MORNING AND EVENING.

By Ex-Governor Bob Taylor, of Tennessee.

"I saw the morning, with purple quiver and burnished bow, stand tip-toe on the horizon and shoot sunbeams at the vanishing darkness of night, then reach up and gather the stars and hide them in her bosom, and then bend down and tickle the slumbering world with swarms of light till it woke with laughter and with song. A thousand bugle-calls from rosy fires of the east heralded her coming; a thousand smiling meadows kissed her garments as she passed, and ten thousand laughing gardens unfurled their flower flags to greet her. The heart of the deep forest throbbled a tribute of bird-songs, and the bright waters rippled a melody of welcome. Young life and love, radiant with hope and sparkling with dew drops of exultant joy, came hand in hand, tripping and dancing in her shining train, and I wished that the heaven of the morning might last forever.

"I saw the evening hang her silver crescent on the sky and rival splendor of the dawn with the glory of the twilight. I saw her wrap the shadows around her, and with a lullaby on her lips, rock the weary world to rest; then I saw her with her dipper full of dew drops and her basket full of dreams, slip back to the horizon of the morning and steal the stars again. The gardens furl their flag flowers and the meadows fell asleep; the song of the forest fell into silence, and the melancholy water whispered a pensive good night to the drowsy birds and sleepy hollows. Life and love, with halo of parting day upon their brows and the starlight tingled in their hair walked arm in arm among the gathering shadows and wove all the sweet memories of the morning into their happy evening that it might never end.

"Thus life steals us from the dust. We wake to think and sleep to dream. We love, and laugh, and weep, and sing, and sigh, until death steals us back to dust again."

THESE WAR TIMES.

Little Johnny was doing sentinel duty, with his new rifle slung across his shoulder, when the irate lady next door bore down upon him.

"Did you break my window?" she demanded wrathfully, pointing to the damaged property.

"No, but I did," she said, pointing to the damaged property.

"No, but I did," she said, pointing to the damaged property.

"When it's 90 in the shade I drink Pepsi-Cola and keep cool."

When the sun rides high and the heat simmers up from the pavement, there's nothing you need more than a bracing glass of Pepsi-Cola.

Brings to heat worried mind and body—in the office or on the street—the refreshed, invigorated feeling that makes you complete the day's work with a dash.

Drop around the corner to the fountain with your nickel, or to the dealer in bottled Pepsi.

LOOK UP.

Look up, not down! The skies are overhead, Where still are shining sun and stars and moon; What if today the clouds make dark the noon? The sweet light will return when clouds have fled.

Look up in hope? Above the watery waste God's spirit broods, and some day the new earth Will find, out of the throes of this rebirth, It's Paradise, but God is not in haste.

Look up and trust! Above the wrath of man, Above the swirl of jealousies and hate, Unmoved the throne of God; just wait; Tomorrow you will see His perfect plan.

Look up! The Right must have the right of way; Might is but weakness when allied with Wrong; The powers of righteousness, when few, are strong, And in the conflict ever win the day.

Look up, O soul, and fear not the ark! The frightened dove her olive-leaf will bring; The waters will subside, and a new spring Will tell of bright days glowing from the dark.

A UNIQUE ADDRESS.

THIS PREACHER HAS A WAY OF HIS OWN.

J. Whitcomb Brougner has never yet followed in the footsteps of a living soul. He has a way of his own; he is different. After all, there is nothing so interesting as a variety. The trouble with most preachers is that they are commonplace. They say what they are expected to say, and what others have said. If they have any originality they are afraid to show it. They dread sensationalism more than they do dullness. No, we would not have preachers preach like Brougner, but we are glad that he preaches as he does. If he preaches as we preach he would preach to congregations "as small and select" as the congregations to which we preach. At the Los Angeles Convention Dr. Brougner gave an address of welcome which was "Brougner classic."

