THE "OUTRAGES BY VENEZUELAN"

An Indirect Charge That President Garfield Treated Him Unfairly at the National Republican Convention of 1880. A Corrupt Bargain at the Convention of 1888.

London Newspapers Prove to Their Own Satisfaction That the Existing Complications Can in No Way Be Affected by the Monroe Doctrine of the United States.

CHICAGO, Oct. 19.—The intrigues, the jealousies and the traitorous knife thrusts of the last half century of American statecraft are revealed in the fierce light of stern criticism in "John Sherman's Recollections of Forty Years in the House, Senate and Cabinet," just published in this city. The fear that the venerable senator would reveal secrets long kept from the public in his forthcoming work has been to an extent realized. Grant, Garfield, Blaine, Arthur, Harrison and other Republican leaders are spoken of with unstinted praise for their high personal worth or statesmanship, but each is in guarded and covert language shown in the less commendable light of scheming politicians. The criticism is almost invariably implied rather than direct, but it stands out clearly in the work as a whole.

LONDON, Oct. 21.—The St. James Gazette follows up its disclosures regarding the policy of the Right Hon. Joseph Chamberlain, secretary of state for the colonies, regarding Venezuela, and the apparent determination of the British government to uphold its claims by force of arms, by making the following important statement:

Owing to the close association of Mr. Sherman and James A. Garfield the criticism of the nomination of the latter for president of the United States is perhaps one of the most striking features of the book. The author, while carefully avoiding a direct charge of treachery on the part of the ex-president, very significantly makes it plain that Mr. Garfield was nominated at a convention to which he had gone as the trusted leader of the Sherman forces. Mr. Sherman gives in detail the history of the national convention of 1880. Following the account of his own struggle for the nomination, he says:

"We are in a position to state that the Marquis of Salisbury has sent an ultimatum to President Crespo, which not only sets out the demands of the British government for reparation on account of this arrest of the deputation and inspectors of police at Uruan, but it also states the terms upon which Great Britain will definitely determine the boundary dispute with that republic. The ultimatum is now en route to President Crespo, if it is not already delivered to him."

"In time I became thoroughly advised of what occurred at the Chicago convention and had become entirely reconciled to the result, though frequently afterwards I heard incidents and details which occasioned me great pain and which seemed to establish the want of sincerity on the part of some of the delegates, and tended to show that for some time before the meeting of the convention the nomination of General Garfield had been agreed upon."

The Times and The Chronicle this morning print articles explaining in detail the position of the Venezuelan matter, the latter paper especially as regards the American point of view as indicated by official reports issued from Washington. "There is no doubt," The Chronicle says, "that the United States is determined to bring about an early settlement of the dispute. No answer to Mr. Bayard's dispatch to Lord Salisbury has yet been received at the embassy."

The sting felt by Garfield's defection in 1880 is inadvertently shown by a sentiment expressed during the discussion of the national convention of 1892, where the senator remarks:

The Standard says: "The Venezuelan ultimatum is unlikely to lead to prolonged or doubtful complications. The convention of 1880 has been repeatedly infringed by the Venezuelans in encroaching upon soil indisputably British. These gallant and high-handed acts might have been overlooked had not the outrage by the Venezuelan authorities reached lengths no longer endurable. We shall be surprised if the responsible diplomats of the United States persist in maintaining that the Monroe doctrine has any bearing on the present case."

"From later developments I became satisfied that Harrison could not be elected, that Platt and a powerful New York influence would defeat him if nominated. I therefore preferred the nomination of a new man, like William McKinley, but he had committed himself to Harrison, and according to my code of honor, could not accept a nomination even if tendered him."

The Daily Telegraph says: "It is difficult to see how Monroeism is applicable to the Venezuelan affair. If the Venezuelans invade British Guiana they must either be punished by us directly or they must be forced by the assumed protectors in the United States to respect international laws."

