How's Your Liver?

Is the Oriental salutation, knowing that good health cannot exist without a healthy Liver. When the Liver is torpid the Bowels are sluggish and constipated, the food lies in the stomach undigested, poisoning the blood; frequent headaches ensue; a feeling of lassitude, despondency and nervousness indicate how the whole system is deranged. Simmons Liver Regulator has been the means of restoring more people to health and happiness by giving them a healthy Liver than any agency known on earth. It acts with extraordinary power and efficacy.

REV. R. G. WILSON, Princeton, N. J., says: "I find nothing helps so much to keep me in working condition as Simmons Liver Regulator."

See that you get the Genuine, with red Z on front of wrapper. PREPARED ONLY BY J. H. ZEILIN & CO., Philadelphia, Pa.

TO THE LADIES OF

WESTERN HALF OF HALIFAX CO.

I know Dr. J. A. McGill's ORANGE BLOSSOM to be a very great blessing to our sex. We have long needed something which we could use ourselves and which could conquer the stubborn forms of chronic inflammation and congestion which lie at the foundation of all female troubles. That Dr. McGill's treatment meets the demand of this long felt want is shown by the fact that many cases which have baffled the skill of our best physicians, are being cured by it. I have pledged myself to let my suffering sisters in the above Counties know of this simple, entirely safe, yet wonderful cure. To accomplish this I must have the help of some good Christian lady in each township. There are not less than one thousand ladies in each of the above Counties to whom this cure would be of inestimable value, many of them mothers who need strength that they may train their little ones; then there are so many young girls whose trouble is not considered serious, but nevertheless need attention, as only a little time will be required for it take the color from the cheeks and all the joy from their glad young lives as it has done in thousands of cases. Send a two-cent stamp for free Sample Box. I will also send Township's Agent's Terms to those who will assist me. MISS LIZZIE R. DAVIS, Arcola, Warren Co., N. C.

GOIN' TO THE FAIR.

Ef yer goin' to see the circus called the big Chicago fair, Ye'd better cut yer wisdom teeth and sharpen 'em with care, An' keep yer wits about ye, an' mind what yer about, For they'll skin ye like the mischief ef ye don't watch out!

They're goin' to charge fer gazin' an' a extra lump fer thinkin'; It'll cost a heap fer eatin' and they'll sock it on fer drinkin'.

An' ef ye get a bed at night or ef ye go without, They'll skin ye like the mischief ef ye don't watch out!

It's a cent apiece fer coughin' an' jus' twice as much fer sneezin'; A nickel ef ye hold yer breath an' two of 'em fer breathin';

A shillin' fer a whisper, an' a quarter fer a shout—

They'll skin ye like the mischief ef ye don't watch out!

They'll tax ye fer the privilege of walkin' on the ground, No matter ef yer go ahead or ef ye turn around,

An' jes' because yer livin'—don't ye never have a doubt— They'll skin ye like the mischief ef ye don't watch out!

WORRY POSTOFFICE.

AS TO PEOPLE AND THINGS IN SUNDAY'S CHARLOTTE OBSERVER.

Speaking of names, they are an interesting study. Who hasn't looked at a curious name and wondered how the individual or locality came by it? There is in Burke county a postoffice of the name of Worry. Col. W. S. Pearson, of Morganton, happened in the course of conversation with a friend one day, to mention it. It at once attracted the attention of the friend, who asked how in the world a postoffice ever happened to get aloft with that sort of a name. "Well, it was this way," said the brilliant Pearson—ah! what a charming talker he is! "The people of the neighborhood wanted a postoffice. All the forms were compiled with, the office granted, postmaster agreed on, name of the office settled and sent on to Washington. It was rejected because too much like the name of another postoffice in the State. Another and another was sent and all turned down for one reason or another until it began to look like the new postoffice was about to fall through for want of a name. Finally one day the postmaster who was to be, said to the neighbors, 'See here, we've bothered and bothered about this thing long enough and now let's name it Worry.' This was agreed to, the name sent on and accepted, and Worry is the name of the postoffice to this day."

NOT RESPONSIBLE.

Mr. Pallane—If you don't refund the money I paid for these photographs I'll sue you. They make me look simply hideous.

Photographer—Yes, sir, they do. But I advise you to carry your complaint to a higher tribunal than any on this earth.

