SOME ENGLISH.

A man who was indisputably a farmer, a farmer far out in the country, took his wife to Chicago for a visit.

"Now," said the farmer to his wife the first morning after they had arrived, "it makes a big impression on these hotel people if you telephone down to the head waiter what you want for breakfast and tell him to have it prepared on the table for you by the time you get down."

He did the telephoning, but the wife broke up the whole show in the dining room because he had ordered something which she did not like. Drawing herself up very erect, she exclaimed in a shrill, angry voice:

"Are these our breakfast?"—Popular Magazine.

BETTER PROSPECTS AHEAD.

Two tramps were crossing a bridge over a river one day, when they saw a notice which read: "Five dollars will be given to any one saving life from this bridge!"

"You jump in, Bill, and I'll come and rescue you," said one.

"Right-ho," said the other. "And then we can enjoy the quid."

Accordingly one of the tramps plunged into the river and began to yell lustily for help. Mike, safe on the bridge, turned to his friend struggling in the water and with an excited countenance, called out:

"Sorry, Bill, but I've just seen a notice that says $10 will be paid for a dead body."—Pearson's Magazine.

As actions speak louder than words, mutes make a lot of noise.

WORDS FROM HOME.

Statements That May Be Investigated.—Testimony of Weldon Citizens.

When a Weldon citizen comes to the front, telling his friends and neighbors of his experience, you can rely on his sincerity. The statements of people residing in far away place, do not command your confidence. Home endorsement is the kind that backs Doan's Kidney Pills. Such testimony is convincing. Below is a statement of a Weldon resident. No stronger proof of merit can be had.

J. T. D. Rawlings, Second St., Weldon, N. C., says: "You are welcome to use my name as a reference for the merit of Doan's Kidney Pills, as I have tested this remedy and found that it is reliable. I had backache and pains through my kidneys and was bothered by irregular passages of the kidney secretions. I finally got Doan's Kidney Pills at Cohen's Drug Store and it was not long before they gave me relief."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents FOSTER-MILBURN CO., New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

HANDSOME LINE NEW DRESS GOODS

Remember The Place A. L. STAINBACK, WELDON, N. C. "The Always Busy Store." CAR AND CART.

You've bought a car, Phil? Well, it's fine to skim the smooth asphalt. With not a hindrance in your path and not a single halt. The car seems like a winged bird, your joy is unrepressed. Unless, Phil, you're riding with the girl you loved the best.

Then staid old Dobbin and a cart seem suited to the case. For then she needs no auto veil to hide her darling face; Nor do you have to honk a horn that sounds so sore distressed; And you can drive with just one hand, and—ah, you know the rest!

Old Dobbin will jog-trot along, his gait both safe and sane, And it really doesn't matter much if you should drop your rein. But in the car you've got to steer, force breaks to do their part, And so you haven't time to tell the thing that's in your heart.

A car is splendid with a friend, no matter how it "woggles," But you can't "look love" at a girl when both are wearing goggles. Nor can you hold her little hand swathed in a dogskin glove. Oh, an auto isn't in it, Phil, when you are making love!

RUNNING A PAPER.

Jim Jones he was an editor that's what he tried to be. He bought himself a printin' press and started in to see Just what there was in editin', but when he'd canvassed round Some fifteen hundred editors in that same town, he found.

They all knew more about it than he could hope to know. They told him: "You must run her, Jones, and run her so and so. Be sure to boom the Baptists—they're sure to help you out. And give the good old Methodists a good salvation shout.

"Give every man a notice—be sure and let be known Whenever Major Jinks is seen perambulating 'town. Put in a few free locals for all the stores and give Away some free subscriptions if you wish your sheet to live."

Well, Jones, he did just what they said, for fear they'd make a row, But the more he tried to please 'em all, the more they told him how. Until at last he took his book and laid it on the shelf, Then ran the paper in the ground and followed it himself.

THE OTHER WORLD.

Pretty Girls a Plenty in Great Hereafter.

