

KEEP THEM VIGOROUS

When a child suffers from the slightest exposure and is thin, listless and easily tired, that child ought to receive plenty of

OLD WELDON.

Things That Happened 33 Years Ago in Town and Vicinity.

March 3, 1887.—On Tuesday last, the 28th inst., the Rev. A. S. Smith, D. D., officiating, Thomas N. Hill, Esq., was united in matrimony to Miss Mary A., daughter of the late Col. N. M. Long, all of this county. They left on the afternoon train for a trip to New York and other northern cities.

A colored boy lost his arm in Mr. J. E. Glasgow's gin, near Gaston, on the 18th of February. It was so badly mangled that it had to be amputated above the elbow. Dr. R. A. Patterson performed the operation.

Miss Park Jenkins was married at her brother's residence, near Gaston, on the 22nd ult., to Mr. Samuel Alston, of Richmond, Va., the Rev. A. G. Wilcox, of the Baptist church, officiating.

Mrs. R. S. Hall left Friday for Florence, S. C., which will hereafter be her home.

Mrs. R. R. Bridgers and Miss Ruth Pender have been here several days awaiting the arrival of Mr. Preston Bridgers, consul to Montevideo, who is on his way home on a visit.

We learn that Mr. Charles Gregory, of Crowles, and Mr. Charles Gray, of Scotland Neck, will leave this week for California where they expect to engage in grape culture. We regret to see these young gentlemen leave us.

On Sunday morning a hole was discovered in the exposed portion of the wall of the cellar at Brinkley & Sons' store, at Spring Hill, which had been made there by some one from the outside. Mr. Biggs made an examination and discovered inside lying down in concealment a negro by the name of Walter Cotten, about 18 years of age. Cotten was sent to jail, in default of bail.

March 10, 1887.—Sheriff R. J. Lewis and Deputy Sheriff J. A. Johnston took several prisoners to the State penitentiary.

Died at the home of Mrs. Mary Cullom, near Gaston, on the 22nd of February, J. L. Sledge, better known as Jack Sledge, in the 59th year of his age.

Frank Collins was severely cut with a knife in the hands of John Short, at Gaston, on the night of the 22nd ult. Collins says he expects to die with his shoes on.

Miles Ransom, colored, who formerly lived here, was tried and convicted of larceny at the late term of Herford court and sentenced to the penitentiary. He was on trial for a similar offense but the jury could not agree, and while it was "hung" he stole several articles, among them a pistol from one of the attorneys who defended him. He was immediately indicted, tried and convicted and sentenced to the penitentiary for eight years.

On Tuesday, March 8th, 1887, in Weldon, at the residence of the bride's mother, Mrs. S. M. Lockhart, Mr. J. H. P. Leigh, and Miss Signioria E. Lockhart were united in marriage, the Rev. A. S. Smith, officiating.

DIED.

Little Herbert Bascombe Harrell was born June 15, 1919, and died in Weldon, N. C., at the home of his grandfather, Mr. H. B. Harrell on Friday night, February 27, 1920. He was buried from the home on Sunday Rev. F. Cousins and Rev. J. G. Blalock conducting the services which were especially sweet and impressive. The interment was in Cedarwood cemetery. This frail little babe had been a sufferer all his short life and in spite of every possible care and attention the silver cord was loosed and the little soul returned to rest "safe in the arms of Jesus" who said, "Suffer the little children to come unto me for of such is the Kingdom of Heaven." The little baby boy, only child of young and loving parents, the only grandchild of the grandparents will be missed and the shadows hang over the home. It is often hard to say "Thy will be done," "for now we see through a glass darkly" but when we awake in the likeness of Him who doeth all things well we will perhaps wonder why our faith should be so small, and we be so often led to doubt. So we would say to the troubled hearts, look up and believe and say with one of old, "It is well with the child," and look forward to that home where suffering and sorrow are unknown and where little Bascombe waits to welcome those who have loved him here.
