Rose Tobacco Cure!

WHAT IT IS DOING.

I received Tablet about six days ago and commenced using according to directions, and can say now that I am cured of the habit of chewing and smoking, contracted about thirty-seven years ago. What are your terms to agents? I want two counties. Cleveland, Miss. E. C. Hopkins.

I have used the Rose Tobacco Cure with happy results. Please give me all the particulars in regard to agency, for one or more counties. Yours respectfully, Valdosta, Ga. W. D. Braswell.

I sent you a month ago for a Tablet of Rose Tobacco Cure. It broke me of the habit after using tobacco for fifty-seven or fifty-eight years. Yours, Travelers Rest, Ala. J. C. Powell.

I purchased a Tablet of Rose Cure some two weeks since and it has cured me. Please let me know if you will let an agent have as much territory as a State. Tibbee station, Miss. J. H. Ryland.

Rev. Mr. Ouland, of this city, has used your Rose Tobacco Cure and he says it has cured him of the habit of tobacco using. I have been chewing and smoking for 45 years and yet am determined to quit. Please find enclosed $1.00. Send me a Tablet. Jacksonville, Fla. Yours, W. E. Hatter.

Sometime ago I ordered from you a box of the Snuff Cure for myself. It gave perfect satisfaction and completely cured me of the Snuff habit in a few days. I would like to secure the agency for this section. Summit, Ala. Mrs. Carry Haden.

AN OLD CASE.—All that want to quit the use of tobacco, use the Rose Tobacco Cure. I am a free man after using it 55 years. Give terms to agents. Yours, Valley Head, Ala. R. S. Price.

I write this to say to you that the Rose Tobacco Cure is a wonderful stuff. I have used tobacco in all shapes for 45 years, and after using one Tablet all desire is gone. I used two Tablets to be sure of a cure, but one did the work. Dr. R. M. Tucker.

4 YEARS MORE.

GROVER CLEVELAND AGAIN PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES.

THE INAUGURAL ADDRESS.

"MY FELLOW CITIZENS:—In obedience to the mandate of my countrymen I am about to dedicate myself to their service under the sanction of a solemn oath. Deeply moved by the expression of confidence and personal attachment which has called me to this service, I am sure my gratitude can make no better return than the pledge I now give before God and these witnesses of unreserved and complete devotion to the interests and welfare of those who have honored me.

"I deem it fitting on this occasion, while indicating the opinions I hold concerning public questions of present importance, to also briefly refer to the existence of certain conditions and tendencies among our people, which seem to menace the integrity and usefulness of their government. While every American citizen must contemplate with the utmost pride and enthusiasm the growth and expansion of our country, the sufficiency of our institutions to stand against the rudest shocks of violence, the wonderful thrift and enterprise of our free government, it behooves us to constantly watch for every symptom of insidious infirmity that threatens our national vigor. The strong man, who in the confidence of sturdy health courts the earnest activities of life and rejoices in the hardihood of constant labor, may still have lurking near his vitals an unheeded disease that dooms him to sudden collapse. It cannot be doubted that our stupendous achievements as a people and our country's robust strength have given rise to heedlessness of those laws governing our national health which we can no more evade than human life can escape the laws of God and nature.

THE CURRENCY QUESTION.

Manifestly, nothing is more vital to our supremacy as a nation and to the beneficent purposes of our government than a sound and stable currency. Its exposure to degradation should at once arouse to activity the most enlightened statesmanship, and the danger of depreciation in the purchasing power of the wages paid to toil should furnish the strongest incentive to prompt and conservative legislation.

"In dealing with our present embarrassing situation as related to this subject, we will be wise if we temper our confidence and faith in our national strength and resources with the frank concession that even these will not permit us to defy with impunity the inexorable laws of finance and trade. At the same time, in our efforts to adjust differences of opinion, we should be free from intolerance or passion, and our judgment should be unmoved by alluring phases and unexposed by selfish interest.

"I am confident that such approach to the subject will result in prudent and effective remedial legislation.

CIVIL SERVICE REFORM.

"Our mode of misappropriating public funds is avoided when appointments to office, instead of being rewards of partisan activity, are awarded to those whose efficiency promises a fair return of work for the compensation paid to them. To secure fitness and competency in appointees to office, and to remove from political action the demoralizing madness for spoils, civil service reform has found a place in our public policy and laws. The benefits already gained through this instrumentality and the further usefulness it promises entitle it to the hearty support and encouragement of all who desire to see our public service well performed or who hope for the elevation of political sentiment and the purification of political methods.

TARIFF REFORM.

"The people of the United States have decreed that on this day the control of their government, in its legislative and executive branches, shall be given to a political party pledged in the most positive terms to the accomplishment of tariff reform. They have thus determined in favor of a more just and equitable system of Federal taxation. The agents they have chosen to carry out their purposes are bound by their promises not less than by the command of their masters to devote themselves unremittently to this service.

