Pay Back to Her In Love and Tenderness. Some of the Debt. You

One of our valued exchanges

most truly says your mother's life has not been easy. Your father was a poor semi, from the day she married him, stood by his side, lighting as a woman must fight. She worked not the eight or ten hour day of the union but the twenty-four-bout day of the poor wife and mother. She conked and cleaned and scrubbed and parched and nursed from dawn until bedtime and in the night was up and down getting drinks for thirsty lips, covering restless little sleepers, historing for croupy oughs: She had time to listen to your stories of boyish fun and Irolic and eriumph. She had muc to say the things that spare d your on. She never forgot to cook the little dishes you liked. She aid without the dresses she woulded that you might not be ashamed of your clothes before your fellows. Remember this now while there is yet time, while she is yet living, to pay back to her in love and tenderness, some of the debt you owe her. You can never pay it all.

Another Operation Avoided. Another Operation Avoided.

Richmond, Ind.—'For two years I was so sick and weak from female troubles that when going up stairs I had to go very slowly with my hands on the steps, then sit down at the top to rest. The doctor said he thought I should have an operation, and my friends thought I would not live to move into our new house. My daughter asked he to try Lydia L. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as she had taken it with good results. I did so, my weakness disappeared, I gained in strength, moved into our new house, the all kinds of garden work, and raised hundreds of chickens and ducks. I cannot say enough in praise of Lydia E.