"Being dead is not as black as it is painted says a Philadelphia writer. There are as many good looking girls in the realm of the dead as the living. There are quite as many delightful people."

This statement, according to Henry I. Hotchner, theosophist, comes from the "bourne from whence no traveler returns." In a lecture in the rooms of the Philadelphia Theosophical Society Hotchner says this statement was made, through a psychic medium by a 19-year-old youth, who died several months ago.

His chief recreation in the "astral plane," the young man said, is flying through space at the rate of 10,000 miles a second. Some swim and some play tennis, if they like those sports on earth. But the young man in question, after trying the game on an earthly ground at the close of an earthly tournament, voted it a failure.

Of the transition from this to the other the spirit is said to have divulged: "Nine out of ten persons do not know they are dead. Every physical attribute has its counterpart in the astral plane. Of the last few days of my life I remember nothing. It was like a dream. When I awoke I was in familiar surroundings. Then I was greeted by a kindly voice. "None dies without someone to welcome him. Everyone is surprised to find those in this world ready for fun."

The lad told of seeking the side of his mother and sisters. Chief earthly congregating places of the spirits of the dead in great numbers are about organs in churches and in meetings, where men are trying "to pierce the veil which separates them from the other world." So the medium says.

SHE CAME "IN TWO."

A lady with a wasp-like waist fainted in the street one day, and was carried into the nearest drug-store. An Irishman who had observed the occurrence looked into the store after a few minutes and inquired: "How is she?" "Oh," said the druggist, "she is coming to."

THE DOG WASN'T DEAD.

Olive and Gerald while out walking met a vicious bulldog, and Gerald's conduct in the next few moments left much to be desired. When they had safely passed, Olive turned to Gerald and said reproachfully: "Why, Gerald! And you said you would face death for me."

NOT TOO SIGNIFICANT.

The Irishman had had a serious accident and had been hustled off to the hospital to be operated upon. As he lay upon the bed he beckoned to the nurse and said weakly: "I'll not be operated upon by that doctor. Ye must find another one."

"Why?" remonstrated the nurse. "He's one of the cleverest surgeons living."

BOTH RELATED TO THE DOG.

A person entered an inn with a dog and an Irishman asked what breed it was. The owner looked the questioner insolently up and down, and then replied, with a drawl: "It is a cross between an ape and an Irishman."

55 OUT OF 150 BRIDES HAVE HAD DIVORCES

Terre Haute, Ind.—Forty-seven of the 150 marriage licenses issued since August 20 were to men who had been married once; four were to men who had been married twice and one three times. Of the women, forty-eight had been married once and thirteen twice. Of the men, twenty-three had been through the divorce court, as had fifty-five of the women.

LOSES ON FOUR ACES AND HE GOES INSANE

Botineau, N. D.—Four aces dealt to him in a poker game at Minot, when he was the victim of a trio of sharps, is believed responsible for the insanity of John A. Hahn, jailed when his condition became violent.

When Hahn received the four-ace hand he bet his pile, $19, and lost to a straight flush.

TOO LAZY TO BREATHE PUZZLING MAN DIES.

Jerseyville, Ill.—James J. Muncray, the laziest man in Illinois, is dead. His death ended fifteen years of complete rest. During that length of time he refused to leave his bed even for meals or to be shaved. Doctors, some of them eminent specialists from various parts of the country, could find no trace of a physical or a mental disability or illness. No reason could be found for death.

His family physician said that apparently he decided not to exert himself to breathe.

Matrimony is a bargain—and somebody gets the short end of every bargain.

A Delightful Profession for Young Women

HERE is no occupation for a young woman that is more pleasant or congenial, more suited to her ability and nature, none that can give her more personal satisfaction, and if she be a thoroughly trained professional none that offers bigger rewards than that of music teaching. The supply of competent teachers of piano music is far short of the demand.

Has your daughter ever given this matter a thought; have you ever spoken to her about (some day becoming a teacher of music?) if so—buy her a