"While there should be no surrender of principle, our task must be undertaken wisely and without vindictiveness. Our mission is not punishment, but rectification of wrongs. If, in lifting burdens from the daily life of our people, we reduce inordinate and unequal advantages too long enjoyed, this is but a necessary incident of our return to right and justice. If we exact from unwilling minds acquiescence in the theory of honest distribution of the fund of governmental beneficence treasured up for all, we but insist upon a principal which underlies our free institutions. When we tear aside the delusions and misconceptions which have blinded our countrymen to their condition under vicious tariff laws we show them how far they have been led away from paths of contentment and prosperity. When we proclaim that the necessity for revenue to support the government furnishes the only justification for taxing the people we announce a truth so plain that its denial would seem to indicate the extent to which the judgment may be influenced by familiarity with perversions of the taxing power, and when we seek to reinstate the self-confidence and business enterprise of our citizens by discrediting abject dependence upon governmental favor we strive to stimulate those elements of American character which support the hope of American achievement.

"Fully impressed with the gravity of the duties that confront me and mindful of my weakness, I should be appalled if it were not my lot to bear unaided the responsibilities which await me. I am, however, saved from discouragement when I remember that I shall have the support and counsel and co-operation of wise and patriotic men who will stand at my side in Cabinet places or will represent the people in legislative halls. * * * * *

"Above all, I know there is a Supreme Being who rules the affairs of men and whose goodness and mercy have always followed the American people, and I know He will not turn from us now if we humbly and reverently seek His powerful aid."

FAR ADVANCED.

A Henry county negro was discovered carrying a very large armful of books, which brought forth the inquiry:

"Going to school?"

"Yes, sar, boss."

"Do you study all those books?"

"No, sar, dey's my brudder's. Ise a ignorant kind 'er nigger side him, boss. Yer jest ought'er see dat nigger figgerin' He done gone an' clean cyphered through addition, partition, subtraction, distraction, distinction, abomination, justification, derivation, creation, amputation, and adoption."—Atlanta Constitution.

J. D. Watkins, Blakely, Ga., writes: "Old sores covered my entire person and itched intensely night and day. For several months I could not work at all. I commenced the use of Botanic Blood Balm, and began to grow better the first week, and am now sound and well, from sores and itching and at work again."

LET WELL ENOUGH ALONE.

I've got a tongue-tied child, doctor. Can anything be done for it?

Boy or girl?

Girl.

Humph! I think you'd better not interfere with the workings of Providence, Ma'am.

A reckless disregard of the laws of the health stamps the character of many a man. This temerity crops out on every occasion. You can never make such a man understand that a cough is a premonition of consumption and a standing menace to his life. The stages are first the ordinary cough, then the stubborn, hacking cough and last consumption. Let him heed the friendly warning and learn to cure the affection at its first stage with Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

THE WOMEN OF HAWAII.

THE MOST BEAUTIFUL OF ALL THE DARK SKINNED RACES.

"The women of Hawaii are dark skinned, but they are beautiful. Their eyes are glorious, their lips are rounded, but rarely too full. Their arms are absolutely matchless, with dainty wrists and biceps simply luxurious in their delicious curves. Their ankles are perfect, and their feet are small, with high arched insteps. Their hair is far from being made up of abbreviated kinks, as most Americans seem to imagine. Women are frequently seen among the natives with hair long, rich and glossy.

"But the greatest charm of the Hawaiian maiden is her ever present grace of movement. I have never yet seen a Hawaiian woman make one awkward gesture. Whether they are riding their narrow surf boards on the crest of a curling ocean breaker or seated (perfectly modestly, too) astride a horse—two recollections of which they are passionately fond—they are the essence of gracefulness. The Hula Hula, or the night dance, whatever its moral effect may be, is one of the most beautiful exhibitions I have ever seen.

"Hawaiian women are fond of music and quick to catch new airs on their guitars, the favorite instrument here. They make fascinating sweethearts and faithful wives. A Hawaiian girl falls in love but once. If the object of her affections does not respond, she simply dies. This is literally true. The way these people have of calmly lying down in the face of a disappointment, or a conviction that their time has come, however groundless, and simply waiting until they really do die, is, I think, the most remarkable of all the strange phases of life in the Sandwich Islands. They are fatalists to an extent that would be ludicrous, were it not so pitiful. What is to be, in their minds, will be, and they cannot be induced to offer the slightest resistance."

THE W., O. & E. C. R. R.

TO BE SOON EXTENDED TO NEW BERN.

Work is now rapidly progressing on the extension of the Wilmington, Onslow & East Carolina Railroad from Jacksonville, Onslow county, to New Bern, Craven county. Mr. H. A. Whiting, general manager of the road, informs us that he expects to have the extension completed by May, so that Wilmington and New Bern will then be directly connected by rail. The grading is now completed to within three miles of New Bern, and the track has already been laid to Starkeys' Onslow county, eleven and a half miles beyond Jacksonville.

The extension will add thirty-eight miles of track to the road, so that when it is completed the mileage between Wilmington and New Bern will be eighty-eight miles. From Jacksonville to New Bern the road runs through portions of Onslow, Jones and Craven counties, and it will develop what is said to be the richest and best track growing region in the Southern States. The region of New Hanover and Onslow counties through which the line runs from Wilmington to Jacksonville, is equally as well adapted to truck farming and this industry has grown to large proportions along the line in the last two years. Even last year, three car loads of truck arrived here per day from points between Wilmington and Jacksonville and were shipped north by the Atlantic Coast Dispatch.

