We do not know whether the civil dockets are very large, or whether there are many important casas to be tried. But we do know that special terms are usually expensive and often inconvenient to many, and the matter should be well considered before action is taken. We will gladly publish the views of noy one on this subject, that being the best way to find out public needs and necessities.

+40+ THE NEW POSTAL REGULA-TION.

Post Master General Key has recently issued an order to Pastmasters, directing them to forward to the dead. letter office, all letters that did not and all Painters Materials will be always found bave the county and State written on the envelopes. We cannot see the necessity of this order as it is well known that there are no two offices of the same name in one State, consequently the name of the State being written, it is useless to add that of the county.

This order will create great trouble and augoyance to business men, and may be the means of much damage to some of them. A gentleman living in Weldon recently wrote a letter directed to a Post office in Halifax county, and because the name of the county was not included in the address, the letter was sent to the dead letter office and there opened, although the writer's address was printed on the envelope. It was returned to him. There can be only one way to account for this order, and that is, that the government seeks by this means to find out some important political capital to use in the coming elections. No doubt the government will resort to any means to get PLAIN and information, but this is one of the meanest ways it could adopt. The Post office department and its officials are, or ought to be sworn to secrecy regarding everything transacted by its aid, and when the government takes advantage of its power to do what it has forbidden others to do, it is high time that those composing the government should be set aside.

THE CLEMENT ATTACHMENT.

Mr C. F. Harden has written a letter discriptive, from Windsor, N. C. about his operations with The Clement Attachment. He has two of them. He says: "The attachments cost $300 each. We are running 612 spindl s, cost at Bridesburg, Pa., $3 per spindle. Two top to select gleads of the best quality at botflat cards, cost $225 each; card clothing $80; one drawing frame, six deliveries. mix into one, $600; one block list spee $550; one cotton cleaner $72. "Fifteen horse power is sufficient to ru the above machinery. We use 1,000 pounds of seed catton per day,

THE ROANOKE NEXXIS. consume three fourths of a cord of wood per day at one dollar and twenty-five cents per cord. Our mill nets us from eight to ten dollars per day. We get from sixteen to seventeen cents per OFFICIAL reports from the New York pound for our yarn. We sell in Norfolk, Va , Baltimore, Md , and New York"

The machinery above coumerated by He uses 300,000 pounds of seed cotton, which we believe yields one-third in lint, or 100,000 pounds, worth say ten cents, was found dead in his room at the $10,000. This has to be bought in the purchased in the fall and stored away, The storage and insurance will be worth something, say $200, and there must nescessarily be money in hand to pay Cormick's Hall Chicago. He spoke for the cotton, say $10,000 which at 8 with his usual carnestness. He com. per cent. will cost $800, making $1,000 for these incidental expenses. The cost of the hands enumerated by Mr. Harden, He gave orders to be called at 7 in the the wood, oil, repairs, keeping up machmorning, and bade his friends good- inerv. &c., &c. will amount to say night. When the boy called him on $3,800, add the $1 000 interest, &c., and $10,000 for the cotton, and we have $14,800 gross expenses.

Now what will the products pay? Three bundred pounds of varn per day for three hundred days make ninety been dead about three hours when thousand pourds of yarn for the year, which Mr. Harden tells us sells for sixteen to seventeen cents-say seventeen cents, realizing $15,300; add $1,000 for cotton seed-for such is the estimate-News, appeared a letter from Halifax and we have $16,300, the total possible which stated that a special term of the income. This would give a profit of Superior Court was needed, and that $1,500. This profit is to pay for the the people and the bar desired one, risk run in the enterprise and to pay the proprietor for his own services. Besides While there may be reasons for having it is questionable whether three bundred a special term there are also some-and thousand pounds of seed cotton will good ones too-why a special term vield uinety thousand pounds of yarn, Cotton suffers a very heavy loss in weight as the season advances, which is perhaps one of the causes why the stalong time before the debt can be paid ple is generally higher in the summer notwithstanding the good management months than in the fall; and we do not of the board of Commissioners; and the know how many pourds of yarn three creditors of the county have a right hundred thousand pounds of seed cotton bave to be paid, the juries would have from the field of experiment into the to be paid and other expenses incident condition of proved feasibility and sucto the machinery of the court would cess. We would be glad to hear from have to be paid, and all out of the our friends at Newbern, what their proscounty funds. There are also many in- pects are with their enterprise which has been established for some time .- Ral-
