LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

We had several light frosts last week.

Apples will be high this winter. Short crop.

The last rose of summer is left blooming alone.

And sometimes a man will deceive by telling the truth.

Melancholy days—the saddest of the year—are with us again.

It will soon be time to make that persimmon and locust beer.

The sweet potato crop was not so short as at one time anticipated.

In the old days we used to drown sorrows; now we just let them die of thirst.

Apples were not selling at present prices when Eve tempted Adam with one.

Harvest your crop early this year. There is a hard winter ahead of us.

Maybe, but when a man is in love it isn't altogether acting.

CARRY ON.

He: "If I should kiss you, would you scream?"
She: "Yes, but please don't mind that."

BIRTHS AND DEATHS.

During the month of September there were eight births in Weldon and one death. There were fourteen births and three deaths in Weldon township. Total number of births up to September 1st, 1921, for Weldon and Weldon township, 131.

TO BE MADE SMALLER.

A committee of the Senate and the United States Treasury Department have agreed upon a scheme to make all paper money of a smaller size. Why waste so much paper, they argue, when a note three-quarters of the size of the present bills would answer just as well?

TOO MUCH BOOZE.

Bill Jackson, colored, was arrested last Saturday, having been caught by officers Crew and Branley with a grip full of very fine old apple brandy. He was tried before Mayor Wiggins and bound over for his appearance at the November term of the Superior court, and failing to give bond, was committed to jail.

HYMENEAL.

Married at the Baptist parsonage, at Roanoke Rapids, on Friday evening October 7th, by Rev. Mr. Crutchfield, of the Baptist church, Mr. John W. Randleman and Mrs. Volena McGlohon. Both of Weldon. We extend our congratulations to the happy couple, wish for them a long life of happiness and prosperity.

U. D. C.

On Friday, October 7, the members of the Junius Daniel Chapter of the U. D. C. were entertained at the home of Mrs. L. C. Draper. After all business was disposed of, the report for the year was read, showing an expenditure of $85.00 for worthy causes; crosses of honor presented to two Confederate Veterans, and iron markers placed on five Confederate graves.

At the conclusion of the business meeting the hostess served a delicious salad course. Mesdames D. B. Zollicoffer, W. A. Simpson and W. S. Wilkins were guests of the afternoon.

The next meeting will be held with Mrs. C. F. Gore the first Wednesday in November.

WALNUT TREE IN BLOOM.

Reports of blooming trees in Sampson, Wake and other counties brings Halifax county to the front with an English walnut tree that has bloomed three times this year. Mrs. G. C. Howell, of Tillery, sends the News and Observer blooms and walnuts from the same tree. She writes that the tree is covered with blossoms now. The first crop was killed by the late frost. The second crop reached maturity. The tree is an English walnut grown from a nut having been grafted. It stands by two black walnut trees, which have no blooms.

MUSIC CONTEST.

The music department of the school will conduct a Music Memory Contest this winter in which every child in school will take part.

The department is fortunate in having Miss Bessie Gathright, of Richmond, to come to Weldon to assist in launching this contest.

Miss Gathright made all arrangements and conducted the business of the music memory contest conducted in the Public Schools of Richmond last winter.

All patrons of the school and all interested in more music and better music for Weldon, are invited to attend the chapel exercises at nine o'clock Friday morning, Oct. 14th, and hear Miss Gathright explain how the contest is conducted.

A VERY REMARKABLE MAN.

Our old friend W. L. Dickens, of Aurelian Springs, paid us a visit last Saturday. Bill never forgets to call about this season of the year, to settle his subscription. He always makes a good crop, hot or cold, wet or dry. He is one of the most remarkable men in the county. He is now 71 years of age, and picks 200 pounds of cotton daily, milks two cows, besides doing various other things around the farm. He looks almost as young and is apparently as active as he was in the long ago, when he hunted flying squirrels, when attending school at Capt. Sterling Brickell's, about 10 miles from Weldon. May his years multiply, and may he continue to harvest a full crop every year, is our wish.

WILL PAY GROWERS.

The better handling of peanuts will be one of the important features of the Peanut Growers Exchange, which represents more than 5,000 growers in Virginia and North Carolina. Mr. Birdsong, the General Manager, on two or three short trips out in the country this week has been so impressed that the growers whom he found digging too early that he is getting out a special circular to each member of the Exchange cautioning them against digging their peanuts before they are ready. In his opinion a considerable per cent of the immature peanuts will yet come to maturity provided we do not have frost within the next two weeks. If these peanuts are dug too soon, then there is a loss on this account and the probabilities of further loss to the more mature nuts from being dug too green.

WILL IT BE A COLD WINTER.

Most of the weather sharps seem to predict a cold winter. Their basis appears to be the fact that last winter was so mild that one milder would be hard to imagine. But while extremely mild winters seldom come in succession, it hardly proves that they can't. By the same reasoning we are unlikely to have an autumn as beautiful as last year's when the coloring was magnificent beyond memory and when October was one long stretch of Indian summer, gracious and infinitely mellow in its hazes and its flooding sunlight. But what Nature will really decide to do with the colors of the autumn paint-box and in the selection of winter temperatures and storms is, in spite of all wise friends, one of the riddles which make life interesting. It will not be out of place to speak to Cleveland Carter and Harry Smith about putting in a supply of coal while coal can be had at a reasonable figure.

