Chrysanthemum Tea Tonight.

All lovers of the beautiful remember with pleasure the display of chrysanthemums exhibited at Mr. and Mrs. Lat Williams last year.

They will have another display this evening at which we understand many new and beautiful varieties will be seen. As usual the proceeds of the entertainment will be turned over to the Ladies' Aid Society.

Come out and view the flowers.

The Grandest Remedy.

Mr. R. B. Greeve, merchant of Chilhowie, Va., certifies that he had consumption, was given up to die, sought all medical treatment that money could procure, tried all cough remedy he could hear of, but got no relief; spent many nights sitting up in a chair, was induced to try Dr. King's New Discovery, and was cured by the use of two bottles. For past three years has been attending to business, and says Dr. King's New Discovery is the grandest remedy ever made, as it has done so much for him and also for others in his community. Dr. King's New Discovery is guaranteed for Coughs, Colds, and Consumption. It don't Trial bottles free at Hargrave's Drug Store.

More Presbyterian Oysters.

On Monday night the Aid Society of the Presbyterian Church gave another of their delightful oyster suppers. There was added another very taking feature—a chrysanthemum show. Beautiful specimens had been sent in by Mrs. Noah Strickland, Miss Nan Strickland, Mrs. Roscoe Briggs, Miss Sophia Hutchinson and Mrs. George D. Green. These flowers were not entirely for show either. Many of Wilson's fair young damsels who went to the supper went home with their hands full of the best that the market could afford. It would not be well to state here how the young men's pockets went home. This with all was a minor consideration, they wanted the impression and did not consider for a moment the depression. During the show there was something else being sold. The managers had provided the usual supply of Norfolk oysters. The hall was crowded during the entire evening and as a result quite a nice little sum was taken in for the furnishings of the Presbyterian Church. Those taking part in the evening's entertainment were: Misses Sue Edmundson, Ell Green, Florence Gardner, Vic Organ, Sophie Hutchinson, Maggie Cooper, Lizzie Strickland, Mrs. George Green, Mrs. Uzzell, Mrs. Durphy and Mrs. John Cutchin.

On next Tuesday night, under the direction of Mrs. Davis, a concert will be given. Those taking part will be or supposed to be, old people. All the actors will be dressed in olden styles. The singing of Miss Sue Borden, of Goldsboro, will be a feature of the evening. The proceeds go to the Presbyterian Church.

The next series in the Presbyterian oyster serving will be a grand supper. Eatables of every kind will be prepared. A regular first class European Hotel will be run for a few hours only, see that you are among those who reap the pleasure of the evening. This entertainment will be given sometime during the month of December.

Bicycle Tournament.

The Young Peoples' Baptist Union since its organization several months ago has done a great many things which have passed off for us many a pleasant evening. Among others we have had from this source a new woman's party and bicycle social. Both of these events were attended by large crowds and all were profuse in their praise for those who managed the entertainments. Besides furnishing enjoyment to these on the outside it has done a great deal towards arousing a social feeling among the members of the club, and in so doing it has done a great deal towards strengthening the interest in the Baptist Church at this place.

The most successful entertainment held by the club was the one given at the Woodard's Warehouse on Friday night. The evening was devoted to a bicycle tournament. Many came gaily dressed and were objects of amusement for all. The warehouse was full, the greater part of those present were girls, as there was to be a queen crowned and all wanted to see what ones of their sex were to be the lucky number. Curiosity sometimes draws crowds especially of the fairer sex when nothing else will. The evening opened with a parade. All those who rode wheels joined in. The most picturesque part of the parade was George Stronach. He was dressed in the garb of woman, and the smiles from the large company of ladies present showed him to be the favorite of the gentlemen riders. Before the tournament began, Mr. J. M. Wilson announced the honors, which were these: The one winning would be entitled to crown the queen of the evening; the one coming second to crown the first maid of honor, and the one coming third to crown the second maid of honor. The riders then mounted their steeds and fought not for self, nor the supper, which also came after the prizes had been won, but for that fair-eyed damsel which he had picked out as his queen of the evening.