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Oct. 16.—Smith & Meyer's laundry works on Twenty-seventh street burned late yesterday afternoon, the fire originating in the explosion of a gasolene generator. Four women and a man working on the third floor found their escape cut off, and jumped from the windows. Mrs. Lou Miller had both legs broken, and will die. Frenie Miller, her daughter, had an arm broken and hip dislocated; Claudis Clark, leg broken. An unknown girl was probably fatally burned about the face and shoulders.

Insane in His Home. CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—Armed with a Winchester rifle and a revolver a madman defied the police for hours yesterday at No. 35 Woodland Park, in one of the most aristocratic residence districts of the city. Barricaded and locked in a second story room, commanding a complete view of the park, the lunatic splintered doors, shattered window panes and tore holes in the plaster of the room with bullets from his rifle, while he shouted defiance to the police and others attracted to the scene. The insane man was G. S. Merwin, of the firm of Rogers, Brown & Co., pig iron dealers. After several hours' effort the police, by strategy, surprised and overcame the madman. Although he had fired 140 shots from his rifle and revolver Merwin injured no one, but a number of people had narrow escapes.

MEMPHIS, Oct. 17.—Jeff Ellis, the negro who committed an assault on Miss Prater near Braden, and who confessed to other assaults and murders, was lynched near the scene of his crime at midnight by a mob of citizens. His ears and fingers were cut off and he was otherwise mutilated, and then hanged to a telegraph pole and riddled with bullets. Afterward the body was lowered and the head cut off. Then the rope was fastened to the feet, and in that position the mutilated body was again strung up.

Terribly Burned by Exploding Mine Gas. SHENANDOAH, Pa., Oct. 21.—A frightful explosion of gas occurred at Knickerbocker colliery here, by which three men were fatally and six others terribly burned. The names of the victims are: George Karal, Charles Majak and Michael Chico, fatally injured; Peter Burns, Anthony Surrea, Andrew Bossart, John Sopitski, Felix Melolski and Robert Lord, all seriously burned. All the men except Lord are Poles and Lithuanians. Chico's scalp was torn off and his skull fractured. It is believed that Lord, who was a starter and carried a naked light, ignited the gas.

HAMPTON, S. C., Oct. 18.—William Blake, Sr., Jason Blake, Prince Graves and William Frazier were convicted last evening of the murder of Mr. Raymond Meares, on the 9th of August last. William Blake, Sr., was recommended to the mercy of the court, and his sentence was life imprisonment. The other three were sentenced to be hanged on Dec. 6 next. After the prisoners were sentenced it was evident that there was dissatisfaction at the jury's recommendation to mercy of William Blake, Sr., and some persons were heard to say that Blake would never reach the penitentiary. The convicted men, as soon as court adjourned, about 7:30 o'clock, were handcuffed and taken out of the court room. On their way to the jail, within a few feet of the prison, the sheriff and his constables were overpowered by a number of men, and the elder Blake and William Frazier, who were handcuffed together, were forced from the custody of the constables and taken off into the woods. The handcuffs were unlocked in some way, and Frazier was returned to the custody of the jailor. The crowd, numbering about fifty men, proceeded to a dense piece of woods about half a mile from the court house and hanged the elder Blake with a plow line to the limb of a large pine tree. Several shots were fired into his body, and the sword thrust.

Millionaire Mackay's Son Killed. PARIS, Oct. 21.—John W. Mackay, Jr., the elder of the two sons of John W. Mackay, the bonanza king, 24 years old, was killed last Friday by being thrown from his horse. He was dragged a great distance before those who witnessed the accident and went to the rescue could stop the pony. The head of the young man was battered to such an extent as to render the face unrecognizable. The accident happened in the afternoon and the young man died six hours later without recovering consciousness.

COLUMBIA, Oct. 18.—In the constitutional convention an important section was introduced relative to lynchings last night. SAVANNAH, Oct. 15.—Sheriff L. B. Brooker was shot and killed at Gold, five miles from Sylvania, by Sol and Callie Zeigler. Since that time the two Zeigler boys have been searching for Brooker, having sworn to kill him on sight.
