HON. F. H. BUSBEE made the address at the commencement exercises of the A. & M. College Tuesday, in the place of Congressman Hatch who failed to come.

THE Weldon Correspondent of the Richmond Dispatch states that Mr. J. T. Evans and two sisters of that place have fallen heirs to an estate in Texas valued at about $65,000.00.

It is cheering intelligence that comes from the Pennsylvania miners. They have decided to give up the strike and return to work. It is just as we expected—the triumph of capital over labor.

ARE dynamite and giant powder to become an element in our national politics? Jaxon seems to think that they would be good elements to right the country's wrong. Maybe Jaxon wants to revenge his ancestors.

CONGRESSMAN BRECKINRIDGE, of Arkansas, has been defeated for re-nomination to Congress. He is an able man, but just now his name is unfortunate. When the Kentucky Breckinridge is defeated we shall rejoice.

CONGRESSMAN HATCH, who was to have delivered the address at the Agricultural and Mechanical College in Raleigh, did not make his appearance. He sent word that he could not come. These public men are very uncertain at the best.

THAT was a most diabolical plot that was unearthed at Washington last week. The Washington police deserve great glory for the admirable manner in which they have worked the whole thing. They spotted their men and kept them spotted.

CONGRESSMAN HENRY G. TURNER was nominated for Congress by the Democrats of the Eleventh Georgia district Tuesday. Almost unanimous resolutions were adopted endorsing the Cleveland administration as being wise, able, and conservative.

Jaxon, the half-breed, who was leading the anarchists of Washington, is a very fluent talker. Perhaps he will be in demand as a lecturer after his Washington experience. Coxey won fame that way, and Jaxon is not a man to hide his light under a bushel.

MRS. VANCE made a statement to the press several days ago in which she said that she would make no more effort to move the body of Senator Vance to the place that she had selected. She disclaims any attempt to try to thwart the will of the late Senator or that of his son.

GGV. TILLMAN has entered the race for Senator from South Carolina against Senator Butler. Monday they met at Rock Hill in a joint canvass. The people enjoyed their meeting very much, but no indication was given as to the choice of the people. The question may be left to the primaries.

Who pays the bounty to the sugar producer? The people. Who will pay the tariff on sugar that is now proposed? The people. What is the difference in paying to the government for them to pay to the sugar producers and in paying to the sugar producers direct? None. Then why kick about the sugar schedule?

SENATOR RANSOM was on the stand last Saturday before the Senate Investigating committee. He stated that he had not been speculating in sugar, and that the reports that he had made were false. He further stated that his son George had purchased some sugar certificates, but he did so in his own individual capacity and not as the representative of his father. Of course no one will blame Senator Ransom for the acts of his private secretary, especially when that Secretary is his own son. Boys will be disobedient.

"A STRANGE VOICE."

The reports of the Populist speaking at Wilson last week are somewhat different as given by the Mirror and the ADVANCE. The ADVANCE enters into a lecture of the Democratic Press for nick-naming the Gog Magogs of populism. It dwells lengthily on courtesy and talks in a strange voice for the ADVANCE. It is perhaps a fact that just now backbone in the Democratic press is more necessary than courtesy run into the ground.—Clinton Democrat.

If our esteemed contemporary had been noticing our columns for the past several months, he would not have said that our report of the Populist gathering here on the 2nd of June was given in a strange voice. Our report was in line with the very first utterances that we made through the columns of this paper. We endeavored to make an unprejudiced report, and if the voice of a Democrat, giving justice to others, sounds strangely to our brother scribe, then we must say that we are sorry.

Our voice may be strange to the Democrat's ears, but we are obliged to say that the fault is not in the voice.

As for lecturing the Democratic press, nothing was further from our purpose. For the Democratic editors of this State we have the profoundest respect, and we have never thought that they needed lecturing, and especially from us. We, however, have nothing in the article in question to take back. Neither do we think that back bone is the sine qua non of success as our contemporary says, but that justice to all is as essential in politics as in everything else.

At any rate we intend to how to that line, let the chips fly where they may.

HAVEMEYER ON THE STAND.

Last week the Senatorial investigating committee had the President of the Sugar trust on the stand for two or three days. He was subjected to a very searching examination. Some facts were brought out that have thrown a flood of light upon the operations of trusts in this country.

Mr. Havemeyer was very outspoken in his testimony. When asked if he came to Washington for the purpose of influencing legislation, he replied that he had; but he added that he expected to do so in a legitimate way. When asked if he had contributed to the Democratic campaign fund, he replied that it had always been the policy of the trust to do so.

By further questioning the fact was obtained that the sugar trust had contributed very liberally to the campaign fund of both the Democratic and Republican parties. In these states where the Democratic party was in power they contributed to the Democratic campaign fund and vice versa in other States. In other words this great combination has no politics, but is simply using both parties to gain its ends. In Rome they are Roman, but in Carthage they are Punic.

