

Middle Aged Women

Are Here Told the Best Remedy for Their Troubles

Freedom, O.—I was positive that the period of life, being forty years of age, and all the symptoms incident to that change—backaches, nervousness, and was in a general run-down condition, so it was hard for me to do my work. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended to me as the best remedy for my troubles, which it surely proved to be. I feel better and stronger in every way since taking it, and the annoying symptoms have disappeared.—Mrs. M. Goulet, 222 North Main, Weymouth, Mass.

1,567 Days of Horror Ended

German Revolution Final Act of Stupendous Drama During Which Many European Rulers Have been Stripped of Power and their Dreams of World Conquest Completely Shattered.

COST TEN MILLION LIVES.

The greatest war in history ended Monday morning, November 11, at 6 o'clock, Washington time, after 1,567 days of horror, during which virtually the whole civilized world has been convulsed. Announcement of the tremendous event was made at the State Department at Washington, at 2:45 o'clock Monday morning, and in a few seconds was flashed throughout the continent by the Associated Press. The terse announcement of the State Department did not tell anything of the scene at Marshal Foch's headquarters at the time the armistice was signed. It was stated, however, that at five o'clock Paris time, the signatures of Germany's delegates were affixed to the document which blasted forever the dreams which embroiled the world in a struggle which cost, at the very lowest estimate, 10,000,000 lives. It is suggested that William Hohenzollern is not safe from the consequences of his deed, even though he has fled to Holland. After the sinking of the Lusitania and during the early days of the aerial raids on London he was three times indicted for murder in England. Under international law, it is said, requisition for his extradition may be made by England under the indictments still standing against him.

WELDON AVIATOR'S FIRST FLIGHT

Monday, Nov. 4, 1918.
This evening at one o'clock I started on my first ride. I had on my flying pajamas, helmet with a talking tube connecting my ear to the instructor's mouth, and my goggles all fixed up nicely. After examining our ship the Lieutenant and I crawled in. Then the mechanic runs in the front of the ship and says, "off," that is, that the ignition is off, so he can spin the propeller thus filling the cylinders with a vaporized mixture of gas, so the engine will start easily. He spins it several times then says, "contact." The Lieutenant says "contact" and turns on the ignition. The mechanic then spins the propeller and the engine starts. Now came the exciting moment, the engine was warming up and I was adjusting myself and hooking my life belt, which is a large belt attached to the seat and holds you in very tightly. Before I knew it we were "taxiing" down the field. "Taxiing" is going along the ground, running on the rubber tires. We went a little faster, then faster and faster, until we had enough speed so that the reaction of the air on the wings was greater than the weight of the machine, thus raising our ship off the ground. We were going at the rate of about 60 miles per hour when we left the ground and it was so smooth and easy that it seemed more or less like a dream to me except the continual hum and noise of our motor. Here we started climbing higher and higher, all the time circling the flying field. It was a wonderful feeling to be up in the heavens sailing through nothing but space with no mud holes to dodge nor tires to look out for. After getting about 2,000 feet up we turned toward America which was five miles away and almost before I knew it we were right on top of the Georgia peach city. My instructor with a little sense of humor asked me if I wanted to stop here and see my girl. Over the city we went exactly 2,700 feet and did a spiral and a loop. I thought I was a real bird then sure enough. Then he began circling about, diving, etc., to show me the effect of the rudder, ailerons and elevators. The rudder is the control that turns the ship about its vertical axis, like the wheel on an auto; the ailerons, which are on the wings control the machine laterally, i. e. from tip to tip; and the elevators control it longitudinally. The only difference between the controls of an auto and a plane is that the plane has three axes to control and the auto has only one. All this detail explanation may seem rather dry, but it gives you an idea of the principles of aeronautics. After being in the air a half an hour we nosed down and made a pretty landing on the field. I forgot to tell you that the rown looked like a little doll village, the roads of red clay showed up very plainly like red ribbon and the fields and woods looked as if they had been drawn by an expert draftsman. At about 2,000 feet the railroad looked about two inches wide and everything was beautiful. I noticed when we got over America the very house in which we took dinner yesterday and wished for some more of that good turkey and oysters. My instructor is Lieut. Stout and a very nice gentleman. I am glad I drew a good instructor, for it means a lot. All this week I fly in the evenings and have five hours of classes in the mornings. This morning after a three hour class with the Lewis airplane gun, the gun instructor appointed me gun instructor to teach when he was away. I took that to be rather nice, but I had rather they wouldn't keep me after I get my commission, but send me to the other side.

HOW TO FIGHT SPANISH INFLUENZA

BY DR. L. W. BOWERS.
Avoid crowds, coughs and colds, but fear neither germs nor Germans! Keep the system in good order, take plenty of exercise in the fresh air and practice cleanliness. Remember a clean mouth, a clean skin, and clean bowels are a protecting armor against disease. To keep the liver and bowels regular and to carry away the poisons within, it is best to take a vegetable pill every other day, made up of May-apple, aloes, jalap, and sugar-coated, to be had at most drug stores, known as Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. If there is a sudden onset of what appears like a hard cold, one should go to bed, wrap warm, take a hot mustard foot-bath and drink copiously of hot lemonade. If pain develops in head or back, ask the druggist for Anoric (anti-uric) tablets. These will flush the bladder and kidneys and carry off poisonous germs. To control the pains and aches take one Anoric tablet every two hours, with frequent drinks of lemonade. The pneumonia appears in a most treacherous way, when the influenza victim is apparently recovering and anxious to leave his bed. In recovering from a bad attack of influenza or pneumonia the system should be built up with a good herbal tonic, such as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, made without alcohol from the roots and barks of American forest trees, or his Iroquois (iron tonic) tablets, which can be obtained at most drug stores, or send 10c to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., for trial package.

