

THE LOVE CHASE.

Though oft I passed her on the street,
I seldom seem to catch her eye;
Sho rarely lets our glances meet,
Although she knows I'm passing by.
But though to me she does not speak,
Nor give a look my heart to cheer,
The furtive blush upon her cheek
Tells me she knows that I am near.

'Tis true she's full of girlish art,
A trait that's common to her sex,
But she is no coquette at heart,
Though oft her tricks my mind perplex.
I know she's partial to the rose,
I've sent her some, both red and yellow,
Yet out upon the street she goes,
With violets from some other fellow.

And still this love chase I pursue,
Twixt hope and fear continue wooing;
One day o'erjoyed, the next so blue
I scarcely know what I am doing.
But one thought I take comfort in,
And gloomy doubt gives place to rap-
ture;
The harder she may be to win,
The dearer yet will be the capture.

TRUE MARRIAGE.

A happy wedlock is a long falling in love. I know young persons, says Theodore Parker, thinks love belongs only to the brown hair and plump, round crimson cheek. So it does for its beginning, just as Mount Washington begins at Boston Bay. But the golden marriage is a part of love which the bridal day knows nothing of. Youth is the tassel and silken flower of love; age is the full corn, ripe and solid in the ear. Beautiful is the morning of love with its prophetic crimson, violet, saffron, purple and gold, with its hopes of days that are to come. Beautiful also is the evening of love, with its glad remembrance and its rainbow side turned towards Heaven as well as earth.

August A. Klages, 810 St. Charles street, Baltimore, Md., writes: "From my youth I suffered from a poisonous taint in my blood. My face and body was continually affected with eruptions and sores. I am now 42 years of age and had been treated both in Germany and America, but no remedy overcame the trouble until I used Botanic Blood Balm. I have used about twenty bottles and now my skin is clear, smooth and healthy, and I consider the poison permanently driven from my blood. I endorse it as the best blood remedy."

Some parents take their children to see the procession, and then whip them if they want to go to the circus.

THE BLACK MAN'S MOLE.

A darkey in great trouble approached Dr. Prather yesterday, stating that a mole on the back of his neck was paining him and asked him if he could remove it. The doctor examined it and told him that he could do so and without any pain. The darkey was fearful of bleeding to death and cautioned the doctor that if he killed him he would come back to see him and give him no rest. He was assured speedy relief from suffering, he said go ahead. Dr. Prather got out his lance and the negro shook all over. The doctor took a firm hold on the mole and giving it a quick jerk threw a big dog tick on the ground which started to crawl off but was killed. The doctor knew what it was all the time.—Greensboro Record.

TRUMPET CALLS.

RAM'S HORN SOUNDS A WARNING NOTE
TO THE UNREDEEMED.

The troubles of today alone never kuis.
Temperance is a bride who makes her husband rich.

Goodness is contagious when it comes
close enough to touch.

The man who believes that God loves
him will respect himself.

When sin hides it forgets that it cannot cover up its tracks.

Sinners never feel comfortable where they are not in the majority.

Every Christian's walk ought to have
as many italics in it as his talk.

For which do you work the hardest in your church—a revival or a festival?

No one can become a follower of Christ
without also becoming a leader.

Truth never builds on the sand, no matter how much like rock it may look.

It is as hard for God to bless a stingy
man as it is for rain to fall on a desert.

No Christian has any business to have any business that is not God's business.

Believing the devil makes us like him,
but believing Christ saves us from him.

God is disappointed if all the noise we make for Him is done with the mouth.

Christ must be our Master in all things,
or he cannot be our Guide in anything.

There are not many whom God can trust to know the real meaning of their work.

One of the first things a backslider
does is to pray for the Lord to give him
more work.

The more we know about the goodness of God, the wider the windows of Heaven open.

When we pray for strength to resist temptation, avoid it by keeping out of bad company.

Before God will do much for us He wants to see that we are willing to do something for ourselves.

When the devil goes fishing he baits
for hearts, not heads. Too many preachers do just the opposite.

One taste of living water will make a man dissatisfied forever with the great stuff in the devil's ponds.

The Lord wants us to be witnesses,
but about half the people in prayer meeting undertake to be advocates.

Every Christian is called to be a preacher of some kind, but only a small percentage are sent into the pulpit.

THE LITTLE COMMA.

The New England "Grocer" cites case where a single comma cost the United States government a large sum.
It occurred in the course of some tariff legislation twenty years or more ago.

"Among the many articles specified (says the Grocer) were "all foreign fruit plants," etc., meaning plants imported for transplanting, propagation or experiment.
The enrolling clerk, in copying the bill accidentally changed the hyphen in the compound word "fruit-plants," to a comma, making it read, "all foreign fruit plants, etc." Then consequence was that for a year—until Congress could remedy
the blunder—all oranges, lemons, bananas, grapes and other foreign fruits were admitted free of duty. This little mistake which the most careful man might easily have made, cost the government about $2,000,000."
