WORK FOR US

A few days, and you will be startled at the unexpected success that will reward your efforts. We positively have the best business to offer an agent that can be found on the face of this earth. $43.00 profit on $75.00 worth of business is being easily and honorably made by and paid to hundreds of men, women, boys, and girls in our employ. You can make money faster at work for us than you have any idea of. The business is so easy to learn, and instructions so simple and plain, that all succeed from the start. Those who take hold of the business reap the advantage that arises from the sound reputation of one of the oldest, most successful, and largest publishing houses in America. Secure for yourself the profits that the business so readily and handsomely yields. All beginners succeed grandly, and more than realize their greatest expectations. Those who try it find exactly as we tell them. There is plenty of room for a few more workers, and we urge them to begin at once. If you are already employed, but have a few spare moments, and wish to use them to advantage, then write us at once (for this is your grand opportunity), and receive full particulars by return mail. FIGHTING WITHOUT FIREARMS.

The Greek pike was 24 feet long.
The medieval lance was 18 feet.
The Swiss pike was 18 feet long.
The Roman javelin was 6 feet long.
The petrary was a medieval catapult. Plate armor was used from 1410 to 1600.
The standard Roman sword was 22 inches.
The helmet of Richard I. weighed 25 pounds.
The rabbi say Cain killed Abel with a club.
David slew Goliath with a sling stone, B. C. 1063.
German helmets were ornamented with cow-horns.

The cross-bow came into use into in the twelfth century.
The military flail came into use in the tenth century.
Spears are found in the earliest hieroglyphics of Egypt.
The first armor used was of skins and padded hides.
The pulley drawn cross-bow had a range of forty rods.
Projecting engines were first invented by the Greeks.
Mixed chain and plate armor was used from 1300 to 1410.
Gustavus Adolphus abolished all armor but a light cuirass.
The French infantry were armed with the pike until 1640.
The battles of Crecy, Poitiers and Agincourt were won by the archers.

Strength and Health.

If you are not feeling strong and healthy, try Electric Bitters. If La Grippe has left you weak and weary, use Electric Bitters. This remedy acts directly on the liver, stomach and kidneys, gently aiding those organs to perform their functions. If you are afflicted with sick headache, you will find speedy and permanent relief by taking Electric Bitters. One trial will convince you that this is the remedy you need. Large bottles only 50c. at W. M. Cohen's drugstore.

BITS OF WISDOM.

The only truly brave people are those who are not afraid of the truth.
There is not a man in the world who is not serving some kind of a master.
Nothing makes a man a bit richer that does not make him more grateful.
No religion can do you a bit of good that does not make you try to do good to others.
A Little Girl's Experience in a Lighthouse.
Mr. and Mrs. Loren Tresscott are keepers of the Gov. Lighthouse at Sand Beach, Mich., and are blessed with a daughter, four years old. Last April she was taken down with Measles, followed with a dreadful Cough and turning into a Fever. Doctors at home and at Detroit treated her, but in vain, she grew worse rapidly, until she was a mere "handful of bones." Then she tried Dr. King's New Discovery and after the use of two and half bottles, was completely cured. They say Dr. King's New Discovery is worth its weight in gold, yet you may get a trial bottle free at W. M. Cohen's drugstore.

THINGS WORTH KNOWING.

Tannon mixed with mutton tallow is good for chapped hands.
Put a tablespoonful of salt into a kerosene lamp once in a while.
A good sized sponge is nice for cleaning paint and washing windows.
A large, soft sponge, either dry or dampened makes a good duster.
A paste made of equal parts of lard and powdered chalk will cure corns.
Nitro is excellent for a cold, especially a feverish one. Use ten drops to a teaspoonful, according to age, once in four hours.
G. M. Carter, Chester, S. C., writes: "A negro boy here had a bad case of scrofula. The doctor said it would kill him. I got him to use Botanic Blood Balm. He took a dozen bottles and is now well. He has not used any of it for four months and continues well."

"Mamma," said Jacky, whose little sister was pulling his hair, "I wish you'd make May stop. She's behaving in a very ungentlemanly way."

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

Cholly—Bah, Jove, I've a dreadful pain in my head. Can you suggest a remedy?
Sinners—Yes, have it filled.

HOUSEHOLD BRUVITIES.