WILLIAM W. BRICKELL.

Another Halifax Boy Has Paid The Supreme Sacrifice.

The sad news has reached us that William W. Brickell, the eldest son of Mr. R. B. Brickell and his wife, Mrs. Irene Moseley Brickell, was so badly wounded in action in France, on the 17th day of October last, that he died in a short time after reaching the hospital over there. This is another death that brings the war very close to us. Billy Brickell, as all of us knew him, was thirty-three years old October 6th, 1915. He was a member of Company E, 119th Infantry of the American Expeditionary Forces in France. While the great mass of our people have suffered little inconvenience by reason of the war, and while many have actually grown richer and richer by reason of conditions which it has brought about, this young man, the hope of his parents and the pride of his friends, has paid in full and to the limit, the debt of a soldier. In hours like this, one stumbles over the ways of Providence until the thought is borne upon us that it is not how long a man lives, but how well he lives. Measuring this young soldier by that standard, his life was as full and well rounded as if he had lived out a man's allotted time. He has given the full measure of a patriot to a cause that is just as holy as any for which men ever strove.

When we come to think who he was, on both sides of his ancestry, there will be no surprise that he was not afraid of the battlefield. He was a type of our best stock. The older citizens will remember his grandfather, whose name he bore, Mr. William W. Brickell, whose life was another name for uprightness, integrity and dignity, and whose sons had a part in the Civil war, more than fifty years ago. So when his country called last year, every one knew that there would be Brickells in the line. It was our fortune to know him from his youth. He was of handsome face, splendid figure and had a disposition of the gentlest elements. His life was quiet and he was one of the props to his parents as the shadow of age began to creep upon them.

His education was in the schools of the county and at Buie's Creek Academy. While there he made a profession of faith and united with the Baptist church. His conduct was consistent and exemplary, he was faithful to his religious duties, and he adorned the life which he lived, devoted to his father and mother, sisters and brothers, and their friends everywhere would wish that they might share this burden that has come upon them.

And when the end came, what more can any one wish? He died not in the glare of public life, but as a private soldier, safe in the salvation for which his Saviour died. His name is on the Honor Roll of his country and he belongs to the ages just as truly as if he had been among those who lead instead of among those who followed.

It will be a loving duty of those who remained at home to keep in tender memory the name of William W. Brickell. His father and mother have been greatly honored when this young soldier was accounted worthy to have made the supreme sacrifice.

HALIFAX U. D. C. MEETING.

The regular monthly meeting of the U. D. C. Halifax chapter, was held at the residence of Mrs. N. L. Steadman last Thursday. Never was a more interesting and enthusiastic meeting held. The excellent report made by the president showed that the chapter had been busy in all U. D. C. work, assisting the "Red Cross" financially and as individuals.

The splendid treasurer's report showed financial gains and having met all obligations during the year.

The next business before the meeting was the election of officers for the ensuing year, who were unanimously elected as follows: President, Miss Nannie Gary, vice-president, Mrs. W. A. Willcox; Second vice-president, Mrs. S. M. Gary; Recording secretary, Mrs. N. L. Steadman; treasurer, Mrs. John Bass; Corresponding secretary, Mrs. H. B. Ferguson; historian, Mrs. R. L. Applewhite; Recorder of Crosses, Mrs. N. G. Gowan; Junior Leader, Mrs. J. G. Shaw.

The hostess, assisted by Mrs. Applewhite and Miss Elizabeth Christian, served delicious salad and coffee courses.

After singing the national anthem, "Star Spangled Banner" and "Dixie" the meeting adjourned to meet with Mrs. W. A. Willcox in December.

Southern Hospitality includes Luzianne

CHERRY, whole-hearted, Southern hospitality—it's almost a magic phrase to many. But really it stands for honest friendship, cordiality and (you've guessed it) lots of delicious goodies.

Luzianne Coffee is always included in Southern hospitality because it tastes so good. Fragrant hot coffee for people who know what's good—that's Luzianne.

Good old Luzianne flavor—um-m-m—better try some each. Your grocer has it—and if you aren't satisfied, he'll give back every cent—honest!

Genuine Indian Blood Purifier Free of Modern Opiates Much More Reliable Medicine.

Strengthens One Quickly.

Old folks all over the country will say that one bottle of GENUINE INDIAN BLOOD PURIFIER is worth dozens of these new-fangled concoctions so apt to be full of dope.

"Genuine Indian Blood Purifier," is the name by which a certain old formula of the Indians has come to be known, and it is said there is but one concern in the country in a position to manufacture it. A bottle or two in severe cases of stomach, kidney, blood or bladder trouble work wonders apparently, and testimonials to its merit run away back to Daniel Boone and Jackson's time.

The Weldon Drug Company have recently secured a stock of Genuine Indian Blood Purifier and anyone feeling anaemic, weak, nervous rundown and lacking rich, red blood would do well to pay a visit to this progressive store and see a bottle. It is put up with great care from fresh herbs, roots and berries, gathered and prepared in the old Indian way by the PEARSON REMEDY COMPANY, of Burlington, N. C., which is a guarantee of freshness, full strength and quality.

PRICE $1.

Also for sale by Roanoke Pharmacy, Roanoke Rapids, N. C., and other leading drug stores of the country.
