The Moral of the Moral.

The persistency with which children see some other moral in a fable than the one which it is intended that they shall see is often distressing, and sometimes really instructive to their elders.

A mother had recited to her little boy the story of the wolf and the lamb, and followed it up with the remark:

"And now you see, Willy, that the lamb would not have been eaten by the wolf if he had been good and sensible."

"Yes, I understand, mamma," said Willy. "If the lamb had been good and sensible, we should have had him to eat!"—Youth's Companion.

CAPTURE OF COINERS.

An Organized Gang Run Down by Secret Service Agents.

COUNTERFEITING OUTFIT SEIZED.

Roumanian Jews Who Have Been Manufacturing Half Dollars, Quarters and Dimes and Flooding This section of the Country with the Spurious Coin.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 3.—One of the most gigantic schemes of counterfeiting known to the United States secret service bureau has just been unearthed by its officers, and the ringleaders of a daring band of coiners captured.

Chief W. B. Hazen and Secret Service Officer William J. Burns came quietly into this city yesterday afternoon, and with them as prisoners were two men giving the names of Henry Greenberg and Julius Stein. They were brought here because this city has been used as one of the headquarters of the band. About a week ago five men were arrested here in connection with the case, and are now under bail pending a hearing.

For two or three months past the bureau has been in receipt of complaints from various parts of the eastern country concerning the prevalence of spurious coin, mainly half dollars, quarters and dimes, made of pure silver.

Chief Hazen and Officer Burns immediately set quietly to work on the case, and the first result of their investigations was the arrest of the men here. They gave the names of Max Frankel, Moses Rosengarten, Jacob Friedman, Jacob Fineburg and Frank Silberman, all of this city.

It was quickly learned that these men were only part of an organized gang working throughout the country, and the disposition of their cases was held in abeyance until the leaders could be taken. This was accomplished yesterday.

The information which led up to the arrest of Greenberg, who was captured in New York on Tuesday, pointed to Landisville, N. J., as one of the principal operating places, and there they found in the cellar of a house an entire coiners' outfit. It was learned that the house had been rented by one Jacob Stein, and he was traced to Newark, N. J., where he was arrested.

The evidence secured by the bureau reveals a conspiracy unrivaled outside the realms of the dime novel. The band, so far as has been learned, was composed of about twenty, and possibly more men. They were banded together by a series of iron clad and solemn oaths. Names were discarded, and every conspirator was known to the others by a number only. Each man was assigned a special territory in which to dispose of the coin.

Upon the arrest of the five men in Philadelphia recently, the other conspirators fled, and although the arrest of Greenberg and Stein disposed of the most dangerous members of a dangerous band, there are still others to be captured, and they will probably land in the net of the law within a few days.

The men are all Roumanian Jews, and have not been in this country for any great length of time. They are a sturdy looking lot, all big and full-bearded, with the exception of Friedman.

A peculiar feature of the case is that after the men had been arrested information concerning their operations was furnished the United States officials here by a man calling himself David Fierstein, of Landisville, N. J., who was implicated in the matter himself. It is thought that he and Stein are one and the same person.

The principal witness against these men was Kave Reisser, a Russian tailor, who swore that he was taken by Silberman to a house on Washington avenue, below Seventh, where they met Friedman, Rosengarten and Fineburg. They showed him a satchel full of dies, to be used in making coin, and offered to let him into the conspiracy if he would pay them $200. He paid the money, and they then took him to a house in Darby, Pa., where he saw the presses, dies and other paraphernalia used in making the coins. He placed two pieces of silver in the press and made two ten cent pieces.

Fierstein's story is that Rosengarten, Friedman and a man named Braff were brought to his house last July by Reisser. They wanted him to go into partnership with them, and asked him to allow them the use of his cellar to make the coins. He said he would rent it to them and they went away, promising to write, but he says, they never did so. Afterwards a meeting was arranged for in this city, but as the others had no money Fierstein pawned his wife's watch for $20, and with this the goods were packed and the dies and other materials sent to the Landisville house.

More Counterfeiters Caught.

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—Another big haul of counterfeiters has been made by the agents of the government secret service. Six Italians were arraigned before United States Commissioner Alexander yesterday afternoon, charged with having sold and having in their possession a number of counterfeit standard silver dollars and obligations of the United States in the form of silver certificates of the denomination of $5, of the issue of 1886. The officers recovered $150 in counterfeit coin and $75 in $5 bills and a quantity of plaster of paris, metal and other material used in making spurious coin.

Cuba to Ask Recognition.

BOSTON, Oct. 7.—In view of the recent announcement of the organization of a provincial government in Cuba The Standard has secured an interview with Mr. J. V. Fuentes, president of the Cuban club, of Boston. Mr. Fuentes said: "The revolutionists have formed a government, and are now perfecting it before sending out agents to the various countries to secure recognition. The first country that we shall apply to is the United States. We care more for recognition from this country than any other. Let the United States recognize us, and in a month things in Cuba will undergo a change that will surprise the world."

The St. Paul a Success.

GLOUCESTER, Mass., Oct. 5.—The big ocean steamship St. Paul, built by the Cramps, of Philadelphia, as a sister ship to the St. Louis, for the International Navigation company's line, made an average speed of 20.5 knots an hour in her official trial trip of almost 88 knots over the government course off this coast yesterday, and scored another success for American shipbuilders. In every respect the trial was a most satisfactory one. Her builders and the officials of the International Navigation company are confident that she will yet equal the St. Louis' record of 22.3 knots an hour.

Big Mills Destroyed by Fire.