This is an important revelation. The real campaign of trusts and syndicates in this country is outlined in that utterance of the Sugar King. What Havemeyer said is doubtless the policy of other trusts. It was the policy of Jay Gould, and is doubtless a policy that is altogether satisfactory to the trusts.

Anybody can understand why that plan was adopted. The contributions are always made to the party from whom an equivalent can be expected. Minorities never receive anything at their hands, because minorities cannot make laws. Majorities are the only ruling bodies in this country; hence the contributions from this great vote-buying machine are always made to the dominant party. This is all very unfortunate, and shows that money has gained an influence upon our national politics that is a menace to liberty. We hope that this investigation will do great good. It will open the eyes of the country to the enormity of corruption that is now, and has been, walking abroad at midday.

THE WOOL SCHEDULE.

Last week we had something to say about the sugar schedule of the present tariff bill. In it we took occasion to say that taxing sugar, while it is not altogether agreeable to our ideas of justice and right, is not so bad as some seem to think. It really has some merits which we tried to point out.

In the slow march of progress the Senate has at last disposed of the wool schedule of that bill, and that part may be regarded as fixed, provided the bill passes. It may be profitable to study it along with our study of the sugar schedule. In fact we frequently referred to it in our discussion last week. The bill as a whole, we shall discuss at some future time.

From the reports that have been made we understand that the wool schedule was voted upon, with a very few changes, as it came from the committee. One or two amendments to the committee's report was agreed upon, one of them being the duty on woolen goods for women and children's clothes. The duty agreed upon is forty per cent. ad valorem on goods that cost less than fifty cents a pound and fifty per cent. on goods that cost over fifty cents a pound.

We admit that that sounds very protective. In fact, according to our view, it is clear beyond the tariff for revenue only. It is a tax upon wearing material which is many times larger than the tax upon real estate, or upon property. It goes beyond the exactions of the sheriff so far that the paltry demands of the tax collector appear insignificant.

But is it iniquitous? In order to get at the truth of the matter compare it with the McKinley law now in force. The McKinley law, under which the country now groans, lives a tariff of ninety-eight per cent. on this same class of goods. So the reduction from ninety-eight per cent. to forty-five per cent, about the average, is no small matter after all. It is really a great reform, not indeed as much as we should be glad to see, but at the same time a reform that will be far-reaching in the consequences.

Just think of it a moment. We'll suppose a lady's dress that costs now fifty cents a yard to enter into the calculation. Ten yards at fifty cents a yard will cost $5.00. The tariff now is ninety-eight per cent. The Senate bill puts it at fifty per cent. That means a reduction of forty-eight per cent. from the cost of the goods could be sold at twenty-five cents a yard, without tariff, the ninety-eight per cent. present rate, would put the price about fifty cents a yard, but the bill now before the Senate contemplates the price at thirty-seven and a half cents a yard, thus making a reduction of twelve and a half cents. So that the dress instead of costing $5.00, would cost only $3.75.

It is true that the saving is small in a small purchase, but it is correspondingly large in a large purchase. It is no small item to have woolen goods of the grade mentioned reduced forty-eight per cent. The difference will certainly be apparent, but we by no means say that woolen goods will be on an average forty-eight per cent. cheaper than now. The reduction is forty-eight per cent., or about that from the percentage of the McKinley bill.

While the per cent is not low enough by a great deal, still we say that it is very much better than the monstrous that we are now granting under, and we believe the advantage will be very apparent after the measure goes into effect. The great statement of the country agree that it would not be well to make too radical a change in the tariff laws. The best plan, so the best financiers say, is to change gradually, and while we would like to see the rates very much lower, still we cannot yet maintain that the reduction of nearly fifty per cent. is a mistake. We believe it is a good step. In fact the very next thing to the best step that could be taken.

When passion has subsided and when the law shall have a fair trial, we believe the verdict of the country will be favorable.

WILSON N. C., June 11, '94.

TO EDITOR WILSON ADVANCE:—If the country could only be certain that Congress would adjourn tomorrow it would relieve the country from its vacillating policy, leave the laws entirely alone, for a period of at least ten years. The country could better afford to pay the law makers their salaries to stay at home and do nothing than to have to pay them for working positive injury to the country, as they have been doing lately. At any rate, the element of uncertainty would be removed. Persons who are doing business would know what they might expect to encounter in the shape of laws, for a definite period, at least, and could govern themselves accordingly. They would know that they might count on a settled policy for at least ten years, and that itself, even if the policy was known to be a vicious one, would be a decided advantage to the industrial factors of the country.

No man can become a business man for fighting shy of the present situation. And what is Congress doing to relieve the condition of uncertainty? Absolutely nothing. Every move they have so far made has been in the direction of increasing and intensifying the feeling of uncertainty as to what will be the outcome of their legislation.