When Mr. Wilson arose to announce the result there were many heart flutters throughout the assembled crowd. He announced that the first prize had been C. W. Gold. When this decision was made a smile spread over his face. This smile continued to spread until some one asked aloud: "Did you catch that smile," when it took the shape of a grin. George Stronach was the second winner and Robert Barnes came in as third, but resigned his honors to Josh Branch. Miss Julia Dowd was crowned by Charley Gold as queen of the evening. George Stronach crowned Miss Olivia Sanders as first maid of honor. Josh Branch as third winner crowned Miss Grace Tomlinson second maid of honor.

After the announcement by Mr. Wilson of the result and the crownings the lucky six were served to a supper. The table on which this supper was served was sold after the feast as bric-a-brac. The table was bought up Mr. Jas. Lipscomb. Of course he wants a souvenir of the evening.

The following is the score by rounds of those who rode as knights in the tournament:

	1st.	2d.	3d.
J. J. Privett,	1	3	2
Louis Brodie,	2	0	1
R. E. Barnes,	3	3	1
H. Anderson,	1	2	1
E. Daughtridge,	1	0	2
C. W. Gold,	3	2	3
Josh Branch,	2	1	1
G. A. Lucas,	1	3	3
W. P. Simpson,	2	2	1
S. W. Anderson,	0	0	2
H. Wainwright,	2	5	2
A. P. Weaver,	0	2	3
G. T. Stronach,	2	2	3

After this those having the highest rode the final with the result named above. When this was over refreshments were served for the benefit of the church and quite a nice sum was realized.

A Missionary Meeting.

The Woman's Missionary Convention of the Washington District held its annual meeting in the Methodist church, beginning with Friday evening. This Society is composed of devoted women who have banded themselves together for the purpose of promoting missionary work in foreign lands. It had been arranged to have Dr. Tuttle preach the annual sermon before the convention but owing to sickness he was not able to be present. Rev. Mr. Ivey expressed the regret of the absence of Mr. Tuttle, and stated that he has been expected until the last moment not giving any time in which to secure another man.

The convention was called to order by Mrs. Horne of Rocky Mount Secretary of the Society. There were but few delegates present, but quite a large crowd of towns people had gathered to hear the exercises. The address of welcome was delivered by Miss Lizzie Crowell. Mrs. Horne announced that Mrs. Miller, who was to have delivered the reponse was detained at home on account of sickness and that Mrs. Swindell the State Secretary of the organization would make the response. Mrs. Swindell said in part: There is in China a hospital known as the Mary Black Hospital. It was named for Mrs. Dr. Black a North Carolina woman. It was through her efforts that the money for the building and equipment was raised. The hospital is used entirely for children. The money for this building was raised through the Bright Jewel Society, of which Mrs. Black was the founder. There is one room in this hospital known as the Bright Jewel room. It is made almost wholly of glass and it is here that the children who are too weak or sick to go out of doors, are carried to get the benefit of the sun.

There are now thirty beds in the hospital, each bed with furnishings costs about twenty-four dollars. The person who establishes a bed has the privilege of naming it. Mrs. Swindell is very anxious for the Washington District to establish a bed. Her address was well rendered and very much enjoyed by all present.

Mrs. Horne read the report of the secretary of the district among many other things of which the women of the district should feel proud. She said one thing which every lover of the church and the cause of missionary work should feel a great pride, viz: that North Carolina had increased the amount of Missionary collections more than any other State. The fact that we are not by far the most prosperous state in the union adds a

After a series of devotional exercises the meeting was concluded.

The White Cap Case.

The people of Wilson County have been very wrought up during this week over the white cap case. The court room has been full since it was taken up, which was on Monday. A jury was drawn and duly sworn on that day. Several witnesses were examined. On Monday evening owing to the seriousness of the case Judge Graham ordered that the jury remain together over night and that they not be allowed to talk with any one not on the jury. On Tuesday morning there was a sudden change in the manner of procedure. The jury was discharged and another case taken up. Evidence had been produced which proved that a member of the jury who had been duly sworn was one of the clan of white caps. Just what this evidence was or how it came out we have not been able to learn. But it would appear that our standard of morality is getting to a low ebb when a man will stand up and swear that he will give an unbiased opinion, according to evidence, of a case and at the same time he was a brother member of those who are on trial. It has been rumored that there was more than one on the jury first drawn that had white cap affiliations but this is not known as a fact. One is enough. Although he has never admitted the fact evidence produced showed him up plainly. This man must feel himself lowered even in his own estimation, when he remembers that he stands under such a condemnation. To serve on a jury is a serious undertaking, this being an example it is being disregarded.
