NOT OBLIGED TO MARRY.

Why Do Many Women Elect To Walk Through Life Alone.

An observant man who has studied the woman question from the economic as well as from the social side, estimates that there are at present 8,924,056 marriageable women in the United States, or single women over 15 years of age. Of this large number, about 400,000 are public school teachers, and an army of stenographers and clerical workers is included in the list of the self-supporting.

It would be foolish to imagine that the great majority of single women in America could not marry if they wanted to do, comments the writer on these facts. Man proposes, but the woman dictates when he shall do so. Why do many women elect to walk through life alone, he asks, and proceeds to answer at length, as follows:

Doubtless the growth in democratic ideals, which has been steadily working among women since 1870, has had much to do with it. Women have ceased to be merely "the sex," they have become individuals.

Now a woman seeks fulfillment not only for her personal liking but for all the qualities of her varied personal life. She has not only racial, religious and social interests, but she has an intelligent attitude toward the whole in life; she has musical, dramatic or literary tastes; she is interested in social justice or in the vested interests of caste; she cares for travel or she desires a quiet home; and in a hundred other directions she is an individual. Such a complex individuality does not easily find its complement.

Every self-supporting girl must also be deeply impressed with the difference between her own economic position and that of her mother.

Now the girl has her own pay envelope, and in possessing it absolutely she holds the key to life as she desires it. It is not to be wondered at that a young woman in full possession of youth and health finds it difficult to give up a salary which, even if small, is absolutely her own, to accept a feudal relation to some man's salary, often not much larger than the one she has earned, knowing it must suffice for two and probably for more.

Another difficulty that confronts the young woman of today in her search for the altar is her superior interior intelligence.

This is especially true of the young woman who has risen intellectually and economically above her social class. The social emancipation of woman lags far behind her intellectual and economic freedom, so that these young women whom we are considering still move socially in their family planes. The men in that group are too ignorant and too poor to suit her; and the men with whom she works know her only as a stenographer, a teacher, or a journalist.

OUT OF MOUTHS OF BABES.

Little Edith had been to a picnic, and a sleeper miss was never put to bed. As her mother finished undressing her she said: "Mamma, I said my prayers at supper to save time."

Shortly after having one of her baby teeth pulled small Margie discovered a new one pushing through the gum.

"Why, mamma," she exclaimed, "my old tooth is sprouting again!"

Visitor—"Willie, which would you rather be, George Washington or your Sunday school teacher?"

Willie—"My Sunday school teacher."

Visitor—"Why?"

"Little Willie—"Cause he ain't dead yet."

How do we love an idle person who comes along and bothers us when we are busy.

A Message To Women

Those of Middle Age Especially.

When you have found no remedy for the horrors that oppress you during change of life, when through the long hours of the day it seems as though your back would break, when your head aches constantly, you are nervous, depressed and suffer from those dreadful bearing down pains, don't forget that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the safest and surest remedy, and has carried hundreds of women safely through this critical period.

Read what these three women say:

From Mrs. Hornung, Buffalo, N. Y.

BUFFALO, N. Y.—"I am writing to let you know how much your medicine has done for me. I failed, terribly during the last winter and summer and every one remarked about my appearance. I suffered from a female trouble and always had pains in my back, no appetite and at times was very weak."

"I was visiting at a friend's house one day and she thought I needed Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took it and have gained eight pounds, have a good appetite and am feeling better every day. Everybody is asking me what I am doing and I recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. You may publish this letter if you wish and I hope others who have the same complaint will see it and get health from your medicine as I did."—Mrs. A. HORSBURN, 91 Stanton St., Buffalo, N. Y.

Was A Blessing To This Woman.

So. RICHMOND, VA.—"I was troubled with a bearing down pain and a female weakness and could not stand long on my feet. Of all the medicines I took nothing helped me like Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I am now regular and am getting along fine. I cannot praise the Compound too much. It has been a blessing to me and I hope it will be to other women."—Mrs. D. TYLER, 23 West Clopton St., South Richmond, Va.

Pains in Side, Could Hardly Stand.

LOD, WIS.—"I was in a bad condition, suffering from a female trouble, and I had such pains in my sides I could hardly move. Before I had taken the whole of one bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I felt better, and now I am well and can do a good day's work. I tell everybody what your medicine has done for me."—Mrs. JOHN THOMPSON, LODI, WISCONSIN.

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No one sick with woman's ailments does justice to herself if she does not try this famous medicine made from roots and herbs. It has restored so many suffering women to health.

Write to LYDIA E. PINKHAM MEDICINE CO. (CONFIDENTIAL) LYNN, MASS., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

"Bob—this is SOME thirst-quencher"

Some thirst-quencher is right! The most tiring games are well worth the energy if followed by a cool glass of Pepsi-Cola.

