MRS. N. DE R. WHITEHOUSE

Mrs. Norman De R. Whitehouse, chairman of the New York state suffrage party, who has been selected by Chairman George Creel of the federal committee on public information as one of a group of prominent persons to bring to the German people, through neutral, the war aims and intentions of the American people. She is the first woman to go abroad on such a mission for this government.

HOME, SWEET HOME.

There Is No Place on Earth Like Home.

Stay, stay at home, my heart and rest; Homeseeking hearts are happiest, For those that wander they know not where Are full of trouble and full of care. To stay at home is best.

Home—the name made dear by sacred associations, the place where childish feet take their first faltering steps and infant minds receive their first idea. Where lessons of love and truth, or right or wrong, of faith and hope and purity are imprinted upon the plastic heart, and all the sorrows and perplexities of after life are inefficient to quite efface these first deep true impressions. Sweet home, where the mother's gentle hands prepare the little domestic comforts that a father's love provides, and filial affection is the silver link, the silken tie that binds the household band together. Trials may come and clouds may lower, but in the seclusion of home remains sweet healing for the wounds that brave and sensitive hearts hide from a disdainful world. There these hurts and distresses may be confidently revealed and a remedy found in its unquestioning faith. There's a child's pure kiss or the touch of dimpled fingers may revive a soul on the verge of despair and in the home the brightest dreams become more golden, the rarest pleasures more intense, the tenderest joys more serene. And if, in the varying degrees of fortune, its loving shelter must be abandoned, how the exile folds about his heart, as the traveler does his cloak the memory of its lights and flowers, its loves and hopes and kindnesses.

There the noblest influence exist, the holiest impulses find expression, and there have been born the chaste and lofty sentiments that have made a whole world better.

COULDN'T USE IT.

The woman at the Back Door—It must be a terrible thing to have to go through life without limb. You must remember, however, that it will be restored to you in the next world.

The Hobo—I know it will, mum, but that won't encourage me none. You see, me foot was cut off when I was a baby, and won't come within a foot of the ground when its restored.

TOO GOOD TO LAST.

Dolly—At last I have met my ideal! Kind-hearted, modest, patient, self-denying. But, alas, married.

Daisy—Don't worry. No woman will live long with such a freak. You'll get a chance at him. —St. Louis Times.

THE BIG PROBLEM.

Probably one of our knottiest war problems is to find out how to make a woman believe she looks patriotic in last year's clothes.

MEMORIES.

As I ransacked old chests and quaint traveling trunks, And rummaged rare keep-sakes of ancient design, With a mingling of feelings of pleasure and pain, I chanced on an old Valentine.

And I see the gentle upturned face, With its frank blue eyes and its smile divine, As she blushing curled her sweet lips and said She would be "my true Valentine."

But along with the years that have passed since then, And the varying fortunes and failures of life, Comes the proof that the future is not as we plan, But with manifold changes is rife.

For we drew apart—though I loved her the while— And she married a man more worthy of her, Who had wealth and refinement and learning profound And all that a queen might prefer.

Yet I am not bitter, and envy not him, The wine of true happiness once "to be mine,"— But out of my solitude rises to God A prayer for that old Valentine.

THE WEATHER.

"Whatever the weather may be," says he "Whatever the weather may be, It's the songs ye sing and the smiles ye wear, That's a-makin' the sun shine everywhere, An' the world of gloom is a world of glee, With the bird in the bush an' the bud in the tree, An' the fruit on the stem o' the bough," says he, "Whatever the weather may be," "Whatever the weather may be."

Ye can bring the Spring, wid its green an' gold, An' the grass in the grove where the snow lies cold; An' ye'll warm yer back, with a smiling face, As ye sit at yer hearth, like an old fireplace, An' toast the toes o' yer sowl," says he, "Whatever the weather may be says he— "Whatever the weather may be."

—JAMES WHITCOMB RILEY.

RELIGION IS THE ISSUE.

Surely the Future Looks Black Enough, Yet It Holds a Hope, a Single Hope. One, and One Power Only, Can Arrest the Descent and Save Us. That is The Christian Religion.

