It will have to be recorded in every county through which the lines of the Southern Railway runs in North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Virginia, Alabama, Mississippi, Tennessee and Kentucky. It will take about two weeks to record it, and the fee will be about $53. A. B. Andrews, Jr., has the recording of the mortgage in North Carolina. There is no reason to believe that there exists in the United States a very interesting and unique snake, which has furnished the basis for the banner myth among all snake stories, but which has as yet escaped the observation of the naturalist, says the New York World. The first account ever printed of this snake appear in a "Report of the Lords Proprietors of Carolina," published over two hundred years ago. It narrates that the horn snake bellows like a bull, and that at the end of its tail is a horn, sharp and charged with a venom poisonous beyond description. Gen. E. P. Alexander, some years ago, found in a road on one of the South Carolina sea islands the body of a snake which some persons had just killed. In color it suggested a red Scotch plaid, and it was about fourteen inches long and three-quarters of an inch in diameter. The last inch or so of its tail was apparently solid as a weapon. A general description of the snake was sent to the Smithsonian Institution, but the scientists replied that they could not identify it.—Wilmington Review.

Hearing a faint rustle in the darkened hallway below, elder sister, supposing the young man had gone, leaned over the balustrade and called out:

"Well, Bessie, have you landed him?"

There was a deep, spulchral silence for some moments.

It was broken by the hesitating, constrained voice of the young man:

"She has,"—Chicago Tribune.

A good old Scotch lady had a nephew in the ministry, whose preaching she or any one else did not care much about. WEIGH THE CHANCES

The Condition of Things in Hon. W. L. Wilson's District.

ELEMENTS OF DEFEAT AS TO VICTORY.

The Forces of the Great Tariff Reformers Openly and Peaceably Displayed While the Republican Work Calmly Telling Zeal.

PIDMONT, W. Va., October 22.—The political situation in Congressman William L. Wilson's district may be summarized from an independent and non-partisan point of view about as follows: The democratic vote of the district is active, loyal and enthusiastic. The agriculturalists, who are almost, if not completely, in the majority, are more frank for his reelection than ever before. Far from being dissatisfied with the half-hearted tariff bill passed, they accept it with good grace, praise Wilson in one breath and bemoan the senate in the other, and clamor for Wilson to return to Washington and continue the crusade for lower duties.

The rank and file of the industrial class of democrats, while not so enthusiastic over the coal and lumber schedules, are not disposed to question his position to the point of voting against him.

On the other hand, there are many grave elements of doubt as to his victory. The shrewd managers who are pulling the wires for Mr. Wilson are not blinded into a complete state of satisfaction by the favorable demonstration that has been made toward him. They realize that while the full democratic vote has doubtless turned out to do him honor, and while everything has therefore appeared to be democratic in the counties through which he has passed, the republican constituency has had no favorable opportunity to exhibit its strength in a similar manner.

Because they have not seen the republicans does not mean that they are not there. The people who attended Mr. Wilson's meetings were not all of the people in the respective sections. It has been the policy of the republican leaders not to make a great parade of their forces as Mr. Wilson has done. The republican speakers at the small local meetings have been men of great prominence and trained orators, as a rule, by contrast with the crowd, but men who could give a plain business talk to the people. They are justly hopeful.

IMPARTIAL PENSION RULING.

Edict Upon the Determination of Compensation of Soldiers.

WASHINGTON, October 22.—Assistant Secretary of the Interior Reynolds has made a ruling holding that section 4701, Revised Statutes, limits the final termination of service in any pension case to either one or only two possible dates. These are the date of actual discharge or the date of the expiration of the term of service of organization and the date of disbandment of the organization because of the expiration of the term of service. It is held that a determination of the commencement of service by the war department from its records after full consideration of the law and the facts, in any claim based upon service during or since the war, of the rebellion, will be accepted by the Interior department as final. The ruling that pay be collected with and determine the period of such service is vacated and set aside, and the consequent decisions are overruled.

BUSINESS MEN ORGANIZE.

An Association Representing Nearly 200,000 of the Capital Employed.

CHICAGO, Ill., October 22.—Twenty-five of the largest wholesale manufacturers of clothing in Chicago have organized the strongest defensive association ever formed by the manufacturing interests of this city. Under an elastic set of by-laws they propose to reorganize the system of credits, to protect their interests when threatened by hostile legislation, and to grapple as one firm with organized labor. They organized under the name of the Merchants' Association of Chicago, and represent an invested capital of from fifteen to twenty million dollars and employ from fifteen to twenty thousand tailors cutters and seamstresses.

SOCIAL DEMOCRATS TOGETHER.

Germany's Annual Congress Opens at Frankfurt on the Main.

BERLIN, October 22.—The annual congress of the social democrats opened yesterday in Frankfurt on the Main. The Vorwarts observes the event by publishing in fourteen columns the executive committee's report of the party's doings in the Reichstag. The party finances are as usual, in good condition, showing at once the economy and sagacity with which they are administered. The usual surplus for the general treasury has been left after the payment of all expenses of the agitation.

