HOW TO COMPEL LOVE FROM THE MERE MAN.

Can a woman make a man love her? Yes, often she can if she lays herself out to do it. The most important point is that she must not know it. The world's history gives us many instances of the love-compelling power of even unattractive women. To compel love a woman must sympathize with a man.

She must not often contradict him. She must not flatter him, and let him think that she thinks he is the only one that matters. She must put him into good concert with himself. She must exert her powers of charm and never bore him. She must be bright and amusing in his presence. She must see a good deal of him, for absence generally makes the heart grow fonder of some one else!

HEALTH RULES.

How to Keep Well as the Japanese Do in Their Country.

The following rules for the general guidance of the people in health matters have been printed and widely distributed by the Japanese government:

First—Spend as much time out of doors as possible. Bask much in the sun and take plenty of exercise. Take care that your respiration is always deep and regular.

Second—As regards meals eat meat only once a day, and let the diet be eggs, cereals and vegetables, fruits and fresh cow's milk. Take the last named as much as possible. Masticate your food carefully.

Third—Take a hot bath every day and a steam bath once or twice a week if the heart is strong enough to bear it.

Fourth—Early to bed and early to rise.

Fifth—Sleep in a very dark and very quiet room, with windows open. Let the minimum of sleeping hours be six or six and one-half hours. In case of woman eight and one-half hours is advised.

Sixth—Take one day of absolute rest each week in which you must refrain from even reading or writing.

Seventh—Try to avoid any outbursts of passion and strong mental stimulations. Do not tax your brain at the occurrence of inevitable incidents or of coming events. Do not say unpleasant things nor listen. If possible to avoid it, do not do things.

Eighth—Be married! Widows and widowers should be married with the least possible delay.

Ninth—Be moderate in the consumption of even tea and coffee, not to say tobacco and alcoholic beverages.

Tenth—Avoid places that are too warm, especially steam heated and badly ventilated rooms.

IF AT FIRST YOU DON'T.

Little Florence had been naughty, and when she was about to retire her mother said: "Now, Florence, you must kneel down and ask the Lord to forgive you for being naughty."

"Please," began Florence, "forgive me for being a naughty girl, and if at first you don't succeed, try, try again."

HOW MRS. BROWN SUFFERED

During Change of Life—How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Made Her a Well Woman.

Iola, Kansas.—"During the Change of Life I was sick for two years. Before I took your medicine I could not bear the weight of my clothes and was bloated very badly. I doctored with three doctors but they did me no good. They said nature must have its way. My sister advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I purchased a bottle. Before it was gone the bloating left me and I was not so sore. I continued taking it until I had taken twelve bottles. Now I am stronger than I have been for years and can do all my work, even the washing. Your medicine is worth its weight in gold. I cannot praise it enough. If more women would take your medicine there would be more healthy women. You may use this letter for the good of others."—Mrs. D. H. Brown, 509 N. Walnut St., Iola, Kan.

Change of Life is one of the most critical periods of a woman's existence. Women everywhere should remember that there is no other remedy known to so successfully carry women through this trying period as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., (consulting) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

hot cakes, made with ROYAL Baking Powder are delicious, healthful and easily made.

THE OLD FIELD ROAD.

Don't you remember its winding over the stubble and turf, Its edges bordered with brambles and the scum of the windblown scurf! Don't you remember its jolting in the frost of an autumn morn When the harvesters gathered the fodder and you drove to the barn with the corn!

The old field road round the pastures,
The short-cut back from the wood,
And the musk of the blooms of the summer,
How spicy their balsam, and good!

Don't you recall all its beauty of briar and trailing vine,
In summer the wild roses and the smell of the muscadine;
The hoofs of the horses thudding on its surface so soft and deep,
And the dreams way off in the pastures as you followed the trail of the sheep!

The butterflies loved it as you did, and followed the horses along,
The mocking birds seemed to be happy at hailing the morn with their song

In the cedars and lindens close by it, and the robins and wrens, how they'd pipe

When the applebloom snowstorm was over and the oxheart cherries were ripe!

The old field road was so pleasant,
To horses, to man and to beast,
And it measured so much in its beauty
To the height and breadth of a feast!

Don't you remember in April how early amid all the gloom
The old honeysuckle beside it smiled suddenly forth in full bloom,
And the wild wistaria followed, and the buttercups cluttered the way
They came with their little bowls laden so full of the beauty of May!

