THE ALMIGHTY DOLLAR!

THE MANY HAVE TOO FEW, AND THE FEW TOO MANY.

When four counters are being thrown, day after day, new arrivals at pain prices from houses that collapsed, others that will go down tomorrow, and still others who throw out these sacrifices in vain hopes to outlive the storm. From such sources as these we buy our goods, and the house that wants the trade of the people must go beyond these advanced lines—must beat these prices or go down—or if there is honor in man, or virtue in good goods at low prices, we mean to be the master of the situation—the live pioneers who dive down to rock bottom!

We invite an early and repeated visit and inspection. Respectfully submitted to the cash trade only.

While the committee does not indicate when or where a large cotton mill will be located as a result of the investigation, mill men who accompanied the party said they would not do good business but to say anything upon such matters, but that they are thoroughly satisfied that the careful and systematic inquiry that is being made will result in the building of at least one large mill in which New England capital will be largely interested.

Glenn Sacrificed His Life to Affect a Capture—Several Others are Seriously Wounded.

CRIME SEEMED TO BE HIS DELIGHT.

Pitched Battle in a Barn in Which a Negro Bookie, Name Unknown, Shot and Killed Police Officer.

THE FIRST MAN KILLED.

Stukey was the first man killed by Glenn and it was while resisting arrest that he killed Police Officer Ed Minor and wounded others whose names are given above. Stukey was killed in the "Rabbit Foot" saloon, a notorious dive on West Bay street. A crowd of negroes were in the saloon and Glenn drew a pistol on a negro named Willie May. Stukey, who was sitting at the bar, would take the pistol away from Glenn, and advanced toward him. He passed by Glenn, however, and went to a room in the back part of the saloon. As he neared the door, Glenn rushed out his pistol and fired at Stukey in the throat. As soon as Stukey was shot, he rushed out of the front door of the saloon, and fell dead near the steps. Glenn turned and fled as his pistol was falling, and was followed by a large crowd of negroes who soon lost sight of him in the darkness.

DISCOVERED IN A BARN.

Finally the murderer, by desperate spurts, succeeded in leaving all behind. By this time the chase had led into East Jacksonville and the officers were gathered near Hotel Roseland, completely at fault. Just as they were about to abandon the pursuit in that direction, a little boot-black, who was afterwards wounded, came running up and said that he had seen the negro running into a barn near the hotel. Police Officer Ed Minor and Lieutenant Jim Minor were the first to enter, followed by "Rag Jim," one of the negro pursuers, and the little boot-black. Glenn had climbed to the loft and was lying behind a pile of lumber, which formed an effective barricade. Lieutenant Minor called on Glenn to surrender and the negro answered with a shot. The officer returned the fire, emptying their pistols, but the negro was effectually protected by the pile of lumber.