--Boiled Tenderloins—Cut a tenderloin into three long steaks, flatten them and put on a broiler which has been greased over a quick fire; have a saucepan ready over the fire with a little melted butter in it, sprinkle a little salt over the tenderloins, put them in the saucepan for two or three minutes, then serve.—N. Y. Observer.
--Green Tomato Soy.—Take green tomatoes just before frost. Slice them thin. Put a layer of tomatoes, chopped onions, celery and mustard seed, pepper and salt, and two tablespoonfuls of white sugar; mace and cloves if fancied. Fill the kettle and vinegar enough to cook them; when tender, add more vinegar and boil a few minutes.—Harper's Bazar.
--Apple Custard Pie.—Peel, core and stew sour apples. Mash them very fine, and for each pie allow the yolk of one egg, one cup of sugar, one-half cup of butter, one-quarter of a nutmeg, grated. Bake with only one crust, the same as pumpkin pie, and use the white of the egg as frosting, to be spread on after the pie is done. Brown it nicely, by returning it to the oven for a few minutes.—Boston Budget.
--Flannel Cakes.—Rub two ounces of butter into a quart of sifted flour with the hands until well mixed; add one teaspoonful of salt. Mix together the beaten yolks of three eggs and one pint and a half of milk; add this to the flour; beat hard until smooth. Next add the whites of the eggs beaten to a stiff froth and two tablespoonfuls of baking powder. Bake quickly on a hot griddle, greased with fat pork.—N. Y. Observer.
--Rolls.—Let one pint of milk come to a boil; then add one tablespoon of butter and one tablespoon of sugar; cool and add one-half cup of soft yeast and flour to make a soft sponge; let it rise several hours, or, if for breakfast, over night, then stir flour in until the dough is firm; knead thoroughly; let it rise again, cut with a biscuit cutter and fold half-way over. When light bake in a quick oven half an hour. Watch carefully that they bake evenly and are a golden brown.—Boston Budget.
--Chocolate caramels are great favorites; and although the word caramel really means burnt sugar, it is often applied where this ingredient is entirely lacking. To make this candy at its best, one cup of sugar and half a cup of butter are creamed well together as if for cake, adding by degrees a cup of molasses and one of cream, if it is to be had—if not, milk will make an inferior substitute. Put all these ingredients in a saucepan and let them boil fast. When nearly done, which will be in about half an hour, add a cup of grated chocolate and stir well. Drop a little of the caramel into cold water and have ready buttered pans into which it may be poured an inch thick. Mark into squares when cool with the back of a warm knife.—Harper's Bazar.

THE CHARM OF COURTESY.

Alleged Well-bred Reserve—The Woman Who Dares to Be Affable.
If women could ever learn that it is quite possible to combine affability with dignity in commonplace, daily intercourse with their fellow creatures, this would be a far brighter and more agreeable world. Nine-tenths of the gentlemen one knows would no more address an unintentioned female than bite off a bit of their own tongues. Not once in a blue moon do they dare converse with their servants, the clerk behind the counter, the chance companion of a railway journey, or even the lady who has dropped in to call on a mutual friend.
Awkwardness and timidity, with a sense of alleged well-bred reserve, seal their lips to every form of communication. In their shyness and stupid fear of furnishing an opportunity for undue familiarity they go through life like oysters, as far as those outside their narrow circle are concerned. But, thank heaven, there is a woman, and her tribe is increasing, who realizes all of the beautiful opportunities and rights the gift of speech gives her. She can afford to talk to her domestics about any and everything, and cement their affectionate respect with every word uttered.
Her kindly recognition of the shop-girl and fragment of pleasant gossip across the yardstick is a wholesome break in a clerk's dull day. To sit beside a respectable female for an hour's train travel, and not exchange greetings as two human beings, touching in their journey of life, would confound her kindly nature. She is sure of her dignity, and, strong in its integrity, affords to do what a less fine-grained nature shrinks to essay. Her friendly, well-chosen words are as far removed from volubility as her cordial manners are from gush.
Recognizing the power of speech as the most potent of spells for removing dull, unlovely discontent, embarrassment, and loneliness, she is free with worthy thoughts graciously expressed. It is noticeable that such women never leave drawing-room, kitchen, shop or coach that every other creature of her kind present does not acknowledge to herself the supreme excellence of courtesy above all other feminine charms.—Illustrated American.

Baked Potatoes.

A baked potato is most delicious when served alone. No knife must touch it; break it carefully and squeeze the contents of the jackets into a light heat on the plate. Then sprinkle it with salt and it is an exquisite dish, to be eaten alone. Asparagus spoils everything it touches unless it be a little bit of toast, to which it imparts its own flavor. Green corn eaten from the cob, or after a slight boiling cut off and baked in a dish, will not be enjoyed as it should be if mixed with other food. Roast beef will bear nothing but mushrooms with it, and in spite of all that epicures may say we like it best when its blushing face, half hidden in the red veil dippe from the drops that followed the knife, is all we can see on the plate before us.—Journal of Commerce.
Made Him Weary.
Aunt—I love flowers. Don't you?
Young Nephew—I used to, I commenced to study botany. Now I hate 'em.—Good News.