VENTILATION,—not the politician's sort, but the fresh air you need. Health and comfort often suffer for this kind of ventilation. Never sleep in a poorly ventilated room. You'll wake up unrefreshed, out of sorts, and bilious. Perhaps you can't improve the ventilation, but you can take Simmons Liver Regulator for that torpid liver, to keep it active against the ill effects of a close atmosphere which causes that languid feeling.

NO HARM IN TRYING.

AN EXPERIMENT THAT WILL PROVE INTERESTING IF IT SUCCEEDS.

Close up your ears with some non-conductor of sound (a little cotton will do), place a bandage over your eyes, draw it back over your ear and tie it back of your head in such a way as to completely shut off your eyesight and hearing. Then with your left hand take a firm hold of the right hand of someone willing to help you in making the experiment, and also grasp his left hand with your right. Ask your assistant to read slowly some line unknown to you. Your assistant should read the line without uttering the words; that is, he should read them in his mind with his mouth closed. While your assistant is reading you must calm yourself as much as possible and place yourself in a sort of state of expectancy, looking for thoughts to come to you rather than try to think. If you follow the directions carefully the words of the lines will appear before you as distinctly as though you were actually looking with your own eyes, and you can repeat them as readily as you could if your eyes were not bandaged.

If you fail on first attempt it will be because you are skeptical and fail to concentrate your mind properly. If you fail after repeated efforts on successive days get two round pieces of zinc the size of a half dollar and place between them a silver half dollar and rivet the three pieces together with a copper rivet. Place one of these magnets in the palm of each hand when you take the hand of your assistant. If you still fail, place the magnet on your forehead close between the eyes and have your assistant hold it with the palm of his left hand and you hold the other on his forehead with the palm of your left in the same manner, and again have the assistant recite the line as before. It may require a little patience, but you will surely succeed. The magnet is only intended to help reduce your will to subjection. To show the power of the magnet place it on your tongue, close your mouth and eyes, and click the magnet against your teeth and you will see a flash of light.

The greatest difficulty you will have to overcome is that you feel that you are acknowledging yourself a fool to even try the experiment, and that feeling keeps you from being in earnest—a thing necessary to success in any walk of life. If you once succeed you will have no further trouble in the matter. It will require only practice. Continue by holding one hand, then by placing your hands on a table near your assistant, then connect yourself by a silk cord at considerable distance apart, but when you want to disconnect yourself entirely and send messages, you will, perhaps, need to have further instructions. Any person can do it. There is no extraordinary power of mind required. There is nothing supernatural about it any more than it is supernatural to see or hear. Young ladies and young men can spend very enjoyable and profitable evenings by congregating together, and experimenting on this theory.—Oregonian.

It isn't in the ordinary way that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription comes to the weak and suffering woman who needs it. It's guaranteed. Not with words merely; any medicine can make claims and promises. What is done with the "Favorite Prescription" is this: if it fails to benefit or cure, in any case, your money is returned. Can you ask any better proof that a medicine will do what it promises?

It's an invigorating, restorative tonic, a soothing and strengthening nerve, and a certain remedy for the ills and ailments that beset a woman. In "female complaints" of every kind, periodical pains, internal inflammation or ulceration, bearing down sensations, and all chronic weakness and irregularities, it is a positive and complete cure.

To every tired, overworked woman, and to every weak nervous, and ailing one, it is guaranteed to bring health and strength.

Good old times will come again if you will buy your groceries of S. Meyer, Enfield.

TOBACCO HABIT EASILY CURED.

A FEW Testimonials from persons who have been cured by the use of Hill's Tablets.

THE OHIO CHEMICAL CO.:
DEAR SIR:—I have been using your cure for tobacco habit, and found it would do what you claim for it. I used ten cents worth of the strongest chewing tobacco a day, and from one to five cigars; or I would smoke from ten to forty pipes of tobacco. Have chewed and smoked for twenty-five years, and two packages of your Tablets cured me so I have no desire for it.
B. M. JAYLORD, Lealie, Mich.

DORIS FERRY, N. Y.:
DEAR SIR:—Some time ago I sent for $1.00 worth of your Tablets for Tobacco Habit. I received them all right and, although I was both a heavy smoker and chewer, they did the work in less than three days. I am cured. Truly yours, MATHEW JOHNSON, P. O. Box 45, PITTSBURGH, PA.

