How's Your Liver?

Is the Oriental salutation, knowing that good health cannot exist without a healthy liver. When the liver is torpid the Bowels are sluggish and constipated, the food lies in the stomach undigested, poisoning the blood; frequent headache ensues; a feeling of lassitude, despondency and nervousness indicate how the whole system is deranged. Simmons Liver Regulator has been the means of restoring more people to health and happiness by giving them a healthy liver than any agency known on earth. It acts with extraordinary power and efficacy. NEVER BEEN DISAPPOINTED.

As a general family remedy for dyspepsia, rapid liver, constipation, etc. I hardly ever see anything else, and have never been disappointed in the effect produced; it seems to be almost a perfect cure for all diseases of the stomach and bowels.

STATE FINANCES.

ESTIMATE OF EXPENSES DURING THE NEXT TWO YEARS AND RECEIPTS FOR THE SAME PERIOD.

The balances at the close of the fiscal year (November 30th) were: Educational fund, $28,568; public fund, $310,400; for partial payments, $3,978; for receiver in the Swazey suit (North Carolina railroad) $33,600; for sale 4 per cent bonds, $20,650; total, $397,198. From the public fund there was due (most has since been paid) $225,198, leaving as the true balance due that fund in $85,202. The State Board of Education has North Carolina 4 per cent bonds (old investment) $99,250; North Carolina bonds, $30,000, and cash balance in treasury, $28,568; total $158,818.

The following are the estimates of the expenses of the State for the two fiscal years ending November 30th, 1893, and November 30th, 1894. Legislature, $63,000; education department, $26,000; judiciary, $5,750; railway commission, $9,200; agricultural societies, $2,250; bureau of immigration, $150; bureau labor statistics, $3,100; capital square, $600; Agricultural and Mechanical college, $17,500; conveying convicts to the penitentiary, $9,000; rewards for fugitives from justice, $2,000; interest on per cent. State debt, $132,000; normal schools, $8,500; Oxford orphan asylum, $10,000; pensions, $100,000; public printing, (estimate) $20,000; quarantine regulations, $2,400; sheriffs for settling taxes, $1,100; State Board of Health, $2,000; State geological survey, $10,000; State Guard, $16,000; State library, $500; State University, $20,000; general contingent fund, $20,000; deaf mute and blind institution, $40,000; insane asylum at $60,000, and for the same for the hospital and infirmary, $20,000; State hospital at Morganton $90,000; and for the same special $9,000; eastern hospital at Goldsboro $33,000, and for the same special $7,500; normal and industrial school for girls, $15,000; school for white deaf mutes at Morganton, $40,000; Soldiers' Home, $3,000; Colored Orphan Asylum at Oxford, $1,000; Colored Agricultural and Mechanical college at Greensboro, $2,500; disabled firemen, $2,500; Guilford battle ground, $200; total, $864,750. There is no estimate here for the penitentiary, as it is not known whether that institution will require aid beyond its present balance. If, however, it be not self sustaining with that balance, the estimate for the deficiency will have to be added. These estimates are based upon the reported needs of the various objects mentioned. As a guide it may be stated that the latest valuation of real and personal property in the State, as reported by the auditor, is $242,449,891, and to this is to be added the value of railway property assessed by the railway commission, $19,726,760, making the total valuations $262,176,651. Each one cent on the $100 value will yield, free of costs of collection, about $25,000.

The estimated revenues are as follows: Twenty five cents on each $100 value less 5 per cent sheriff's commissions for collections, $575,819; 25 cents on the $100 on railroad property, $49,317; 2 cents on the $100 (less expenses of collection) and 9 cents on the poll, for pensions, $93,353; taxes under schedules B and C, $69,000; revenue from other sources, paid direct to the treasurer, $50,000, total estimated revenue $834,094; balance at close of last fiscal year $85,202; aggregate estimated revenues $919,296.

Too MUCH HOLIDAY—got him off the even track and brought on a fresh attack of Indigestion and Dyspepsia. It was Simmons Liver Regulator that cured this time. It never fails. You want to keep it on hand also for any Bilious attack, or for Constipation. It is the only remedy, unlike the pills in the effect. No gripings, and does not debilitate. Try it once.

ATLANTIC COAST LINE.

A LINK NOW BEING CONSTRUCTED THAT WILL MAKE IT THE SHORTEST LINE FROM WASHINGTON TO AUGUSTA AND OTHER POINTS.

A long article appeared in the Savannah News of the 2nd inst. in reference to the plans and movements of the Atlantic Coast Line. Among other things, it is stated that the A. C. L. desires to turn its passenger and freight business via the South Bound railroad, which the Star learns from the highest official sources is incorrect.

It is true, however, that the Atlantic Coast Line intends to continue the extension of the Manchester and Augusta Railroad to Denmark, S. C., on its way to Augusta. Twenty miles of this is already built; there remains to construct forty-five miles.

