our attention and nothing so clearly presents itself as both an opportunity and a duty, an opportunity to deserve the gratitude of fellow citizens and a duty imposed upon us by our oft-repeated professions and by the emphatic mandate of the people.

After full discussion, our countrymen have spoken in favor of this reform, and they have conferred the work of its accomplishment to the hands of those who are so solemnly pledged to it. Nothing should intervene to distract our attention from our effort until this reform is accomplished by wise and careful legislation.

A measure has been prepared by the appropriate congressional committee, embodying tariff reform on the lines herein suggested, which will be promptly introduced for legislative action. It is the result of much patriotic and unselfish work, and I believe it deals with its subject consistently and as thoroughly as existing conditions permit.

The committee, after full consideration, and to provide against a temporary deficiency which may exist before the business of the country adjusts itself to the new tariff schedules, have wisely embraced in their schedule a few additional internal revenue taxes, including a small tax upon income derived from certain corporate investments.

These assessments are not only absolutely just and easily borne, but they have the further merit of being such as can be remitted without unfavourable business disturbances whenever the necessity for their imposition no longer exists.

In my great desire for the success of this measure, I cannot refrain from the suggestion that its success can only be obtained by means of unselfish counsel on the part of tariff reform, and as a result of their willingness to subordinate personal desires and ambitions to the general good. The local interests affected by the proposed reform are so numerous and so varied that if all are insisted upon the legislation embodying the reform must inevitably fail.

In concluding my feeling of responsibility impels me to invoke for the manifold interests of a generous and caring people the most scrupulous and prompt attention to the proposed reform, every legislative effort for the advancement of the greatness and prosperity of our country.

WASHINGTON, December 1.—The income tax bill will be a conspicuous feature of the internal tax schedules, upon which a majority of the members of the ways and means committee are now working.

To recover the tone of the vocal organs (after continued speaking), gargle with Pond's Extract. Any incipient inflammation will thus be reduced, the vocal cords will be strengthened, slightly stimulated, and brought into normal condition, and the voice will become much stronger, so that many a hoarseness or sore throat that might result will be prevented. Also invaluable for the cure of any sore throat, or for catarrh of the air passages, pharyngitis, bronchitis or laryngitis. Pond's Extract is unequalled for all inflammations of the mucous membrane. Avoid substitutes.
