Menator Howe's Speech - What President Hayes thinks of it. A number of Congressional friends of the President called upon him this morning with reference to the speech Senston Haws delivered vesterday. They all expresed more feeling in the matter than the President himself, and suggested that the speech be answere !, fearing that to permit it to pass in silence might be an adpatesion of its entire truth. The President took a different view of the question placing him-al |on the ground that what he had ince in the way of off tal action was based on his sense of right, without think ing for a moment what might be the result as affecting him personally. He was opposed to a public resonse, preferring that his acts should be the best interpreted of his motives and principles. He sought to perform his duty, and with this he was content, no matter how athers with prejudiced minds, might view hiconduct. All would be said, recelled how butterly Senator Howe had denounced Pesident Lincoln to-wa d the close of his first term, and how others sought to prevent Mr Lincela from being numinated for a second term. But a twith-tanding all this, he was reno ninsted and became more popular than ever, the people having become better acquainted with him and thinking that time will fully visuicate him. - Washington Special to the New New York has worked for 8 years as assist-Yark Horald,

Among many other specimens of American industry and invention to be exhibited at Paris are fighting implements and es p-cially, medels of torpedses. Although our destructive agencies are many an cruel, the latest invention and the most wirked, must be credited to Lout. then set fi e to them by the use at rockets Full length an i life-size pictures of Mr and Mrs. Haves are on exhibition her which are to go to the Paris Exposition also. Mr. Ha es is standing, gloves in hand, hat and cout in a chair near by, The light in the picture seems to culminate in the upper part of the face, and makes our President a very handsome man - which he is not by any means. And still, the likeness is a good soe. Mrs. Hayes is sitting, dessed in black silk and lace scarf. Her tace 's pittecable and recognizable anywhere, but this pointing scarcely does it justice. Indeed, it is one of those whose coloring and mabile express veness give it variety and constitute its charm, and these are things that cannot be put upon canvas. The two extremes nover met in society here more beautifully than has been the case this winter in the little circle of Cabi net ladies These extremes are repregroup-who has arrived at the period of caps and white lace tales for the hair and manifests a dignified grandmo herliness and slender, delicate, girlish Miss Agatha Schutz, who takes her lost mother's place as Sametary Schurz' lady. Among many unique ornaments were here this winter, one that has att acted much attention is a necklace belonging to Senator Spencer's neite, who has lived same time in the Sandwich Islands. It is made of tiger's claws inlaid and set with gold. The claws are in the shape of ball moons and are linked together with medallians of wrought gald. Ladies have wern more natural flowers as trimmings and ernaments this winter than ever before, Placiats aver that the demand for their chattles has been far greater toan the upon to a great extent. > How WATCHES ARE MADE .- It will be apparent to any one, who will examine a solid gold watch, that aside from the nec essary thickness for engraving and polish-ing, the large proportion of the precious metal used, is needed only to stiffen and hold the engraved portions in place, and supply the necessary solidity and strongth. The surplus gold is actually needless, so far as utility and beauty are concerned, In James Boss' Patent Stiffened gold watch cases, this waste of precious metal is overcome, and the same solidity and strength produced at from one-third to This process is of the most simple naturas follows: A plate of composition metal specially adapted to the purpose, has two nation of walled gold soldered one on each polished steel ro iers, and the result is a strip of heavily plated composition, from which the cases, backs, centres, bezels, etc., are cut and shaped by suitable dies and furgers. The road in these cases is and formers. The gold in those cases is sufficiently thick to admit of all kinds of chasing, engraving and enamelling; and engraved cases have been carried until worn perfectly smooth by time and use without removing the gold. These case are fer sale by all jawelers, and are guar anteed by special certificate to wear for 20 years. If your jeweler does not keep them, send to Hag-toz. A.