WARREN, R. I., Oct. 4.—One of the largest fires that has ever occurred in southeastern New England broke out in one of the three mills of the Warren Manufacturing company, situated about an eighth of a mile from the center of this town, just after 7 o'clock last night, and before it was gotten under control it had swept through three large cotton mills, two warehouses, small sheds, freight cars and other property, causing a loss which is estimated at more than $1,000,000. The arrival of firemen from Providence, Fall River and Bristol saved the town from destruction.

Massachusetts' Republican Ticket.

BOSTON, Oct. 7.—The Massachusetts Republican convention developed little opposition to Governor Greenhalge, who received 1,363 votes, against 891 for Elijah A. Morse. The ticket as nominated contains only one new name, that of the candidate for state treasurer, and is as follows: For governor, Frederick T. Greenhalge; lieutenant governor, Roger Wolcott of Boston; secretary of state, William M. Olin of Boston; state treasurer, E. P. Shaw of Newburyport; auditor, J. W. Kimball of Fitchburg; attorney general, H. M. Knowlton of New Bedford.

French Pursuit of the Hovas.

LONDON, Oct. 7.—A correspondent of The Times at Antananarivo, writing under date of Sept. 23, says: The French are thirty miles off, and are advancing fast. The British cemetery and French observatory here have been wrecked. The queen in a speech yesterday said: "The French are close upon you. You said you would fight for me, but you have not fought. I will not yield. I shall die at the palace." The Hovas are preparing to make the last stand at Ambohemanga.

No Prize Fighting in Texas.

AUSTIN, Tex., Oct. 3.—The Texas legislature yesterday passed a stringent anti-prize fighting law. It provides for fine and imprisonment for violation, and goes into immediate effect. This effectually disposes of the Corbett-Fitzsimmons fight, which was to have taken place at Dallas Oct. 31. Dan Stuart, manager of the affair, says the contest will take place at the time advertised, probably in Mexico.

Another Poet Laureate.

LONDON, Oct. 7.—The Daily News announces that it is assured upon good authority that the Marquis of Salisbury has definitely resolved to appoint a new poet laureate, and that he will be found in the ranks of journalism. This is supposed to mean Sir Edwin Arnold, the author of "The Light of Asia," etc.

FELL WITH THE FLOOR.

An Accident Like That at Atlantic City's Casino.

ONE KILLED, TEN FATALLY HURT.

A Crowd of Church People, While Witnessing the Laying of a Corner Stone, Precipitated to the Cellar by the Breaking of an Insecure Platform.

LORAIN, O., Oct. 7.—While a great crowd of people was assembled yesterday afternoon to witness the laying of the corner stone of the new St. Mary's Catholic church a temporary floor on which many of the people were standing suddenly gave way, precipitating many men, women and children into the basement. One was killed outright, ten were fatally injured and between thirty and forty others were badly hurt.

The services were just about to begin when the accident happened. Fully 3,000 persons were assembled on and around the platform, which had been constructed across the foundation of the edifice. The boards forming the temporary floor had been laid across the joists, which were supported in the middle by upright posts. These supports broke, and the floor went down with a crash. Fully 300 people were thrown into the pit formed by the sagging in of the middle of the floor.

For a moment everybody was paralyzed by the calamity, but soon there was a rush forward by those willing to lend assistance to the crushed and struggling people. This made matters worse, for fifty more persons were crowded into the hole upon those who went down with the floor. When the confusion had subsided somewhat, many of those who were able to extricate themselves did so by walking and crawling over their less fortunate companions. The rescue was begun at once, and all were finally taken from the pit. Following is a list of the killed and wounded:

Killed—Mary Weber, 3 years old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Weber, of Sheffield.

Fatally Injured—Rosa McGee, 3 years old, skull fractured; Katie Griffin, 3 years old, hurt internally; Mrs. Mary McGrath, left leg crushed and hurt internally; Mrs. John Eustis, aged woman, left leg crushed and chest injured; Mrs. Cornelius Sullivan, spine injured and left leg crushed; Mrs. Gaiber, chest crushed and hurt internally; Mrs. Michael Kolling, injured internally; Mrs. Kate Diederich, both legs broken and hurt internally; John Fieldcamp, hurt internally; Margaret Mackert, hurt internally.

Those badly injured, but who will recover are: Nellie Dottard, head cut; Nicholas Wagner, skull fractured; Leo Theobald, 3 years old, head cut; Colonel W. I. Brown, leg and arm broken; Mrs. John Fox, both legs broken; Mrs. William DuBurgert, hurt internally; Mrs. Mary Latimer, right leg crushed; Mrs. Jacob Keefer, hurt internally and leg will have to be amputated; John Martin, leg broken; John Eustis, back hurt; Mrs. M. Bruce, ankle broken; William Ryan, leg broken.

Many others were severely bruised. The old Catholic church and parochial school were at once turned into hospitals. A score of doctors were called, and they were kept busy for hours caring for the injured, several of whom will die.

The accident was due to defective timbers. The contractor was told on Saturday that the platform was insecure, but he said that it would hold all the people that could be crowded upon it. There were between 1,500 and 2,000 people on it when it gave way. Despite the accident the services were continued and the laying of the corner stone was completed.

Thieving Cashier Confesses.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 7.—John Don Farden, alias T. J. Franklin, was arrested in Baltimore yesterday for stealing $16,000 from the office of the Adams Express company at Terre Haute, Ind. Farden was employed as cashier of the express company, and on Sept. 6 he put a package containing $16,000 in his pocket and disappeared. Farden admitted that he had taken the money, and said he was willing to return to Terre Haute without the formality of requisition papers. He said that he had spent every cent of his share of the $16,000 in fast living, and was without a cent. He declares that the express agent at Terre Haute got $11,000 of the money.
