DAVID B. HILL.

Well, the great anti-midwinter convention meeting has been held. There were several speeches and some applause. but the leaders of that movement will hardly inspire the Democracy of the country with great respect for their devotion to the party. Many of them have heretofore shown that party ties sit lightly upon them, and that they are truly, as they have been termed, "canditional Democrats." That is, they vote with the Democratio purey when the party submits to their distaction, and their dictation means nothing more nor less than the possession not only of the front seats but also of the in a's share of the material results of victory. When Governor Hill was fighting the battle of Democracy in the recent election, and when, after the election, he stood manfully in the front rank to aid in securing to the party the fruits of it which but for his afforts, would have been wrested from it by the wily and unscrupulous Republicans, these very men who are now hounding him remained silent. Not by word or deed did they offer him encouragement, but, indifferent to his success and the success of the Democratic party which they now so loudly proclaim as their own, they pursued the even tenor of their way; thus showing beyoud question that the success of the party was a matter of small importance to them.

The truth is that the opponents of Mr. Hill cannot find any flaws in either his public or private record; and, because he is a straightout and uncompromising Democrat with whom they on account of their known mugwumpery will have little or no influence, they wish to defeat him for the nomination to the Presidency. Knowing that his record could not be successfully attacked, they seize the first and only ground for opposing him-the early call of the State convention, saying it is snap judgment and the people have had no time to prepare for it. These are no reasons at all. Every man in New York who takes any interest in politics knew eighteen months ago that Mr. Hill was a candidate for President and therefore the early convention could not be a snap judgment. Mr. Cleveland's friends and the mugwump element in New York had fair warning of what to expect and could have begun work to circumvent Mr Hill months and months ago. They cannot make the country believe that they have been inert all these months, waiting for the call of the State convention before be ginning work in the interest of their fa-

Instead of being satisfied with a protest againt the action of the State Executive committee and passing resolutions threatening, or at least authorizing a bolt, these gentlemen should have occupied their time and means in a fair square fight in the primaries and securing Cleveland delegates to the convention.

They did not do this because, it may be inferred, they feared they would be beaten, and believing themselves beaten they are now occupied solely in efforts to defeat their successful opponent, regardless of the effect which their attempted disorganization will have upon the presidential election next fall. Were they as devoted to the party and its principles as they would have the country believe, they would enter the race squarely and abide by the results, and not threaten disruption on a mere quibble.

We received a few days ago a copy of the New York Evening Post containing an alleged history of Senator Hill's record. It is nothing but an ex parte state ment, without proofs, of Mr. Hill's metheds in politics. The Post can hardly expect the country to believe any of them. If they had been true and susceptible of proof they would have long ago been positive - motur, the merit and the mebrought to light. Mr. Hill has been in dicinal power of Hood's Sarsuparilla. public life, and a part of it as Govern a New York with a Legislature political posed to him, for many years; and marges been true they would and of before now. The fact I this bitterest enemies have Im until now is very strong that there is no truth in are sorry to see that they have and with seeming approva by Sur Democratic contemporaries Devening Post having degenerated arom a Republican to a mugwump organ ers in thousand of cases, has felt it his can hardly expect to become a leader in the Democratic ranks, and when it does

Democratic principles will be in a bad It is clear, that these "anti-midwinter"

Cleveland cannot carry New York, He failed to do it 1888 with the full influence of a four years' administration to aid him; when these same "anti-midwinter" Democrats were working and exerting their influence for him as beneficiaries under his administration. With what reason, therefore, can he be expected to carry it now? Are his friends who are leading the "kick" willing that he should be the nominee and again lose the Empire State, without which no Democrat can be elected? We have nought'to say against the question of availability and the un wise determination of some of his friends to force his nomination when we believe he cannot be elected.

On the other hand we believe Mr. Hill can be elected. We believe he can secure the electoral vote of New York, if he be the nominee, in spite of the opposition in New York, which seems to us to be manufactured and artificial rather than spontaneous. We believe that Mr. Hil can carry New York on any platform the party may adopt, even including the free silver plank. We may be miscaken, but we believe it. Is there any other Demoerat who can do this? We do not know

We favor Mr. Hill's nomination be cause we believe him to be the most available man, the ablest organizer, a man of ability and courage, and a Democrat.

THE House Committee on coinage voted on Wednesday to report a bill for the free coinage of silver by a vote o eight to five. The affirmative votes were east by Bland, of Missouri; Williams, o. Illinois; Kilgore, of Texas; Robertson, o Louisiana; Pierce, of Tennessee; Epes, of Virginia; McKeighan, of Nebraska; Bartine, of Nevada. The anti-free coinage voters were Tracy, of New York; Williams, of Massachusetts; Taylor, of Illinois; Stone of Pennsylvania: Johnson, of North

The bill contemplates the converting of all our silver money, silver certificates and treasury notes issued on bullion, and gold certificates issued on gold, into coin notes redeemable in coin, thus converting our paper into bimetal paper, instead of keeping up the distinction between gold and silver in our paper issues. This conforms to the idea of coining both metals on an equality, gold and silver free. The coin notes are redeemable in coin, and, of course, in whatever coin it may be most convenient for the Government to redeem them in.

The depositors of gold and silver bullion have the privilege of waiting their bullion is coined and having the coin returned to them, or they may deposit the bullion and receive coin notes at the coin value of the bullion deposited. The bullion then becomes the property of the Government and is coined as fast as may be necessary for the redemption of any notes presented for redemption. It obviates the expense of coining all the bullion at the time it is deposited.

The people seem to be desirous of using paper money instead of the coin itselfto prefer paper to coin, and for that reason coin notes may be issued and the bullion held for coinage, to be coined only when necessary for redeeming notes. A man holding a coin note will not know whether it is a gold note or a silver note, for if he deposits gold bullion or gold coin he gets a coin note, and if he deposits silver bullion or silver coin he gets the same kind of a coin note. It abolishes the present distinction between our coin

The bill also provides that whenever France may resume free and unlimited coinage of silver at her present ratio of 15} to I, and the President makes preciamation to that effect, that ratio shall become our legal ratio and our coin shall

It ought to be clear to them that Mr. Y. apr 30 1y.

IT is reported that President Harrison has written a letter to friends of his saying that he does not want a single man appointed as a delegate to the Republican National convention who holds any government position or who is any way under obligations to the administration. He expects his friends to see to it that the delegates from the Southern States favor his renomination, but he wants the delegations to be composed of white business men. The reason given for this desire is said to be that if Mr Harrison be nom-Mr Cleveland; we are simply discussing insted he wants to be able to say in the campaign that he was nominated by the people and not by the office holders.

> It will do very well to say that he was not nominated by office holders, but why should be want the delegates to be white business men? Does the President wish to be able to say he was nominated by white men only? Does he want it understood that the negroes, who compose the rank and file of the Republican party in the South, yes four-fifths of it, had nothing to do with his nomination. Suppose they should have nothing to do with his election, what would become of the Republican party in the South?

> WHEN asked if he would be a candidate for the Presidental nomination Mr. John Sherman is reported as saying he was tired of being bought and sold. That is he was tired of paying for the votes of delegates to conventions, then sold out to other candidates. This is severe on the delegates Mr. Shermon loves money. It seems he would rather be rich than President, if he is not willing to pay for the honor. How different from the religious Mr. Wanamaker who paid $300, 000, it is said, for his position in the
