POINTED WAY TO SALVATION.

Preacher's Advice Was All Right But His Friend Also Had Something Wise to Say.

Senator Samuel A. Eitelson, speaking recently at a banquet, told the following:

"A colored preacher stood up on a Sunday and said, 'My text this morning, brothers and sisters, am 'What shall I do to be saved?' To me there seems only one way to be saved, and that am to quit this 'ere extravagant living. Back to the simple life, says I. There am to be no chance for you to be saved so long as you keep up this high living. If there is anything that is going to kill our race it is these 'ere luxuries. Better go hungry and cold like the wolf. Go out and face the rains and fight the storms. Go wade like the crane. You will grow rugged and you will grow tough, but you'll walk like a man. Yes, sir, that am de way to salvation, that am de way to get saved."

"Just then a tall colored man, rising from his pew in the rear of the church interrupted the preacher, shouting: 'This am no way to be saved. You just jump right through that back window and run just as fast as your legs will carry you, for the county sheriff am here with a warrant for your arrest for stealing them chickens from Massa Martins' coop last Friday night.'—Chicago Times-Herald.

HEREDITY.

She—Sometimes you appear really manly and sometimes you are effeminate. How do you account for it?

He—I suppose it is heredity. Half of my ancestors were men and the other half women!—Tit-Bits.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA POOR GIRL.

"How long have you been married?"

"It will be six months next Thursday."

"And do you still regard your husband as the most wonderful man who ever was born?"

Then the poor girl broke down, says the San Francisco Star, and sobbed piteously. When she could trust her herself to speak again she said:

"No. Charles has disappointed me terribly. I'm afraid I have wre-wrecked my li-life. Last night when I asked him to get up and see if there wasn't a burglar in our room he bumped his nose against the edge of the open door and he said three simply awful words just as if they came natural with him."

Escaped After Fifteen Years
W. P. Broyles made a successful escape after fifteen years of suffering from kidney and bladder troubles. Foley Kidney Pills released him and will do just the same for others. He says: "They cured a most severe backache with painful bladder irregularities, and they do all you claim for them." Refuse substitutes.—Adv.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure

[From a series of elaborate chemical tests.]

Comparative digestibility of food made with different baking powders.

An equal quantity of bread (biscuit) was made with each of two kinds of baking powder—cream of tartar and alum—and submitted separately to the action of the digestive fluid, each for the same length of time.

The percentage of the food digested is shown as follows:

Bread made with Royal Cream of Tartar Powder:

99 Per Cent. Digested

Bread made with alum powder:

67 Per Cent. Digested

Royal Baking Powder raised food is shown to be of greatly superior digestibility and healthfulness.

THE DIFFERENCE.

When a pusson has got money, go where'er he may, It is: "Howdy, Mister Johnsing, won't you step dis way? Come right up an' jine de party, have a good cigar. And a little lobstah an' a auto car." Other times he may be achin' fo' a meal and smoke, But he never gits invited when he's clean dead broke.

When a pusson's got a bank roll dar would choke a hoss, All the people touch dey hats an' holler: "Howdy, boss." He kin drink an' play de races an' shoot craps a lot, An' de people merely murmur: "Dat's a way he's got." But dey won't stan' it a minute fum a cheap skate make, For dey always got a hammah fo' de guy what's broke.

Now, if fo' a watahmillion should a pore man pine, An' should go an' lift it gently from de rich man's vine, He'd git ninety days in prison or perhaps a year, Now de rich man steals a million as a financier, An' de folks dey make a hero of de old rich bloke; But it's different wid de pusson who am clean dead broke.

Now dere am a good time comin' fo' de ten-cent guys, An' de rich folks dey will learn it wid a deep surprise, If dey chance to go to Glory, dey'll see pore folks there, All a-playin' harps an' wearin' of de crown so rare, An' de rich kaint' buy no better ones fo' here's de joke, When it comes to flashin' money de'll be all dead broke.

MATTER OF JUSTICE.

Where shall justice begin, with those who have power or with those who suffer wrong? If exact and ideal justice were done, the weak would make an effort to give to the strong all that is their due, and the strong would try to put their affairs in order so that no just cause of complaint should exist anywhere. The unhappy element in the relations of the strong and the weak is that both are thinking too much about exacting justice and not enough about doing that which is just and right. "Pay what thou owest" is the cry most often heard. "Give me that which is my due, then I will pay you what I owe."—The Christian Register.

HIS EFFORT.

"Now, Johnny," said the teacher, "you may try your hand at writing a short story." A few minutes later Johnny handed up his slate on which was written, "Us boys all loves our teacher."—Harper's Bazar.

SOLELY'S ORINO LAXATIVE

FOR STOMACH TROUBLE AND CONSTIPATION

HIDDEN LOVE.

You Would Be Very Happy If You Only Knew How Much You Are Loved.

It is not love, who is blind, it is you. Today, as you passed in and out among your fellow creatures, a thousand and one little thoughts of love darted at you, and felt stunted at the armor of your unbelief.

For most of love's impulses fly in the dark. Love shivers at exposure by a word or act, even by a smile or a lighted eye. He likes to shoot his arrows from the narrow peep holes of the dark heart.