At Denmark it will connect both with the South Bound railroad and with the South Carolina Railroad. The construction of the road to Denmark will make the Atlantic Coast Line the short line from Washington to Augusta, Macon, and many other interior Georgia points, using the fifty-six miles of the South Carolina railroad between Denmark and Augusta to reach Augusta.

The principal object of the construction of this road to Denmark by the Atlantic Coast Line is to reach Augusta.

A large amount of the freight business done out of Florida to Northern points by the Coast Line now comes from the line of the Florida Central & Peninsula railroad, which has leased the South Bound railroad. The Atlantic Coast Line, will, of course, be glad to receive this business at Denmark, if it cannot secure it elsewhere.

The distance from Florence to Denmark will be one hundred and two miles, exactly the same distance from Florence, to Charleston.

It is expected [that the construction of this road will be completed within twelve months.

The article in the Savannah News contains much "gossip," many guesses and many inaccuracies. But the News may rest assured that those who direct the destinies of the Atlantic Coast Line are wide awake and will spare no effort to protect the interests of that great property in the competition for both freight and passenger traffic.

STRANGE LIFE SENTENCE.

Did you ever hear of an animal being sentenced to life imprisonment for misdemeanor? It is not likely that you have. Daniel Click and wife, each nearly a hundred years old, and their bachelor son, Jonathan, aged about 70, live near Paint Rock, in the Western part of this State. About seven years ago a young dog belonging to the family killed a chicken, which was contrary to the peace and dignity of the State. Mrs. Click found the dog guilty of murder in the first degree, but finally changed the sentence of death to life imprisonment. Accordingly the dog was shut up in an empty corn crib, where he has remained up to the present time. Food and water is furnished regularly and no jailer is more watchful of his prisoner than the Click family. Speaking of strange characters, this is another reminder of the fact that North Carolina is always ahead.

REAL MERIT—Is the characteristic of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and it is manifested in the remarkable cures this medicine accomplishes. Druggists say: "When we sell a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla to a new customer we are sure to see him back in a few weeks after more—proving that the good results from a trial bottle warrant continuing its use." This positive merit Hood's Sarsaparilla possesses by virtue of the Peculiar Combination, Proportion and Process used in its preparation, and by which all the medicinal value of the ingredients used is retained. Hood's Sarsaparilla is thus Peculiar to Itself and absolutely unequalled in its power as a blood purifier, and as a tonic—building up the weak and weary, and giving nerve and strength.

INCIDENTAL GUYING.

Detroit Free Press.

The other night a policeman heard fierce wrangling in the house of a colored man on Calhoun street, and he knocked on the door as a warning that he was around. It was opened by the man of the house, who saw that his visitor was an officer and explained:

"Dis hain't no family fight or ruffin' of dat sort. We is sort o' rehearsin' fur a play dat is comin' off at our eake walk."

"Oh, that's it? I thought I heard you call your wife a fool."

"Dat in de play, sah."

"And she called you a thief?"

"In de play, sah."

"And you threatened to split her head open."

"Zactly, sah—all in de play."

He was standing in the open door, and at that moment a stick of wood hit him in the back of the head and keeled him over, and he alighted on the ground, where he lay for half a minute without motion. He was slowly struggling to his feet when the officer queried:

"Was that in the play, too?"

"N-no, sah—not zactly," was the reply, "but dat's some new business jist worked in, I reckon!"

TELL THE TRUTH.

The habit of overstating facts is becoming a chronic fault of American newspaper writers. Not only are molehills magnified into mountains, but mountains are microscoped into molehills, when it suits the purpose of the writer or paraphrast to make the change. A trivial fault committed by one, whose advertisement is regarded as inimical to the success of the political organization to which we chance to belong is made to appear, in the newspaper reports, as a flagrant dereliction of duty; while on the other hand, we labor assiduously to hide from public view the real defections of those who have by means, fair or foul, secured nominations from the party with which we stand identified. The effect of this is to mislead an honest public, and deceive the voter who sincerely desires to cast his ballot in favor of the man who will most wisely administer the affairs of office.

But this habit of misrepresenting facts is not confined to political centres. The evil has become so firmly rooted that the most ordinary happening is misstated, and the common occurrences of life are made to resemble the phenomenal. To so great an extent has this practice been carried that the reader of the morning paper is left in doubt as to whether what has been narrated in the news columns is half or one-fourth true. Reporters give their own colorings to the dispatches they send, and in the haste and confusion the editor has not time to verify and correct the messages. The desire to get off something sensational leads to misrepresentation and the reader is puzzled to know what is the truth.—Exchange

A SHREWD PARENT.

"I don't know what is the matter with my son. Since he went to the university he hasn't written to me once."

"Why don't you do as I did? When I didn't hear from my Emil I wrote us follows: 'My dear boy, how are you? Enclosed you will find a $20 bill.' But I took good care not to inclose the bill. The result was that he wrote by the next mail, complaining that the money had not reached him."
