NOTICES OF THE PRESS.

THE WELDON FAIR. The annual exhibition of the Reanake and Tar River Agricultural Society wil be held at Weldon Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, October 28.5, 29.5, 30.6, 31st and November Lat. We have been informed by L. M. Long, Esq., secretary of the society, that great preparations are being made to make a the largest and most aitrac ive lair ever held at Weldon. The grounds and build ings are now being put in order. Hon. Thomas A. Hendricks, of Indiana, is expected to be present and deliver an ddress, Lot everybody go.-Franklin Monitor.

THE WELDON PAIR.

The fair of the Locuoke and Tar River Agricultural Sacie v, will be held at Weldon this yes -commencing on the 28th of Octoper and closing on the 1st of November. The indications a c that it will be the best entition over held there, and that it will be more largely a ended than ever before. A number of new and at active fexines will be introduced, which exunot fail to d aw a large essentilage. Of course a number of our Petersbi neonle will sead out articles for existai-

We copy the following relative to the fair, from the Raleigh O ise ver :

"We leave ...om a . ienci who has just returned from an entended ip though the Roanoke section that the pleast interest is everywhere manifered in the success of the annual fair of the Boanshe and Far River A icultural Association For many yous this Fair has been an object of special price to the people of Hastern North Caldida. It in the occasion of gathering togener the people of one of the inest sections of the State, and they enjoy the a nual enation as a ; est social 5000 Bales of Cotton Wanted .event. The existion has always been very credicable, the previous have been liberal and incicionaly becowed, and the management such as to redect e evic upor the officers and add prosperity to the Association.

The competent officials who are at its head have spared no labor or expense to make this fair the largest and most complete in all it; departments that hes ever bood.
