THE RETURN.

While shadows deepen o'er the dying day
A weary wand'rer totters on his way,
Caring but little where his steps may lead,
Only a place to lay him down his head,
Beside a vine-clad church he hovers near,
The organ-notes are pealing; mem'ries dear
Come thronging of a sweet, sweet long ago
When in the faint hush of the twilight's glow
A child he knelt beside his mother's knee,
And heard her softly sing: "Abide with me."

The dawn awakes and earthly shadows flee;
Ah, yes! it is the same dear melody;
In dreams he listens to the gentle strain
That bears him back to childhood days again;
There in the little home 'mid flow'rs ablow
A loved one's singing while the lights are low;
He seems to feel the touch of mother's hand;
To catch a glimpse of yonder Borderland,
As on the calm night air so tenderly
Still swells the hymn divine: "Abide with me."

With bated breath he hears the chorus sing;
New hope seems borne to him on angel wing
As o'er Life's seas with joy his wand'ring eyes
Behold the shining hills of Paradise.
In whispered accents, 'neath the window there,
He offers up a humble fall'ring prayer:
"Through cloud and shine, Father, do not depart,
But solace give unto my yearning heart!
Though friends forsake and from me comforts flee,
Help of the helpless, O abide with me!"

—Henry E. Muchmore.

DO WE PRAY?

"Ask, and Ye Shall Receive, Seek, And Ye Shall Find; Knock, And It Shall Be Opened to You."

Dr. D. M. McDonald.

The only key that Christ left us with which to unlock heaven is seldom used by us. We seem to be content to have our names on the church roll, attend church, take the communion and leave the rest for the ministers.

How many of us eat without giving thanks to the God that gave us the food? How many hold family prayers for their children, and then wonder why their children do not lead a Christian life? These are serious facts that exist in our churches today. "Lovers of pleasure more than lovers of God," (Prophecy). My brethren, we must wake up to the fact that we do not do as our Saviour did. The last thing He did before His trial was to pray alone in the garden of Gethsemane, and we have no account of His taking a meal without looking up to God and giving thanks to His Father. You may not think this is not important, but some one has to do the praying for the community, or it will go to ruin.

The message is so sublime: "Ask, and ye shall receive, seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened to you." Why we can go right into heaven on prayer.

A poor man very much in need sitting by his fireside thinking what he would do, dreamed one night that he had at last got to heaven. The angel met him and said: "Would you like to see the storehouse?" So they went through it, and to his surprise he saw a large number of packages marked to him. He said: "Why didn't you send these down?" The angel replied: "You never called for them."

My friends, go to God in prayer for your wants. The storehouse of God is full. "Ask, and you shall receive."

You may be in good health; you may have plenty of this world's goods, but the time is coming when you are going to need a Saviour. So "call upon Him while He is near." Do not wander off into sin so far that you will not be able to get back to God.

A CRYING DEMAND.

A certain family in a small Kentucky town is notorious for its lack of domestic harmony. Late one summer afternoon the small son of the house was leaning on the dooryard gate, crying with great energy.

Old Mrs. Beals passed. "What's the matter little boy?" "Th' they want take me to the m-movie show," he howled.

"Do they ever take you when you cry like this?" "S-sometimes they do an' sometimes they don't, but it ain't no trouble to yell."—Philadelphia Record.

There's nothing more uncertain than a sure thing.

A neutral is a man who tries to get on both sides of the fence at once.

The Court of Last Resort

Around the stove of the cross roads grocery is the real court of last resort, for it finally over-rules all others. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has been brought before this court in almost every cross roads grocery in this country, and has always received a favorable verdict. It is in the country where man expects to receive full value for his money that this remedy is most appreciated. Obtainable everywhere.

A man may be a good story teller, but his wife seldom swallows his yarns.

An Ideal Spring Laxative

A good and time tried remedy is Dr. King's New Life Pills. The first dose will move the sluggish bowels, stimulate the liver and clear the system of waste and blood impurities. You owe it to yourself to clear the system of body poisons, accumulated during the winter. Dr. King's New Life Pills will do it. See at your druggist.

THE MISSING CHAPTER.

The new pastor of a certain country parish is likely to lose the confidence of his flock unless he changes his ways. During his sermon one Sunday morning not long back he stopped abruptly and asked:

"How many of those here are diligent students of their Bibles?" Fifty hands went up.

"Good," said the pastor. "Now, how many of you have read the second chapter of Jude?"

Twenty-five hands went up. A wan smile overspread the divine's face.

"That's also good, but when you go home read the chapter again, and you will doubtless learn something to your interest."

The point of this story lies in the fact that the Book of Jude consists of one chapter only.—Pearson's Weekly.

SPECULATION.

The teacher of a night school in Chicago was endeavoring to instill in the minds of the discouraged pupils some notions of ambition.

"Do you know," he asked of a seedy-looking boy of 20, "that every lad in this country has a chance to be President?"

"Is that so?" asked the seedy one, reflectively. Then he added: "Say, I'll sell my chance for ten cents."

If might doesn't always make right it seldom gets left.

HOW MRS. BEAN MET THE CRISIS

Carried Safely Through Change of Life by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Nashville, Tenn.—"When I was going through the Change of Life I had a tumor as large as a child's head. The doctor said it was three years coming and gave me the medicine for it until I was called away from the city for some time. Of course I could not go to him then, so my sister-in-law told me that she thought Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound would cure it. It helped both and when I got home I did not need the doctor. I took the Pinkham remedies until the tumor was gone, the doctor said, and I have not felt it since. I tell every one how I was cured. If this letter will help others you are welcome to use it."—Mrs. E. H. Bean, 625 Joseph Avenue, Nashville, Tenn.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a pure remedy containing the extractive properties of good old-fashioned roots and herbs, meets the needs of woman's system at this critical period of her life. Try it.

CLINCHING ARGUMENT.

A Northern attorney, after acquiring a large South Carolina estate, formed the Eureka Debating Society to encourage free speech among the negroes of the neighborhood. On his next trip South he was confronted by a proud winner of the society's prize.

"Now, what was the subject of the debate, Sam?" asked the attorney.

"De subject were, 'What is de mos benefit to mankind, sah, de sun or de moon?'" answered the negro.

"And which side did you uphold?"

"De moon, sah. I jes' argued dat de sun shines by day, when we doan' need de light, but de moon it shines by night, when dat light certainly an' needed. An' dey couldn't answer dat, sah!"—Everybody's Magazine.

HIS RESERVES.

An Englishman who stopped overnight at a Western American hostelry noticed that, instead of ringing a bell at meal time the proprietor went to the front door and fired a double-barreled shotgun. Later in the evening the Englishman commented on the strange procedure.

"That's a novel idea of yours," he remarked to the proprietor, "calling your guests by firing a gun."

"Y-as," drawled the proprietor "it generally fetches 'em around in time to say grace."

"Yes," admitted the Englishman. "But pardon the question, why do you discharge only one barrel?"

"Wouldn't do to shoot 'em both," answered the proprietor. "Have to keep 'o'ther barrel to collect pay for meals and lodging!"—Pittsburg Chronicle.

IN THREE PARTS.

A mountaineer preacher once said to his flock: "Brethren, I hev decided t' divide my sermon in three parts. Th' fust part I'll understand, an' you won't. Th' second part you'll understand, an' I won't. Th' third part nobody'll understand."—Atlanta Journal.

HE KNEW.

"Did you ever know that there is a lot of symbolism connected with a deck of cards? Hearts, for instance, signify love."

"Yes, I know. Last night I held a spade flush against four aces and I had to dig."