Democracy is but a side issue. The paramount issue, underlying the issue of democracy is the religion of Christ and Him crucified! the bed-rock of civilization; the source and resource of all that is worth having in the world that is, that gives promise in the world to come; not as an abstraction; not as a huddle of sects and factions; but as a mighty force and principle of being. The Word of God, delivered by the gentle Nazarene upon the hillside of Judea, sanctified by the Cross of Calvary, has survived every assault. It is now arrayed upon land and sea to meet the deadliest of all assaults—Satan turned loose for one last, final struggle.

The Kaiser boldly threw down the gage of battle—Infidel Germany against the believing world—"Kultur" against Christianity—the Gospel of Love. Thus is the Satan personified—"Myself and God" merely his way of proclaiming it—for his "God" is Beelzebub, the Angel of Destruction, his creed the Devil's own, his aim and end a hell on earth. Never did crusader lift battleaxe in holier war against the Saracen than is waged by our soldiers of the cross against the German. The issues indeed are identical.

If the world is to be saved from destruction—physical no less than spiritual destruction—it will be saved by the Christian religion. That eliminated leaves the earth to eternal war. For 50 years Germany has been organizing and laboring to supplant it with "Kultur," the genius of infidelity. Her college professors have been obsessed with it. Her universities have seethed with it. In proclaiming "Myself and God," the Kaiser has put the imperial seal upon it. When our armies have run it to its lair—when they have crushed it—naught will have been gained unless the glorious banner of the cross is hoisted—even as Moses lifted up the serpent in the wilderness—and the misled masses of Germany are bade to gather about it and beneath it as sadly they collect the debris of their ruin for the reconstruction of the Fatherland. —Louisville Courier Journal.

SLIGHTLY.

"Had that musical play a mixed chorus?" "I should say! Half of it didn't know what the other half was singing about."

About Constipation.

Certain articles of diet tends to check movements of the bowels. The most common of these are cheese, tea and boiled milk. On the other hand raw fruits, especially apples and bananas, also grain bread and whole wheat bread promote a movement of the bowels. When the bowels are badly constipated, however, the sure way is to take one or two of Chamberlain's Tablets immediately after supper.

MADAME DE MENOVAL

This photograph of the beautiful wife of the president of Cuba was taken a few days after she had completed the task of raising a cash fund of $1,000,000 for the equipment and maintenance in France of a hospital to be manned exclusively by Cuban physicians and nurses.

COMPANIONSHIP.

Be Able to Reinforce your Husband in the Work or Life.

Much has been written on the subject of truth, love and duty; suggestions to mothers, methods of housekeeping and home making and many other subjects, helpful inspiring all of them; but it is the greatest hero of every-day life—the provider of the home, the protector of the fireside—the husband and father, we wish to say a word of praise and for his benefit offer a few suggestions to the wife. With what unselfish devotion he labors to secure for you the comforts, luxuries and pleasures of life!

Whether it is in the shop, behind the counter, in the office, at the factory, in the mill, or on the farm it is with one purpose in view—he works, he strives and slaves, patiently, uncomplainingly, year in, year out, for the comfort of those he loves—wife and children. The man who, for their sakes, faces a combination of discouraging circumstances, distressing financial difficulties, numberless failures, and keeps steadfastly at his post, defying them all, is a hero and nothing less. We meet them every day. Such they are, and doubtless will continue to be as long as there is a home worthy of protection, a child worthy of care, and a woman worthy of love.

And now, little woman, a word with you. If some manly man has chosen you to reign as queen in his heart and home, know that in that capacity you fill the most sacred, the most honorable position in which woman aspire. In it you appear in your most sacred and dignified character. "To be able to reinforce your husband in the work of life," and rear your children for positions of usefulness is a work worthy of your most careful and prayerful consideration.

WITH HIS BLESSING.

"Sir," said the young man, entering the office, "I sent you a communication yesterday!" "Indeed," said the grim-faced man.

"Well, Mr. Prater, I thought perhaps you might give me a reply to my request, and—"

"Wait a minute," said Mr. Prater. "Are you the man that sent this account for $50 for hats for my daughter?"

"No, sir, I—"

"Then you are the one that left this bill for $250 for her dresses?"

"No, sir. My commu—"

"Then it must be this for $35 for shoes—"

"No, sir. My note was one asking if I might have your daughter's hand."

"You want to marry her?" gasped Mr. Prater. Then, turning over the pile of bills, he urged: "Take her, young man! I don't know your name, but take her quickly! She's talking about doing some more shopping."