Not only delicious and wholesome, but invigorating at all times—after contests of brain or brawn. And in the home it has the same appetizing and comfort-giving effects. You can get it at the fountain—or carbonated in bottles, at your grocer's.

The Hymns My Mother Used to Sing

"Way back in old New England in the days of long ago My memory often wonders as the seasons come and go; But the fondest recollections that my meditations bring Are the echoes of the old songs that mother used to sing.

We often sat together around the hearth, at night And mother told us stories of a land that's fair and bright; Then "Rock of Ages Cleft for Me" would echo on the air, And we would all join in and sing "There'll Be No Parting There."

There's lots of music in them as we sang them long ago, When mother's voice was clear and sweet, her accent soft and low; And when I hear those hymns today my spirit soars on high, "To Canaan's Fair and Happy Land Where My Possessions Lie."

They seem to tell a story of happy childhood days When roses strew our pathway in a dozen different ways, I like to hear them ringing, my memory often stands For "Greenland's Icy Mountains" and "India's Coral Strand."

There were not many singing-books, the meeting-house was small; The congregation was not large, it used to hold us all. We never had an instrument, no organ built for show; We only sang to "Praise the Lord, From Whom All Blessings Flow."

That's why I love the good old hymns my mother used to sing; They bring back recollections that nothing else can bring. While "Jesus, Lover of My Soul," will always make me sigh Till "I Can Read My Title Clear to Mansions in the Sky."

And when we leave this vale of tears for fairer lands on high We hope to meet in heaven above where pleasures never die; We will have an angel chorus that will make the heavens ring, And use the old-time music that my mother used to sing.

"HURRAH FOR DIXIE."

It Is Enough to Inspire an Old-Time Shout.

Dwellers in the Sunny South who know other lands better than their own will be interested in a list of some of the notable "first things" occurring in their native clime. The Nashville Christian Advocate tells us: "Mount Holyoke has the reputation of being the pioneer in the higher education of women, but the first woman's college in the whole world is in Georgia. Of scientists who rank above Audubon, LeComte and Maury? A Southern doctor first used chloroform. A Southern doctor founded the New York policlinic. A South Carolina doctor, Marion Sims, built the first woman's hospital. A Southern doctor (McGuire, of Virginia) first proposed that doctors be regarded as non-belligerents, free to serve the wounded on both sides, forerunner of the Red Cross doctor of today. Dr. Kinlock, of Charleston, in 1862, opened the abdomen of a Confederate soldier and remedied the trouble; the patient recovered. The account is buried in a medical history of the war and is seen only by an occasional student. Twenty-one years later the same operation was performed by a Swiss doctor, a few months later still by a New York doctor, and heralded to the world. The first sewing machine, cotton gin, and steamboat belong to the South. The first railroad was built in South Carolina. The first iron-clad battleship was a Southern invention and was first used by Confederates. The first submarine torpedo boat, and the first iron-clad batteries, floating and stationary, were built and used in defense of Charleston harbor."

All of which is enough to inspire an old-time shout—"Hurrah for Dixie!"—Everything.

A GOOD SHAMPOO.

To make a good shampoo boil castle soap shaved to a powder—about two heaping tablespoonsful—in a little water, putting in about two tablespoonfuls of washing soda.

For a Sprained Ankle.

If you will get a bottle of Chamberlain's Liniment and observe the directions given thereon faithfully, you will recover in much less time than is usually required.

CRUEL.

"Did you see the diamond engagement ring George gave me?" "Did I see it? I'm the first girl that wore it."—Philadelphia North America.

Is Sickness a Sin?

If not, it's wicked to neglect illness and means of relief. It's wicked to endure liver ills, headache, indigestion, constipation, when one dose of Po-Do-Lax gives relief. Po-Do-Lax is Podo-phyltin (May Apple), without the gripes. It arouses the liver, increases the flow of bile—Nature's antiseptic in the bowels. Your constipation and other ills disappear overnight because Po-Do-Lax has helped Nature to remove the cause. Get a bottle from your druggist today. Get rid of your constipation overnight.

FOR THE EYEBROWS.

The eyebrows are apt to grow shaggy or sparse with increasing years, but their bow shape might have been preserved indefinitely had their owner been careful to brush them daily with a soft tooth-brush kept for the purpose.

In this chest you have an excellent remedy for Toothache, Bruises, Sprains, Stiff Neck, Backache, Neuralgia, Rheumatism and for most emergencies. One 25c. bottle of Sloan's Liniment does it all! All druggists.

The one absolutely certain thing in life is its uncertainty.

Constipation Causes Most Ills.

Accumulated waste in your thirty feet of bowels causes absorption of poisons, leads to prostrating fevers, upset digestion. You belch gas, feel stuffy, irritable, almost cranky.
