Our Northampton Letter.

GARTABURG, N. C. July 17th, 1878. MESSES EDITORS; - Your correspondent asks the favor to inquire whether the bridge of the P. & W. R. R., late over the river near your town, is still where the everflow of last November placed it, viz, across the bed of the river, or whether the ame has been removed by the company, The last intelligence on the subject, was from your paper, and to the effect that it would be replaced in a short time, and travel resumed. The motive of the inquiry is this : Many of our people are interested in the navigation of the Roanoke from Edwards' Ferry to Weldon, that is, they ish to ship via Weldon to Nortotk or Petersburg, or direct to Weldon. This they cannot de, if the aforesaid bridge is still lying across the channel of the river, and the track of the road washed nway The question then is, if this obstruction still remains, [and your correspondent has been informed that it does) ought it longer thus to remain ? Can you not prevail on somebody to get this trouble out of the way! Perhaps we might get up a rquad of volunteers from our side of the river to remove it for our own benefit, but since the iste fist of the Federal court, we are afraid to lay hild of any thing belonging to the Petersburg Railro d. That venerable corporation has now reached the some of Railroad gentility, a receivership in the besom of chancery, and all persons must hands off-no more chaining of engines to the track now. Hit can you not move the sensitive soul of this proud corporation to give us the free navigation of our river ? Try it, for the good of the people. Our crops will soon he ready to move. Shall we ha trauired to haul, in wagons, twenty or thirty miles, or make the slow uncertain voyage of the canal, and be shut up, at that, to market, or shall we enjoy the privilege as we used to do, of pouring icts and through your tewn, our rich argonies of "costly bales ?" We shall

One other favor : Your norrespondent was talking, a tew evenings ago, with an old line democrat, about old times, when our discourse turned upon former governars and gubernatorial contests. We began to recall their succession, or rather, preceasion, going back from the last and, as I believe most peopleoutside of Raleigh think, the best, viz our Vance, as far as recol tection would carry us We soon had cause to know how treacherous an hi-torian's memory is. We could remember B ogden, and how he got to be governor, and Coldwell, and then, with bowed heads. Holden, and then, amid the smoke and fisme of wor. Vance, and the evening in August

1872, when he hade the old command good-bye, near the city of Petersburg, and told them to be brave and faithful, and that he would do all he could, as their Governor, to help them along in their hard duties, and then came Cia ke, and Ellis, jog. whill then we were out into that sunshing time of prosperous peace, when they used to talk about ad valorem and specific tax ation-when everybody who didn't go to the mountains in the summer, staid at home and eat harbecue and watermelons. and then came Bragg the pure and learless inwyer, and then Reid and Free Suffrage, and then we got loat. My old line friend fell to musing and after a while observed with a touch of sudgess, that he had been struck with the fact that so lew of his old parts | Marietts Ghio on the 3rd, 4th, 5th and 6th were taking a loa ling part in public affairs, days of September mat, he wondered what had become of them he wondered whit had become of them -"were they all killed in the war"-now I have it at last."he exclaimed eagerly! What Blessed the rough toil-bar fenel hand , have it at last,"he exclaimed engerist What is it said If' "The Lost Cause fell on Would not the history of thes by gone Governors and their contests he interesting? And that too even if we are in the midst of live issues. Gan you not Mesars, Editors, gat some of your older citizens to trace them out for us in epitome f For instance Judge L, or Capt. J. S. or my old friend E. M. Pt This was the other and last lavor. You see I am in a suggestive houser-so to speak-1 wish I could see you both-I will come as suon as you lay down a plank on the bridge for me to walk on. We know your "t'other one" mighty well -we miss him our side of the river-we devote a balt hour extra to the News, once a week on his account. we mean the local-we should be grieved te hear harm of him-he will do well if he be careful of the ladies and theatricaisthey were slwave his weak accores.