LEFT A BABE IN CHURCH.

The Little One Lay Crying Beside the Altar.

PHILADELPHIA, October 22.—The cry of an infant yesterday about six o'clock attracted the attention of one of the sisters of Mercy at St. Elizabeth's church. Twenty-third and Berks streets. She searched and found beside the altar rail a child crying lustily. The child, which was a baby about six weeks old, was sent to the almshouse. This is the second case of the kind that has happened at St. Elizabeth's church. About two years ago a baby was left on the steps, but the parents reclaimed it.

Pursuing the Train Robbers.

Fort Worth, Tex., October 22.—A strong posse is in pursuit of the four men who robbed the west-bound Texas Pacific express train of a large amount of money estimated at about $20,000. Governor Boggs promises to offer a reward for their capture.

WORK OF THE COOK GANG.

The Kansas City and Memphis Express Held Up and Robbed.

WAGONER, I. T., October 22.—The Kansas City and Memphis express which left here at 9:30 last night, was wrecked and robbed by the Cook gang of desperadoes at Corcora, a blind siding, five miles south of here. The train was running twenty miles an hour and when within one hundred feet of the wreck, a man came out from behind a fence, opened the through safe, but when he explained that the safe was locked at the main office and not opened until it reached the destination, they left the car. When they were on their way through the coaches demanding money and valuables from passengers, a freight train following close behind, whistled, and Bill Cook, the leader, who had all the time remained outside issuing commands, swearing at the passengers and shooting, called for the hands to come out. The men on the cars jumped out and all were on the ground, fired a last volley at the train and disappeared in the darkness.

The mail car was not molested. The loss of the express company will not exceed $500, as instructions had been issued to all agents in the territory to receive no money or valuables for this train, and only the company money, resulted by local agents was carried outside of the through safe.

HIS ACCUSER DENOUNCED.

Mr. R. H. Henry Emphatically Denies the Charge Made by Mr. Turner.

JACKSON, Miss., October 22.—In an interview in the Evening News of yesterday Mr. W. S. Turner, traveling representative of Marshall & Bruce, of Nashville, the firm which, with R. & T. A. Emis and George D. Barnard, of St. Louis, were recently fined in the federal court at Aberdeen for forming a printing trust upon the plea of nolle prosequi, Mr. Turner says, after other things, it was stated that "in January, 1892, R. H. Henry came to me and proposed if he would not bid on the Illinois county work and a few other counties adjacent, he (Henry) would let up and quit firing into the foreign concerns," and that Messrs. Campbell & Brown, of the Chicago Road, the latter a Washington days later made the same proposition in references to Warren and adjacent counties, both of which propositions, Mr. Turner states, he rejected. In yesterday's Clarion-Ledger, Mr. R. H. Henry, who is president of the Clarion-Ledger Publishing Company, referring to the use of his name in said connection by Mr. Turner, says, over his own signature, "No such conversation was ever had, and no such proposition was ever made, and Mr. Turner or any one else making the statement, was a liar."

FEARFUL TRAGEDY IN ALABAMA.

A Prominent Physician Killed by an Employee at Buena Vista.

MOBILE, Ala., October 22.—A fearful killing occurred at Buena Vista, a few miles from the city, yesterday. Dr. William Whitman, a prominent and universally beloved physician, was killed by an employe, Sam Nettles, the doctor being on his way to his office when he was struck with a brick which he was bringing home. A neighbor, however, met Dr. Whitman before Nettles overtook him and seeing his position persuaded him to retreat his steps home. Nettles met and accosted the doctor, and after a few words there, Dr. Whitman, who was exceedingly disagreeable when drinking entered the house, procured a pair of brass knuckles and made at Nettles. The young man, as the physician approached, caught him by his flowing beard and jerking his head upward on his throat with a knife, almost severing his head from his body. Nettles escaped.

GLAD OF THE CHANGE.

Tammany Leaders Happy That Grant is the Man.

STROUS'S CHANCES ARE WEAKENED.

Said to Have Developed Soon After the Nomination of Straus That He Could Not Beat the Tiger's Forces. The New Status of Things.

NEW YORK, October 22.—Democrats profess, instead of being alarmed by the necessity of changing horses in the middle of the stream, to be greatly pleased by the transfer by Tammany from Straus to Grant as their candidate for mayor of New York. It is asserted that it developed very soon after Straus' nomination that Tammany had an elephant on their hands in this respect between a Tammanyite and a Clevelandite for a candidate. His nomination failed to please the Cleveland people or independent charitable reform element, which it was expected to please, and at the same time failed to arouse any enthusiasm among the Tammany people who must take off their coats and do whatever was to be done to secure the election. The intense opposition of the Sun to Mr. Straus was an unexpected and a serious matter of consideration. It was known that Mr. Paul Dana disapproved Straus personally and that he had protested against the nomination. But the Tammany folks had not calculated on this going so far as to effect the policy of the paper toward a regularly nominated candidate of the organization. Altogether the result of Straus' nomination was disappointing and as dangerous as it may be to make a change of candidates late in the canvass, the opinion is expressed that the change is from a prospect of certain defeat to one of fair hope of election. It is said that the acceptance of the candidacy of ex-Mayor Grant will put a great deal of life and earnestness into Tammany's campaign, and that if it has no other result, it will aid the democrats by bringing out the full democratic vote in the congressional canvass. The democrats themselves assert great confidence in Mr. Grant's election.

