The Roanoke News.

VOL. VII. WELDON, N. C., SATURDAY, AUGUST 17, 1878. NO. 27.

TEARS.

BY FATHER RYAN. Tears that trickle down our eyes, They do not fall to earth and dry; They soar like angels to the skies; And, like angels, cannot die.

FOUND AND SAVED.

"Yes, there is no use denying that we had rather a stormy time of it." And Captain Ferdinand Lawrence stroked his mustache, and complacently handled the scabbard of his sword, as he spoke with the air of a hero who has no objection to being properly appreciated.

THE INIQUITIES OF THE FATHERS.

During a season of religious awakening a case of interest presented itself. A young lady called at my study in deep distress. As she was not a member of my congregation, and her pastor was a man universally esteemed and beloved, I wondered that she should come to consult a comparative stranger.

WON AT CARDS.

It is a favorite opinion of a friend of mine that parental love does not equal that which a man feels toward an adopted daughter. He instances historical names to show how eminent men have been devoted to those girls that have been brought by accident or otherwise into the relation of daughter by adoption.