The building of the extension has already given impetus to truck growing in the counties between Jacksonville and New Bern, and in anticipation of having transportation for their product, the farmers are now planting extensively.

With the Wilmington, Onslow and East Carolina opening up the fine country from here to New Bern, we anticipate a rapid and substantial development of what is destined to be the garden spot of North Carolina.—Wilmington Messenger.

THE PENITENTIARY BILL.

TERMS OF THE BILL AS FAVORABLY REPORTED BY THE LEGISLATIVE COMMITTEE ON PENAL INSTITUTIONS AND PASSED.

Wednesday night the Committee on Penal Institutions reported the Penitentiary bill. It provides for a board of five directors, to have general supervision. The Governor shall appoint a superintendent of the State's prison to hold office four years from March next, with $2,000 salary. He is to give a $30,000 bond and to have charge of the internal police and general management of the prison; to employ the convicts in the prison or on farms; to purchase at wholesale rate supplies; to sell the products, preferring the State's charitable institutions in making such sales; to appoint all under officers of the prison, guards and employees; to make an annual statement of the accounts between the State and the penitentiary. The board of directors is to appoint a clerk of the prison, to daily inspect all works. The officers of the architect, warden and steward are abolished. The superintendent may erect shops in the prison and lease and equip farms, using only the funds already appropriated.

THIRTY YEARS UNBURIED.

NOT TILL THE MOTHER DIED WAS THE BODY OF HER SON INTERRED.

Mr. Edward Drane, of Nashville, Tenn., who is at present in the city, told a most remarkable story about a double funeral which took place in Rock Island, Tenn., while he was hunting in that section during the Christmas holidays. All the neighbors attended it, he said, and the affair was the talk of the whole country. The dead were an aged woman and her son, and strange feature of the event was that the son had been dead and had remained unburied for thirty years! Mr. Drane says that the truth of this statement was vouched for by numerous people, who claimed to have occasionally been treated to a sight of the body during the period indicated.

The story is as strange a one as any ever conceived by the fertile imagination of a novelist. It goes back to the civil war, when the lady's son, a mere boy, and a Confederate soldier, was killed at Murfreesboro. He was an only son, and the grief-stricken mother passionately declared that she could not and would not part with her boy; she meant to keep him as long as she lived, and he should not be buried until death came and claimed her also. This was before embalming was common, and so she had him sealed in a cedar case, which was made as nearly airtight as was practicable, and was constructed with a glass top to allow a view of the face, &c. This, with its precious contents, she deposited in the chamber, in a room assigned to that purpose, whither she not infrequently repaired to commune with the dead. Occasionally friends of the family were admitted to the apartment. It is said that the body did not decay or putrify, but gradually became mummified. Thirty years it waited there—an uncanny occupant, that gave the house a queer reputation—but finally it was brought down and was placed in the hearse beside the coffin of the devoted mother, whose affection had manifested itself so strangely. An immense cortege accompanied the two to the country churchyard, where the bodies were deposited side by side in one grave.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

GREEN GOODS.

Don't be tempted to invest in them. You will get into trouble every time and in the end poverty and disgrace. The genuine Uncle Sam's green goods are the only ones of value. They make you rich; especially when used to purchase Simmons' Liver Regulator to cure your Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Constipation or Biliousness, or to drive away Malina. Don't be tempted to take anything else in the place of the Regulator.

GRESHAM A POPULIST.

Concerning Judge Gresham and the People's party the Journal of the Knights of Labor, says this:

"All, or nearly all, the comments in the newspapers upon the matter are complimentary to the Judge, and the Journal does not wish to introduce any discordant note. It is as well that one fact should not be lost sight of. When the committee from the Omaha convention waited upon Judge Gresham to urge him to accept a nomination from the People's party, the Judge, after carefully reading the platform of the party, cordially approved of and endorsed its every plank, declared himself in hearty sympathy with the new party and its principles, and only declined the nomination, as he said, because of reasons personal to himself. How he can, while believing in the principles of the People's party, accept office in a Government with a policy diametrically opposed to every plank and principle of which he approves, must be left to Judge Gresham to reconcile with his own conscience and with his ideas of what public men may honorably do."

ADVERTISEMENTS.

How's Your Liver?

Is the Oriental salutation, knowing that good health cannot exist without a healthy Liver. When the Liver is torpid the Bowels are sluggish and constipated, the food lies in the stomach undigested, poisoning the blood; frequent headache ensues; a feeling of lassitude, despondency and nervousness indicate how the whole system is deranged. Simmons' Liver Regulator has been the means of restoring more people to health and happiness by giving them a healthy Liver than any agency known on earth. It acts with extraordinary power and efficacy.

NEVER BEEN DISAPPOINTED.

As a general family remedy for dyspepsia, torpid Liver, Constipation, etc. I hardly ever see anything else, and have never been disappointed in the effect produced; it seems to be almost a perfect cure for all diseases of the stomach and bowels.