The old field road, you remember,
What a path in the fall to the snares
Where you knew you would find the fat rabbits,
And you always forgot half your cares!

GETHESEMANE.

In golden youth, when seems the earth
A summer land for singing mirth,
When souls are glad and hearts are light
And not a shadow lurks in sight,
We do not know it, but there lies
Somewhere, veiled under evening skies,
A garden each must sometime see—
Gethsemane, Gethsemane—
Somewhere his own Gethsemane.

With joyous steps we go our ways,
Love lends a halo to the days,
Light sorrows sail like clouds, afar,
We laugh and say how strong we are,
We hurry on, and, hurrying, go
Close to the border land of woe
That waits for you and waits for me,
Gethsemane, Gethsemane—
Forever waits Gethsemane.

Down shadowy lanes, across strange streams,
Bridged over by our broken dreams
Behind the misty cape of years,
Close to the great salt font of tears
The garden lies; strive as you may
You cannot miss it in your way.
All paths that have been or shall be
Pass somewhere through Gethsemane.

All those who journey, soon or late
Must pass within the garden's gate;
Must kneel alone in darkness there
And battle with some fierce despair.
God pity those who say—
"Not mine, but Thine;" who only pray
"Let this cup pass," and cannot see
The purpose in Gethsemane.
Gethsemane, Gethsemane—
God help us through Gethsemane!

ALCOHOL.

CARE OF REAL LACE.

How to Clean These Rare Possessions Without Injury.

There are many women who possess among their treasures pieces of real lace which have become so soiled that they do not know what to do with them. Of course, a good many women like the brown color of old lace, thinking that it shows that it is real. Our great-grandmothers, who secured the idea of wearing imitations of any sort, would have been pretty astonished at hearing that real lace would not wash. It was washed in their day just as we would wash our imitations, but as they always took infinite pains with their clear starching and bleaching, no doubt the lace came in for some of this care.

Some old lace is in such a frail condition that it would be unwise to attempt to clean it at home, and it should be sent to a good lace cleaner who would understand how to do it. Still, there is much of this that will come through the safest quite safely. The best plan, if the lace is not too soiled, is to dry clean it. Do not use naphtha or any spirit, for though this is very good, it has a tendency to weaken the already frail threads. Instead, procure three ounces of powdered magnesia. Place in a warm oven until very dry. Leave the oven door open. Lay a clean white cloth on a table or flat surface, and spreading the lace flatly on this, sprinkle thickly with the dry powder. Fold the lace, tucking care that the magnesia has reached every part. Lay a sheet of white paper over and then fold the cloth up over all. Place under a weight or between two matresses and leave for five days. Then unfold and shake out the powder. The dirt will come away with it.

How to Clean Stairway.

To clean stairway or ornaments of white Parian marble put a small tubful of washing soda into a pail half full of tepid water. Soap yellow marble and should not be used. Scrub gently with a nail brush, after which rinse twice. Wipe dry with a clean towel. Be sure the ornaments are perfectly dry before they are put back in their places, for if not a moist ring at the base of each may injure the table or mantle on which they stand.

How to Warm Over Biscuits.

To warm over biscuits and have them as fresh as when first baked put them without wetting into the fender kettle of a double boiler. Have plenty of water in the outer boiler and let it boil for ten or fifteen minutes.

How to Clean Painted Walls.

Box and boiling hot water applied with a stiff brush having a handle to sooty painted walls will make them like new.

How to Wash Door Panel.

Very frequently lace door panels shrink after washing them, making it impossible to use them again. To prevent this follow these instructions: After removing the panel from the door thoroughly clean the glass. Wash and starch the lace, slip it in the rods immediately and replace the panel on the door. Care should be observed to pull the lace straight, tacking down the sides if necessary, to stretch the panel. Allow it to dry upon the door. This gives far better results than to laundress the panel in the usual manner.

How to Bake Gums on Stove Top.

If the oven is not hot and one wishes to bake gums, it may be convenient to know that they can be baked on top of the stove in an iron pan. When the pan becomes hot grease it well and pour in the gums. When they have puffed up slip a knife around the edge and lift lightly to see whether the gums are browning. If they are brown turn them and let them brown on the other side. Biscuits can be made in a similar fashion in the frying pan.
