IT NEEDS NO CHAMPION.

The Kiss Having Survived Centuries of Abuse. Can't Be So

(From the Chicago Inter Ocean.) The Rev. Elmer L. Williams, pastor of the Grace Methodist Episcopal Church, championed the cause of the kiss in a sermon at the Desplaines camp meeting last

The speaker's intentions were no doubt good. But he was doing a bootless thing in defending the kiss-almost as bootless a thing as attacking it.

The plain experience is that neither attack nor defense has any 1 know the road is rocky, apparent effect on the kiss. It is vived through the ages maintaining its popularity in the face of every discouragement.

The "blue law" persons have preached against the kiss, the police have warned against it, and last of all science has endeavored to show that it is a menace to the life and happiness of the world. But it has withstood them all, an article in a medical journal de- Has now no power to stay; tading the horrors that may follow. But just keep a-plodding onward in the train of a single kiss. He then goes placidly home and kisses his wife, just as if that article had never been written.

The mother reads in a ten-cent magazine or some other publication that deals in popularized science about the dangers that lurk in simple kissing. At that moment the baby cries. Whereupon she kisses him to keep him quiet and finishes the article with much complacency.

The young man reads a Sunday supplement about the 18,000,000,-000 microbes that lurk in every kiss, several of the microbes being greatly and terrifyingly enlarged. And he goes right down to his best girl's house and if he doesn't kiss her it is not because of the microbes.

When one considers how long the kiss has lasted, how easily it rises above anacks from all quarters, it is impossible to resist the idea that there is merit in it; that it somehow subserves a useful purpose; that it answers to some imperious demand of human nature which will not be reasoned with.

If science would attack it in the truly scientific fashion, it should first discover the mysterious demand it answers to. That known, and otherwise supplied, the kiss might fall a ready victim to attack.

BOTH GROWERS AND BUYERS ENTHUSIASTIC OVER The Benthall Peanut Picker

Peanut growers and buyers alike declare the Benthall Peanut Picker the only absolutely satisfactory picker made.

Growers do the work of forty men with one machine, and more than double their profits. It picks Spanish or Virgima varieties with equal satisfaction. It picks while the times are in a condition for saving, thus giving a crop as good as affalfa. Buyers declare Benthall picked nots clearer and much more desirable than hand picked nots.