He is a born ambusher. He will not fight in battle array, and loathes trumpet and drum; his is a guerilla warfare.

It is curious how we go about always on the defensive. I know a woman who is really very adorable, but she is always bristling with bayonets to repel any who would penetrate into the secret treasures of her soul. It is not strange that the more keenly alive the soul is to the thrill and marvel of affection, the more it seems to clothe itself in steel against it.

If we only knew the inner written pages of all hearts what a world of tenderness and beauty would be revealed!

If all the honest love thoughts should be said, or, better, sung, what music, surpassing the strains of Isolde, would play above the swarm of human creatures!

It is such music the angels, and the blessed dead who hover around us, hear, and so think better of us than we do of ourselves.

I cannot help thinking Thersytes and Diogenes, and all the dog-pack of cynics and pessimists who rail at the human race and invent gall, philosophies, are really, inwardly and sheepishly passionate lovers, whose modesty it is that has grown to a pitiful rage; and their cursings and snarlings are nothing but incoherent hunger-cries of love. Doubtless in the next world they shall be stripped of shield, buckler and visored helmet, and we shall see 'face to face, and know even as also we are known.'

The one damning unfaith here below is the doubt of love. It means hell.

Why do we suspect so much, doubt so much, and think it's such a calamity to be deceived? A saying of Spurgeon was: "He that believes too easily may be bitten, but he that believes not at all shall be devoured."

FAVORED A FAIR TRIAL.

The late Wilbur Sanders, of Montana, once United States Senator from that State, rode into a Montana mining town one afternoon and found the entire population about to lynch a man who had been stealing ore.

Sanders pushed his way into the crowd. "Stop this!" he thundered. "Stop this! I protest! There has been too much of this sort of thing in Montana. We must break up the habit we have of hanging men without a trial by law. You must not hang him now. Let us give him a fair and impartial trial as prescribed by law, and then hang him!"—San Francisco Chronicle.

DRY HUMOR.

The Governor of Maine was at the school, and was telling the pupils what the people of different States were called.

"Now," he said, "the people from Indiana are called 'Hoosiers'; the people from North Carolina 'Tar Heels'; the people from Michigan we know as 'Michiganders.' Now what little boy or girl can tell me what the people of Maine are called?"

"I know," said a little girl. "Well, what are we called?" asked the Governor.

"Maniacs."

A woman is more afraid of a bird seeing her half dressed at home than a dozen men seeing her one-quarter dressed in a sleeping car.

Relieves Neuralgia

Sloan's Liniment gives instant relief from neuralgia or sciatica. It goes straight to the painful part—soothes the nerves and stops the pain. Don't rub—it penetrates.

PROOF
Mrs. Rebecca Nisner, Oconto, Wis., writes: "I have used Sloan's Liniment for toothache and neuralgia in the head where nothing else would help me and I would not be without the Liniment in the house."

SLOAN'S LINIMENT

is also good for rheumatism, sore throat, chest pains and sprains.

Pain All Gone
Mrs. C. M. Downer, of Johannesburg, Mich., writes: "I wish to say your Liniment is the best medicine in the world. It has cured me of neuralgia. These pills have all gone and I can truly say your Liniment did cure me."

Pain All Gone
Mrs. J. B. Stevens, of 217 So. 12th St., Louisville, Ky., writes: "I suffered with quite a severe neuralgia headache for four months without any relief. I used your Liniment for two or three nights and haven't suffered since. I have found Sloan's Liniment to be the best Liniment on the market today. I can recommend it for what it did for me."

TRUTHFUL SAYINGS

According to Uncle Abner.

The things that a feller likes to eat and drink ain't good for him, and, anyhow, they cost too much.

When a man wears good clothes it's a cinch that somebody has to work for them, either himself or his wife.

If all the young gentlemen who hang around the pool rooms would go to work this life would be a lot easier for the rest of us.

I never saw a postmaster who was against the government—at least, not until he got out of office.

Ame Hillike's nose is so red that it sings his mustache. Ame was brought up in a drugstore county.

A feller who thinks that the horse is down and out ought to go and try to buy one.

After a feller has learned to run a furnace, nothing like an automobile or a locomotive gives him the least trouble.

You can't always judge the neighbor by the clothes that hang out on the line.

No feller kin be classed as among the truly rich until he has been called to testify before the campaign fund investigating committee.

It is a darn sight easier to run an automobile than it is to buy one.

Luke Higgins has got the best automobile in the world, but he is willing to sell it at a sacrifice, as he wants to get a better one.

CHANGED.

When my two girls were born I used to wonder what I was going to make of them.

"And now?"

"Now they're grown up and in society, I've begun wondering what they're going to make of me."—Detroit Free Press.

MOTHER'S PRIVILEGE.

"Don't talk back to your pa!"

"Aw, gee whizz, ma, you want all the fun there is in this house."—Detroit Free Press.

AFTER THE HONEYMOON.

NATURAL RESULTS.

"Why are you so miserable?"

"Been joy-riding."

It takes almost as much nerve to succeed as it does to explain why you didn't.

Some people seem to live a long time just to spite other people.
