MRS. JOHN MILLER HORTON

Mrs. John Miller Horton of Buffalo was defeated for the presidency of the Daughters of the American Revolution by Mrs. Story of New York on the third ballot.

IT IS HOME.

A Mighty Defense For a Young Man Is a Good Home.

Many young men standing among the most tremendous realities have their eyes half shut or entirely closed. A mighty defense for young man is a good home. Some of our readers look back with tender satisfaction to their early home. It may have been rude, rustic, hidden among the hills and architect or upholsterer never planned or adorned it. But all the fresco on princely walls never looked so enticing to you as those rough-hewn rafters. You can think of no park or arbor of trees planted on a fashionable country seat so attractive as the plain brook that ran in front of the old farm house and sang under the weeping willows. No barred gateway adorned with statue of bronze, and swung open by obsequious porter in full dress, has half the glory of the old swing gate. Many of you have a second dwelling place, your adopted home, but also is sacred forever. There you built the first family altar. There your children were born. All those trees you planted. That room is sacred, because once in it, over the hot pillow, flapped the wing of death. Under that roof you expect, when your work is done, to lie down and die. You try with many words to tell of excellency of the place, but you fail. There is only one word in the English language that can describe your feeling. It is "home."

TEMPTATION.

Representative Solomon Francis Prouty of the Seventeenth district of Illinois is the only man in the house of representatives who chews gum, and he chews it with a remarkable avidity. He took the gum habit after a conference of Iowa physicians had warned him that he must either stop smoking or fill a grave. They suggested chewing gum as a substitute for his Laid Nicotine. The only time he has smoked in ten years was on a hot day last summer while out campaigning. He stopped to talk with an old farmer who was puffing at a corn-cob pipe. The smoke got into Representative Prouty's nose, and as soon as he reached town he rushed into his office, grabbed his secretary by the arm, and almost shouted:

"For goodness sake dig out that pipe of yours and give me a puff! Lock the doors and keep every man out who looks like a doctor. I've got to smoke or bust!"

WHAT EVERY POLICEMAN IS LOOKING FOR

A slow beat,
A long measure,
The next bar,
A three quarter rest,
A good time,
And a full note.—Judge.

Nothing rattles a contrary man more than to have you agree with him.

THE FORECAST.

It may be that I dreamed a dream; it may be that I saw The forecast of a time to come, by some supernal law. It seemed to dwell in this same world, and in this modern time; Yet nowhere was there sight or sound of poverty or crown. All strife had ceased; men were disarmed; and quiet Peace had made A thousand avenues for toil, in place of War's grim trade. From east to west, from north to south, where highways smooth and broad Tied State to State, the waste lands bloomed like garden spots of God. There were no beggars in the street; there were no unemployed; For each man owned his plot of ground, and labored and enjoyed. Sweet children grew like garden flowers; all strong and fair to see; And when I marvelled at this sight, thus spoke a voice to me: "All Motherhood is now an art; the greatest art on earth; And nowhere is there known the crime of one unwelcome birth. From rights of parentage, the sick and sinful are debarred; For Matron Science keeps our house, and at the door stands guard. We know the cure for darkness lies in letting in the light; And Prisons are replaced by Schools, where wrong views change to right.

The wisdom, knowledge, study, thought, once bent on beast and soil, We give now to the human race, the highest work of God; And, as the gardener chooses seed, so we select with care; And as our Man Plant grows, we give him soil and sun and air. There are no slums; no homeless poor; all men are opulent; For Mother earth belongs to them, as was the First Intent." It may be that I dreamed a dream; it may be that I saw The forecast of a time to come, by some supernal law.

Ella Wheeler Wilcox, in Good Housekeeping.

THE SWEETEST TIME O' YEAR.

It's getting time o' year now when May swings into bloom, And all the peach and apple trees are reeking with perfume. A panoramic glory glides the morning in the east, With an iridescent glamor of a mighty sumptuous feast.

The blackbird in the hollow and the robin in the tree, Are shouting hallooahs up to heaven and to me; The forest trees are budding with a freshness rich and rare, And pronounce a benediction through the blossom-scented air.

The south wind in his rambles, searches every shady nook, And gathers sweetest perfume from the blossoms by the brook. The sun in gorgeous splendor smiles upon the sprouting grain; The flowers nodding to and fro are welcoming the rain.

I love to hear the droning of the husky bumble-bee, As he tumbles through the meadow in a muffled ecstasy. I love to hear the ripple of the bustling little rills, And the music of the breezes as they kiss the daffodils.

