Children Cry for Fletcher's

CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over thirty years, has borne the signature of and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy. Allow no one to deceive you in this. All Counterfeits, Imitations and "Just-as-good" are but experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment. Never attempt to relieve your baby with a remedy that you would use for yourself.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulence, Wind Colic and Diarrhoea; allaying Feverishness arising therefrom, and by regulating the Stomach and Bowels, aids the assimilation of Food; giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Comfort—The Mother's Friend.

The smallest account receives as much attention as the largest with us.

We pay 4 per cent. Compounded Quarterly on Savings. Come in and talk it over with us. We need you, you need us.

WISHED SHE HAD ACTED.

Probably Youngster's Comment Found Echo in the Minds of Others in the Audience.

A politician was making a speech at one of the town's school houses. Naturally, he was telling of all the accomplishments of his administration.

And always after he had told one he turned toward his wife, who was in the audience, and said: "My wife will bear me out in what I have just told."

Over and over he repeated his rather long-drawn-out boasts, despite his yawning audience, always bringing the lady in at the finish.

But at last he stopped. Then an irrepresible high-school youngster turned to his companion and said in one loud enough to be heard by those in his vicinity.

"I'm so tired that I wish his wife had borne him out the first time he suggested it."

STEP BY STEP.

"Is Mr. Hansen courting you, Alice?" her chum Doris asked her one day.

"Not exactly—yet," admitted Alice. "But he is approaching step by step."

"What do you mean?" "Well when he first called he sat all the evening with a postcard album in his lap."

"Yes."

"Next time he sat with my poodle in his lap."

"Well?" "Last night he took my little brother on his knee. So, you see I hope it will soon be my turn."

CITED FOR VALOR.

The swain and swainess had just encountered a bulldog who looked as if he might shake a mean lower jaw.

"Why, Percy," she exclaimed as she started a strategic retreat. "You always swore you would face death for me."

"I would," he flung back over his shoulder, "but that darn dog ain't dead."

THERE'LL BE OTHERS.

It may seem a curious request, said the young widow, but on my husband's tombstone I should like to have inscribed Charles the First.

Beg pardon, m'am, returned the monument carver, but was your husband of royal blood?

Oh, no, indeed. But I don't want my friends to think that just because poor Charlie died I shall never marry again.

A Tonic For Women

"I was hardly able to drag, I was so weakened," writes Mrs. W. F. Ray, of Easley, S. C. "The doctor treated me for about two months, still I didn't get any better. I had a large family and felt I surely must do something to enable me to take care of my little ones. I had heard of

CARDUI The Woman's Tonic

"I decided to try it," continues Mrs. Ray. "I took eight bottles in all. . . I regained my strength and have had no more trouble with womanly weakness. I have ten children and am able to do all my housework and a lot outdoors. . . I can sure recommend Cardui." Take Cardui today. It may be just what you need. At all druggists.

Start Them Right Raise More Chicks

You can prevent the big losses due to weakness and disease and give your chicks the quick start that produces early broilers and layers by feeding the genuine and only

Conkey's Buttermilk Starting Feed

Conkey's is different—the buttermilk is incorporated with the other ingredients by a special Conkey Process. No dried buttermilk is ever used in Conkey's. Conkey's is low in fibre and just right in protein. Too much fibre injures and too much protein overtaxes. We have made a physiological study of the little chick for years, and in Conkey's Buttermilk Starting Feed we have perfected the one really successful feed for little chicks from 48 hours to 8 weeks of age.

Conkey's also puts an edge to the appetite, while the lactic acid has a tonic effect—helping to prevent White Diarrhea.

Try It and You'll Never be Without It
Conkey's is used in enormous quantities by successful poultrymen all over the country, and recommended in highest terms. Below are extracts from letters recently received:

O. E. Morgan, Red Cherry Poultry Farm, Greensboro, North Carolina, writes: "I had better results with Conkey's than with any other feed. My chicks grew faster and I never had a sick chick as long as I used it."

Paul's Chicken Ranch, El Paso, Texas: "After using Conkey's Buttermilk Starting Feed for the last three years exclusively, we have found it to be the best chick feed on the market. We sell between 40,000 and 50,000 chicks every season."

