TROOPS ORDERED

To the Rescues of the Settlers at Jackson's Hole—People Not Yet Reported.

CHEYENNE, Wyo., July 29.—Orders were received here Saturday calling on the five companies of the Fort Russell Cavalry for service in the Indian campaign. Trains were at once procured and the troops promptly loaded, leaving here at 8 o'clock last night over the Union Pacific. They will be pushed rapidly to the disturbed region.

Reports were received here that two more companies of cavalry had been ordered from Fort Robinson. A dispatch from Leander, Wyo., states that a large public meeting held Saturday afternoon 100 citizens volunteered to go at once to the assistance of the settlers at Jackson's Hole.

"We are undergoing a fearful state of affairs at present. We are banded here at my place, having fortified ourselves to make a desperate fight for our wives and children, who are here from all parts of the valley and feel that we can stand off the whole Banook tribe of Indians if they tackle us; but we are neglecting our homes, crops and stock to protect our families. There have been several Indian attacks, arrested, two parties convicted and the third party of nine bucks, while being escorted from Fall River basin to our valley, broke and ran and were fired upon by the soldiers, and one or more killed and some wounded, but they escaped."

This letter was dated July 19, and is confirmed by another letter from there of the same purport that the settlers had fortified and were well prepared for an Indian outbreak. The dispatches sent out to the effect that the settlers were all killed, were without foundation.

BROADSTREETS AND DUN,

What They Have to Say of the Conditions of Finance and Trade.

NEW YORK, July 27.—R. C. Dun & Company in their weekly review of trade today says:

Trade is better for the time of business than it was a week ago. The small shrinkage except that which comes naturally with mid-summer heat. Lateness of spring and a heavy settlement into the second week of July, and clearing house payments are week, but are still larger than last year, and only 60 per cent smaller than in the same small compared with recent months. The small amount of new business is not enough to encourage more opening of long-closed works, and more advance in returns of value is not enough for that, but some more threatening than a week ago. The small shipments of gold coin for nothing and money markets are undisturbed. Prices of iron and steel products are higher than they were a week ago, but are still smaller than they were a week ago. The market for light weight woolens, which is scarcely advanced beyond last year's price, is still quiet.

NEW YORK, July 27.—Broadstreets today says:

The striking features of the business week are the influence of improved crop prospects and the continued large demands for iron and steel. The market for iron and steel is large. Money is rather tight, but is not out for moving and the demand for commercial paper is large. The market for iron and steel is large. His friends say that if his annexation bill passes he will expect to be appointed governor of Hawaii.
