The fight then began, Mr. Boutelle, on behalf of the republicans, putting forward the Hawalian matter to antagonize the tariff bill. Mr. Hitt, the head of the minority of the foreign affairs committee, stated that inasmuch as this proposition gave the republicans substantially what they desired, viz., a time fixed for debate on the Hawaiian matter, he would be glad to accept it. Then there was quite a wrangle over Mr. Boutelle's effort to call up

Before the examining magistrate, Franch confessed to being the author the Liceo theatre bomb outrage. He says that he alone was responsible for the outrage in which twenty-five people were killed and over fifty others injured. some of whom have since died of their injuries. Franch said: "Taking a bomb in each hand I hurled one of them with all my force into the centre of the closely packed stalls, where the group select people were sitting, and a fine explosion followed the landing of the bomb. I threw the other one almost immediately afterwards, but I don't believe it exploded, as I should have killed a nice lot of bourgeoise. I aimed it with particular care at the portion of the theatre where that ated class was thick.

"Of course there was a terrible row and panic after the explosion of the omb, and before it had in any way passed I was enabled to get away, as was already clear of seats and had no difficulty in making for the stair case and from there running down into the street." Franch then told how he remained in hiding, supplied with all the news his brother Anarchists. When questioned as to how he obtained the bombs Franch said: "I made the bombs myself, according to the prethat so few people were killed."

Franch, who is a tall, fine looking man of about 30 years of age, comes of a respectable family. He left home Barcelona, where he soon joined the Anarchists society and as he grew are: Thomas R. # Governor Mitchell Says the "Two Thugs" Can't Meet in Florida.

Charley is Not Very Anxious-He Refuses to Sign New Articles of Agreement, and the Duval Club is All

Broken Up Over It.

JACKSONVILLE, FLA., January 6 .-One development has followed another in rapid succession today in the Cor-bett-Mitchell affair. The cases in the criminal court against Corbett and Mitchell fell through this morning, because the solicitor declined to prosecute them. The mayor vetoed the five-ounce-glove ordinance and the council passed it over his veto by a two-third vote. The Duval club now admits that it has requested Corbett and Mitchell to sign new articles of agreement and a test fight will soon be had at the Park opera house, to see if a case at law can be made in a glove contest under articles of agreement exactly like those which were signed in New York for Corbett and

Mitchell. The county solicitor's action this morning is claimed as a victory by both sides. The Duval club officials insist that Solicitor Christie could find no law under which to proceed against the two pugilists and so retreated rather than go on with the case and be whipped in open court. The governor's friends say that he scored a big point by choking off the club from getting a favorable decision in the habeas corpus case, now a dead letter. It is the general belief that the governor drew Christie into a corner by threatening to remove him from office if he prosecuted these two cases. In all probability the mysterious telegram received from the governor one day last week, contained the lash which the governor plied be admitted that the club was thunder-

The Duval Club admits that it has asked the pugilists to sign new articles of agreement. "This was done," said Manager Bowden, "simply as a precaution in case the fight should be stopped here.

These new articles simply provide that the fight may be pulled off at some point beyond the two-mile limit from the city of Jacksonville, as agreed in the first articles, and at another time if necessary, either twenty-four hours before or after noon of January 25th. You see this allows us a chance to evade the authorities, if they stop the fight at the arena and would make the fight a dead sure thing.