DREAMS.

If dreams were sold in the market place,

What kind of a dream would you buy?

The maiden answered with glowing face,

And the love-light in her eye,

"I would buy a dream of a gallant ship

Coming dancing over the foam;

Of her captain bold in his stars of gold,

And her sails all set for home."

If dreams were sold in the market place,

What kind of a dream would you buy?

"I would buy a dream," said the happy youth,

"Of honor and purpose high,

Wrought in the work of the coming years,

A dream of a loving bride,

Of work well done and home well won,

And of children by my side."

If dream were sold in the market place,

What kind of a dream would you buy?

And the mother lifted a tender face,

And said with longing sigh,

"I would buy a dream of my absent boy,

For what could be sweeter bliss

Than to clasp his hand in the land of dreams

And give him a mother's kiss?"

If dreams were sold in the market place,

What kind of a dream would you buy?

And the man lifted a calm, still face,

To the light of the western sky;

"I would ask a dream of my youthful days—

And a dream of the household band;

Of the hills and rills, the vales and dales,

Of my childhood's native land."

So ever and on the soul would dream

From its first hour to its last;

Backward and forward in search of good,

In memory and wishing cast,

But, oh, the joy when we shall awake

In the land we are going to,

And find that the good and beautiful dreams

Of our hearts have all come true!

MY JEWELS.

I have treasures laid up in the City of God—
Bright jewels that never can rust;
For a while they were dwellers in caskets of clay,
But those caskets are now in the dust.

And as here in the light of this beautiful eye
I number them all o'er and o'er,
I say to myself in that city above,
I will find my lost jewels once more.

The feet that went down in the river of death
As I stood on life's desolate sand,
Are walking in gladness the streets of pure gold,
That run through that beautiful land.

The lips that tenderly whispered my name
Ere they closed in the silence of death,
Will speak to me yet in the Eden of love,
Where life is no longer a breath.

The dear hands that lovingly clung to my own
As they grew in death pulseless and cold,
Are learning fresh lessons in the City of God,
Of sweeping harpsstrings of gold.

The eyes that turned on me with love to the last
Now beam in eternity's light,
They see in His beauty the King on the throne,
And gaze on His face with delight.

The dear Lord who gave them and took them away
Will not leave me forever alone;
He will give them all back to my bosom again,
When I go where my loved ones are gone.

MODIFIED.

The windjammer of the company was talking—as usual.

"I dreamed last night," he stated, "that I talked back to the skipper and died and went down below and got the third griddle from the right as you go in."

"And was it hot?"

"Hot? I'll say it was hotter than—hotter than—well, anyway, it was as hot as hell."

AND WANTS MORE

"A successful marriage must be a give-and-take proposition."

"Mine is. My wife takes every cent I give her."

UNWILLING TO TAKE CHANCE.

Colored Man Evidently Had Little Confidence in His Judgment in Important Matter.

A visitor in Kentucky came across that rare specimen, an unmarried colored man.

The negro was a quiet, elderly person, not shiftless, but quite indolent, so the northern man felt curious and determined to find out why he had remained single.

"Uncle Jim, how does it happen that you are so opposed to matrimony?" The old fellow looked up with a grave face, but there was a twinkle in his eye, as he replied: "Me sub! I ain't opposed to matrimony."

"Well, why is it you have never married?" his inquisitor continued. "Haven't you seen anyone you liked?"

"Lordy! yessah—but you see it's thisaway; I couldn't risk my judgment."

LINE FORMS ON THE RIGHT.

Just before the service the minister was called into the vestibule by a young couple who asked that he marry them. He answered he had not time then but that if they would wait until after the sermon he would be glad to accommodate them. Accordingly, just before the benediction, he announced: "Will those who wish to be married today please come forward?"

Thirteen women and one man stepped up.

GUILTY.

A youth once loved a modern miss; well versed in law was she. She charged him when he stole a kiss with petty larceny.

A moment he was quite abashed and then he squeezed her hand. "You're wrong, quite wrong, dear," he replied. "Not petty. That was grand."