There is something that is pleasing ev'ry minute of the day, When May-time brings the blossoms out and flaunts her banners gay. All the glories of the seasons in a single bunch appear For the blossoming of nature is the sweetest time of year.

It's a part of my religion I would like to have you know, That a loving smile's an antidote for ev'ry human woe. It's a trite and useful saying and its secret I'll impart, When your thoughts are with the flowers there's no winter in the heart.

THE MAIN CUT.

"There is only one cut in meat which concerns me just now."
"What is it?"
"The way it has cut my acquaintance."

COULDN'T UNDERSTAND

"I can't understand how some things get their names," declared the grumpy boarder.
"For instance?"
"Take this strawberry shortcake. If they had called it shortberry strawcake I could have seen the point." —Chicago Record-Herald.

THE MODEL HUSBAND.

Women Need Love, Praise, Appreciation and Pleasure. As Much As Flowers Need The Sunlight

Much has been said and written about the model husband. A quarter of a century ago Ella Wheeler Wilcox penned her idea of a model husband and we doubt if they have ever been improved upon. "Ella" said if she were asked to define the meaning of a successful man, she would say a man who has made a happy home for his wife and children. No matter what he has done in the way of achieving wealth or honors, if he has done that he is a grand success. If he has not done that, and it is his own fault, though he be the highest in the land, he is a miserable failure.

I wonder how many men in the mad pursuit for gold which characterizes this age, realize that there is no fortune which can be left their families as precious as the memories of a happy home.

I heard a daughter say, with bitterness, one day: "I never knew a happy hour in my childhood. My father was so cross and severe. He crushed my mother's spirit and destroyed our youth. Nothing can ever recompense me for that." What a memory for a daughter to carry through life! I have known several men who were objects of terror to their families. Laughter ceased, mirth was silenced, callers intuitively took leave, when the master of the house approached. I wonder what such men can live for. I can imagine no honor that can compensate for the loss of those nearest to us.

I think more American men than women marry for love. Yet there are fewer good husbands than good wives, take the land over.

If you marry a beauty, and a belle, or a very popular young lady even, you no doubt felt highly elated over your conquest, and it was your intention to make her happy. But, perhaps, you did not realize that an extra exertion on your part would be necessary as time rolled on. Ardent lovers too often and too quickly become indifferent husbands; not indifferent in heart, maybe, but indifferent in action. The girl who has been sought and admired, and praised by a crowd of enamored swains during her single career, can help feeling heartaches and repinings if she is unnoticed or neglected as a wife. It will not do to let her take it for granted that you still care for her, or still admire her. You must tell her so sometimes—the oftener the better. It may seem foolishness to you, but it is often a matter of life and death import to a wife—a few fond, admiring words from a husband's lips. It will not cost you anything and it will make her happy. Praise her discretion, her good sense, and her dignity, and tell her that these qualities are dearer to you than her beauty, and mark my words, she will strive to deserve your praise with renewed ambition. If she does not, she will be very light weight indeed. See to it that no man pays your wife sweeter compliments or appreciates her beauty or worth more than you do.

Tell her that she is the best wife in the world, and that you are sure no one on earth could make you so happy as she has done. You will have had her wearing them, and never black one before putting the other on for a similar reason.

THE GOOD AND BEAUTIFUL.

To see the good and the beautiful and to have no strength to live it is only to be Moses on the mountain of Xebbo, with the land at your feet and no power to enter. It would be better not to see it.—Oliver Schreiner.

THE BIBLE.

Wonderful Book—Read It Slowly. Frequently and Prayerfully.

The book contains the mind of God, the state of man, the way of salvation, the doom of sinners, and happiness of believers. Its doctrine is holy, its precepts are binding, its histories are true, and its decisions are immutable. Read it to be wise, believe it safe, and practice it to be holy. It contains light to direct you, food to support you, and comfort to cheer you. It is the traveler's map, the pilgrim's staff, the pilot's compass, the soldier's sword, and the Christian's charter. Here heaven is opened, and the gates of hell disclosed. Christ is its grand subject, our good its design, and the glory of God its end. It should fill the heart, and guide the feet. Read it slowly, frequently, prayerfully. It is a mine of wealth, health to the soul, and a river of pleasure. It is given you here in this life, will be opened at the judgment, and is established forever. It involves the highest responsibility, will reward the greatest labor, and condemn all who trifle with its sacred contents.

SHOE SUPERSTITIONS

Never place a pair of new shoes higher than your head, says an old superstition, or you will have bad luck wearing them, and never black one before putting the other on for a similar reason.