THE OHIO CHEMICAL CO.—GENTLEMEN:—It gives me pleasure to speak a word of praise for your Tablets. My son was strongly addicted to the use of liquor, and through a friend, I was led to try your Tablets. He was a heavy and constant drinker, but after using your Tablets but three days he quit drinking, and will not touch liquor of any kind. I have waited four months before writing you, in order to know the cure was permanent. Yours truly, MRS. HELEN MORRISON, CINCINNATI, OHIO.

THE OHIO CHEMICAL CO.—GENTLEMEN:—Your Tablets have performed a miracle in my case. I have used morphine, hypodermically, for several years, and have been cured by the use of two packages of your Tablets, and without any effort on my part.
W. L. LOEGAY.

A POWERFUL EDITOR.

HE WRITES AN OBITUARY AND THEN BLUSHES OVER IT.

A writing editor of a certain Cleveland newspaper is a man who is ordinarily as impervious to compliments as a stone wall is to bird shot. The other day, however, he was forced to blush at praise, says the Detroit Free Press.

A well known man in that town had by some means been reported dead, and the editor, having known him well, set about preparing an obituary editorial worthy of the occasion. When it was all done and he had a proof of it before him, in walked the man himself.

The editor was surprised.

"I just heard," said the visitor, "that a rumor was abroad to the effect that I had gone over, and I came in to prove to you that it was not correct."

"We heard about it," said the editor, "and I just fixed you up a little something here as a token of our esteem," and he handed over the proof.

The man read it through carefully and with evident gratification.

"By Jove, old fellow," he said fervently, taking the editor's hand, "after reading that editorial I'm almost sorry the rumor isn't true!"

Then the editor blushed.

A COOL CORNER.

As mentioned in the Observer of Thursday, Mr. Zeb Vance Waiser, of Lexington, was in Charlotte Wednesday. The fact suggests an incident. Several years ago, before Senator Vance joined the church, he was on a train on the North Carolina railroad on his way to Washington. His Republican namesake got aboard at Lexington, on his way to Raleigh. The greeting between the two was cordial. Mr. Waiser was quite complimentary to the Senator and expressed himself as glad that, though a Republican, he was named for him. As they parted at Greensboro Waiser bade farewell to the Senator who shook his hand warmly, saying: "Goodbye, Waiser, old fellow, goodbye; I hope you'll get a cool corner in hell.—Charlotte Observer.

August A. Klages, 810 St. Charles street, Baltimore, Md., writes: "From my youth I suffered from a poisonous taint in my blood. My face and body was continually affected with eruptions and sores. I am now 42 years of age and had been treated both in Germany and America, but no remedy overcame the trouble until I used Botanic Blood Balm. I have used about twenty bottles and now my skin is clear, smooth and healthy, and I consider the poison permanently driven from my blood. I endorse it as the best blood remedy."

AIN'T IT PLEASANT?

Ain't it er pleasing feeling to be sitting neath the trees
Where aint' nothing that can touch you save the breathing of the breeze
And the brook with rippling laughter is er running at yer feet,
And you've got a girl beside you and you're talking to her sweet,
Then you slip yer arm aroun' her and you kiss her on the cheek
And she blushes kinder modest like and looks so awful meek
That you feel like you been er stealing or er doing something wrong,
But it's er awful nice sensation like the music in er song.

Then you tell her that you love her and you always will do so
Till her blushes look like roses that's er blooming in the snow.
Gosh, you city fellers, with yer collers stiff and grand,
Er wearing er patent necktie what you call er four-in-hand,
You ain't got no appreciation of the pleasures of this life
'Cause you don't go in a proper way er winning of yer wife;
Fer my part just set me down beneath the shady trees
Where I can smell the fragrance of the flowers on the breeze,
And put er girl beside me with er pair of liquid eyes
And then you couldn't make me swap fer er pew in paradise.

A TRUE HERO.

"Talk about your men who led charges and distinguished themselves for bravery on the battlefields of the war, there goes a man down the street who tops them all for bravery."

"Indeed! who and what is he?"

"He is an umpire who is engaged for the present base ball season."

When you speak or even think of spring medicine, how quickly Hood's Sarsaparilla comes into your mind. Take it now.

WILLING TO MAKE AMENDS

Angry candidate—In your paper this morning, sir, you say I "seem to have learned a small amount of sense in the last five or six years." I look upon that as an intentional insult, sir, and I won't stand it.

Editor—All right, sir. We'll say tomorrow morning that you don't seem to have learned a small amount of sense in the last five or six years. Good morning!