A limited monarchy under a wise ruler is safer than a republic in which liberty is trampled, and thieves spring up like toadstools.

The Democratic party is without a prominent leader in Congress to day. Too many cooks spoil the broth. When one throws in the thyme and another sage, and another pepper, and another mustard, the product is fit for neither men nor dogs. They need Nehemiah's sound sense and rocky determination to lead them from the toils of doubts and perplexities. Yes, give us one capable level headed manager in any business or institution, instead of a corps of directors, who meet at twelve and crowd the air with theories until four, and then adjourn by laying the proposition on the table. The day of conventions driven to night, and the voice of the chairman will be heard in the land. Let the people attend these conventions and see that good men are nominated for the various offices, especially Congressmen, who are willing and ready to sacrifice their interest for others.

The present Congress will doubtless wish to return. They will, and should fail. Where do we fancy we are drifting? What has the future for us? The answer will be written in their own folly. Three million people in this country are out of employment. The greater part of this idleness should be charged up to Congress. The business men don't know which move to make. If they make any, Congress is liable to ruin them, hence they do nothing, and the consequence is three million people out of employment, women and children suffering on account of the great Congress of the U. S. The business of the country is like a man with an option straddled. He don't know which side to let go, and for fear he will lose on the other, he holds to both, and stops business.

Now, in conclusion, a few remarks about our Senators. Governor Jarvis has not been in the Senate long enough to expect anything from him, and when you do hear, it will be for the good of the whole country. He says, the slowness with which Congress moves is ridiculous and inexcusable. The country has a right to be disgusted. Too many people suffering from their conduct. Senator Jarvis is the very best man in the State for the place. He will throw his shining Democratic lance full and fair against the defamers of the Democratic party, and the maligners of its honor. He will stand plumb and erect upon the platform made at Chicago. If all the Democratic party had done what they promised and agreed to do, they would have passed the tariff bill in 60 days.

Let the voters of North Carolina and Wilson county remember that Governor Jarvis has been tried as a public servant in North Carolina and he has always been honest and equal to any occasion. He made the very best Governor that the State has had since Vance. The voters of North Carolina and Wilson county should remember how much Senator Jarvis saved for tax payers in his management of State affairs, and the sale of the Western North Carolina railroad. Now when you have your primaries and conventions, see that you nominate good men, men of truth and integrity that will go to Raleigh and vote for the Senator T. J. Jarvis to represent you in the United States Senate, and when you go to Washington, let you be high or low, rich or poor, it will take no card to see your Senator. Just send him word that you are there and he will look you up. He will not vote to confirm every Radical and mugwump that Cleveland puts up for office.

Our correspondents from Kenly, Elm City, and Talbot have preserved a golden silence for some time. Isn't it time to break that silence?

When Judge Connor resigned there was felt throughout the State very great regret in losing the services of a jurist so eminent, trust-worthy, and faithful. Gov. Carr appointed as his successor Jacob Battle, of Nash. Judge Battle had held but one or two courts before he began riding the eighth district this spring. He has just finished all the courts in the district except Iredell's May term, at which Judge Bynum will preside by exchange with Judge Battle. The record made by Judge Battle in this district demonstrates the wisdom of his appointment and his fitness to succeed his able predecessor. Before his appointment the West bank but little of him except as a worthy Senator in the last Legislature. He has proven himself to be a man especially equipped for the bench. He has the judicial cast of mind and the judicial temper to a marked degree. Besides being a thorough scholar and lawyer he has business capacity, decision and withal, politeness. He has so conducted himself as to have convinced all those who have witnessed his methods that one can be an able and upright judge and at the same time be affable and good natured. By his great abilities and fairness as a judge, his plain, unaffected and amiable qualities as a man on and off the bench, he has won the high esteem of the bar and the people of this district, and they will ever hereafter be glad to welcome him back again. It will not be long till he achieves the distinction of that great judge, his grandfather, Judge Daniel. He will have to be nominated this year and go before the State for election. His district can be assured that the West will support him with a hearty good will. His name on the ticket will add strength to the judicial ticket.

These who sit in judgment on our lives, liberty, property and reputation ought to be our lawyers whose characters, training and abilities especially fit them for the bench. The people are, perhaps, more interested in the kind of judges they have than any other officers. As a rule our judicial officers have ranked high and had the confidence of the people. The standard should not be lowered.

Save the Children By Purifying Their Blood Hood's Sarsaparilla Makes Pure Blood, Cures Scrofula, Etc.

"My experience with Hood's Sarsaparilla has been very effective. My little girl, five years old, had for four years a bad skin disease. Her arms and limbs would break out in a mass of sores, discharging yellow matter. She would scratch the eruptions as though it gave relief, and tear open the sores.

Two Bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla cured the eruptions to head and feet and the sores healed off, after which the skin became soft and smooth. As a family medicine it is invaluable."