In this address he said: You are as welcome as the sunshine after a storm. You are as welcome as a summer after a winter in Chicago. You are as welcome as the first baby in a new home. You are as welcome as a baby at a Methodist christening. You are as welcome as the whale was to Jonah when "all at sea." You are as welcome as a meal to a hobo. You are as welcome as a watermelon to a negro. You are as welcome as a sweetheart to an old maid. You are as welcome as a pretty girl to an old bachelor. You are as welcome as a mother-in-law's departure on a long journey. You are as welcome as a vacation to a school kid. You are as welcome as a base-ball game is to a fan. You are as welcome as a tip to a waiter. You are as welcome as a big salary to preachers. You are as welcome as a successful election to a doubtful candidate. You are as welcome as prosperous times to a Democratic administration. You are as welcome as European peace would be to the world. If you can think of anything else that is more welcome than anything I have mentioned, then that is just how welcome you are.

BALLROOM PATHOS.

Tragedy of the Yearning Heart That Was Left to Itself

The fourth dance was nearly over, and she was still sitting by the wall, her hands clasped in her lap and her blank program dangling at her side. The expression of pleasure which had been spontaneous at the beginning of the evening had become fixed and strained through the long period of waiting. At last the music ceased, and the dancers flushed and laughing, scattered about the hall.

The girl rose stiffly and tried to mingle with the crowd. A few acquaintances, nodded absently, then moved away. Bold in her distress, she elbowed her way into a noisy group and laid her hand timidly upon the arm of one of the girls.

"That's a pretty dress, Marie," she said, trying to smile. "Thank you. Are you having a good time?" "Lovely," she answered, with a brave attempt to smile. Her friend hesitated, then turned deliberately to her own coteries.

The wall flower stood awkwardly outside the closed circle, then pushed toward another group. The music started up; there was mad confusion, and the girl was caught in a scurry of young men finding their partners. Left alone in the middle of the floor and buffeted by the dancers, there was nothing for her to do but seek the wall again.

Her cheeks burned in confusion as she found herself again surrounded by vacant chairs. She moved to the side of two girls sitting farther down the hall. For a moment she felt less conspicuous. But both girls were claimed by their partners, and she was left alone against the wall. Pretty girls glanced at her with genuine pity; girls of uncertain popularity eyed her scornfully as they passed.

At last, blinded by a rush of hot tears, she arose and went from the music and merriment into the silence of the deserted dressing room.—San Francisco Bulletin.

The Next Best Thing To The Pine Forest For Colds Is—

Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey which goes to the root of the cold troubles. It clears the throat and gives relief from that clogged and stuffed feeling. The pines have ever been the friend of man in driving away colds. Moreover, the pine-honey qualities are peculiarly effective in fighting children's colds. Remember that a cold broken at the start greatly removes the possibility of complications. 25c.

CALOMEL IS MERCURY! IT SICKENS! ACTS ON LIVER LIKE DYNAMITE

"Dodson's Liver Tonic" Starts Your Liver Better Than Calomel and Doesn't Salivate or Make You Sick.

Listen to me! Take no more sickening, salivating calomel when bilious or constipated. Don't lose a day's work! Calomel is mercury or quicksilver which causes necrosis of the bones. Calomel, when it comes into contact with your bile crashes into it, breaking it up. This is when you feel that awful nausea and cramping. If you are sluggish and "all knocked out," if your liver is torpid and bowels constipated or you have headache, dizziness, coated tongue, if breath is bad or stomach sour just take a spoonful of harmless Dodson's Liver Tonic on my guarantee.

Here's my guarantee—Go to any drug store and get a 50 cent bottle of Dodson's Liver Tonic. Take a spoonful at night and if it doesn't straighten you right up and make you feel fine and vigorous by morning I want you to go back to the store and get your money. Dodson's Liver Tonic is destroying the sale of calomel because it is real liver medicine, entirely vegetable, therefore it can not salivate or make you sick. I guarantee that one spoonful of Dodson's Liver Tonic will put your sluggish liver to work and clean your bowels of that sour bile and constipated waste which is clogging your system and making you feel miserable. I guarantee that a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tonic will keep your entire family feeling fine for months. Give it to your children. It is harmless; doesn't gripe and they like its pleasant taste.