With relation to the difficulties over the nominations for congress between the Grace people and the Tammany, it is said that no developments are to be expected before the middle of next week, but on election day will be found that in none of the districts will there be two democratic candidates.

LOSS OF CAMPAIGN FUNDS.

Agent of the New York Republican Committee's Story of Robbery.

NEW YORK, October 22.—According to a story told in the Yorkville police court, the republican committee in the loser of $2,000 by the alleged robbery of one of its agents, Cornelius Farrell, in a saloon at 124 East Forty-first street Saturday evening. Farrell in court said that he had been sent by the committee to investigate a certain registration fraud in Greene county. He had received his ticket for $2,000 for expenses. Before leaving the city he went to a saloon and became drunk. He asserted that he was assaulted and robbed there by James Gandy and Thomas Carey, the latter a companion of G. G. Haven, Justice Meade adjourned the case until tomorrow in order to investigate Farrell's connection with the republican state committee, and in the meantime paroled the two prisoners, Gandy and Carey.

—Monroe Journal: Some time ago we mentioned the fact that $673 19 had been allowed Union county from the public school fund of the State, under section 2537 of the school law. Treasurer McNeely has received that amount, which very materially adds to the county fund.

—Southport Leader: A sailor on the schooner Roger Moore in attempting to dip up water while the schooner was coming down the river last week, lost his balance and fell overboard drowning before help could be given him. The accident happened near Orton. A body is reported as being seen Monday in the river near the place of accident.

—Dunn Times: One day last week while Mr. D. W. Pope was out in the field weighing cotton for his hands at his home near Anderson Coats, son-in-law of Mr. Pope, came up and after a few words, in which Coats was the aggressor, drew his pistol and shot Mr. Pope, the ball taking effect in his bowels. As soon as this was done, Coats left for parts unknown. Physicians were sent for, and after making an examination, think it a very serious wound, but think there are chances for his recovery.

—Gastonia Gazette: "Fannie," the beautiful black mare belonging to Dr. McAden, died Thursday night at McAdenville. She was 27 years old and had been a pet in the family all her life. In her younger days Fannie was famous for her speed and made track records that would be matters of talk even at this day. For four or five years she had been on the retired list, being used mainly by the little folks for riding, but the handsome animal retained her beauty of form to the last. She might have lived very many years if she had had teeth to chew her food.

—Lexington Dispatch: Last Friday night Sheriff Griffith arrested Robert Moore, who was wanted in Wake county for stealing a horse. According to Moore's statement, he had taken the horse while he was drunk, and after riding it until he became sober, he left it with a woman near Hillsboro, and was trying to get away from the scene of his crime. Deputy Sheriff Walters, who came here after Moore, says that the latter is an ex convict and that he stole the horse and tried to sell it two or three times. At the next term of Wake Superior court Moore will have an opportunity to explain the matter.

—Winston Sentinel: A bad cutting affray came off at Tish Manning's about six miles northwest from Danbury, last Saturday morning, says the reporter. Bennett ran, when Manning followed cutting him at two other places on the back. There is some hope that Bennett will recover. Manning is in jail. He was captured Sunday night.

No man who looks high can live low.

No man can ever pray right who lives wrong.

Fault-finding is one of the surest marks of a backslider.

The devil trembles when he finds a good man on his knees.

A good prayer meeting always begins before the bell rings.

We have no more right to think wrong than we have to do right.

A word to the wise is sufficient, but a fool needs the whole book.

Johnny's Sunday Joke.

Little Johnny was on his way to Sunday school yesterday when his attention was attracted by the circus posters. He studied them a few minutes and then turned to his father.

"I should think the show people would be afraid the city authorities would tear down some of those pictures," he said.

"Why so, son?" the father asked.

"Don't you see the horses are kicking up their heels?"

Then Johnny went on to Sunday school.—Asheville Citizen.

"Why is he so Irritable?"

This question is often heard and nearly as often unanswered. It is not always remembered as it should be, that the occasion of ill-temper and irritability is often to be found in the physical condition of the persons affected. What is the use of trying to harmonise a man whose liver has gone back on him? If a man is tortured with rheumatism, how can he be expected to be cheerful and always ready to tell a funny story? The only way to remove the difficulty is to get at the cause. Dyspepsia, rheumatism, impure blood and liver troubles yield to Hood's Sarsaparilla; this is why it is an effective tranquilizer, a peaceful messenger, and a preventive of domestic quarrels.

"Yes it is," declared the young collegian.

"Then why don't it keep off the rain?" was the triumphant rejoinder.