REDUCED ROUND TRIP FARES TO RALEIGH ON ACCOUNT OF N. C. STATE FAIR.

For the above occasion the Atlantic Coast Line will sell round trip tickets to Raleigh at reduced fares from all agency stations in North Carolina for all trains from October 15th to 21st, inclusive and for trains scheduled to arrive at Raleigh before noon of October 22nd, limited returning to reach original starting point before midnight of October 24th.

Round trip fare from Weldon, N. C. will be $5.21. The rate for children will be half fare. Reduced fares apply only when tickets are purchased before boarding train.

Children Ory FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

The out-of-town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Albert Noble, Miss Aver Myatt, Mr. Robert Mellons, Mrs. Braxton Johnson, Smithfield; Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Weeks, Rocky Mount; Mr. and Mrs. Jere Zollicoffer, Miss Leah Perry, Mrs. Alex Cooper, Henderson; Judge and Mrs. Robinson, Goldsboro; Miss Elizabeth H. Clark, Washington, D. C.; Mrs. W. S. Simpson, Norfolk, Va.; Mrs. Cornelia Hawkins, Swansea, Mass.

BEAUTIFUL OCTOBER WEDDING.

Miss Mary Ellen Travis Becomes the Bride of Mr. Troy Myatt.

Perhaps never in the history of Grace Episcopal church have the admiring friends witnessed such a scene of loveliness as when on Wednesday evening, October 5th Miss Mary Ellen Travis became the bride of Mr. Troy Myatt, of Smithfield.

A profusion of white cosmos, ferns and floor candelabra made a picture of rare beauty. The decorations were most artistically arranged under the direction of Mrs. T. C. Harrison.

Mrs. Anne Wear Smith, organist, accompanied by Mr. Eli Bloom, violinist, gave several appropriate musical selections, and immediately before the entrance of the bridal party Mrs. R. T. Daniel sang "The Sweetest Story Ever Told" and "Constasy."

Mendelssohn wedding march was used as the processional and ushered in the wedding party composed of the following:

The bridesmaids were Misses Margaret Pierce and Mary Pierce, of Weldon, Charlotte Johnson, Raleigh, Lillian Joyner, Greenville, Sarah Holland Hester, New Bern and Irene Myatt, Smithfield. They were beautifully gowned in turquoise blue and orchid taffeta with polk bonnets of silver lace, carrying bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums. The ushers were Messrs. Louis Travis, Halifax and Julian Springs, Smithfield, and the groomsmen Messrs. Allison Travis, Weldon, Jim Ballou, Oxford, Ransom Sanders, Smithfield, Gus Travis, Charlotte, Stanford Travis and Allen Zollicoffer, Weldon.

Then followed the dame of honor, Mrs. Outlaw Hunt, of Oxford, wearing a lovely gown of shell pink chiffon, with silver lace bonnet, carrying heliotrope chrysanthemums; little Mary Jane Zollicoffer, flower girl, daintily dressed in white net, carried a basket of Sunburst roses, and little Miss Mary Belle Draper dressed in a fairy-like net dress came in just before the bride, carrying the ring in a white lily. Mr. Seth Myatt, of New York, brother of the groom, acted as best man. The bride came in with her father, Mr. R. S. Travis, who gave her in matrimony. She was met at the foot of the chancel by the groom.

The bride wore a handsome Duchess satin gown, with pearl trimmings, the veil was embroidered in sunburst of sequins and pearls being held by a coronet of orange blossoms, carrying a shower bouquet of white rose buds, lilies of the valley and orchids.

The Rev. Mr. Westman performed the impressive ceremony while the organist softly played "I Love You Truly." The march from Tannhauser was used as a recessional.

Immediately following the ceremony an elaborate reception was given in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Travis. Little Miss Genevieve Gregory and Master Melville Zollicoffer received cards at the door.

The guests were welcomed in the reception hall by Mrs. C. R. Emory, Mrs. T. C. Harrison. At the foot of the stairway Miss Maud Vaughan directed the guests to the cloak room. Mrs. D. B. Zollicoffer and Mrs. J. B. Zollicoffer introduced the guests to those receiving. Mrs. E. H. Smith then met the guests at the dining room. Receiving in the dining room were Mrs. S. B. Pierce, Mrs. O. W. Pierce and Mrs. Simpson, of Norfolk, Va.

In the hall Mrs. Wm. L. Knight directed the where Mrs. E. T. Zollicoffer assisted by Miss Catherine Ward presided. Then Mrs. N. S. Barnes met the guests at the gift room, which was indeed a scene of unsurpassed beauty. The numerous gifts showed the popularity of this young couple. Receiving in this room were Mrs. Fitzhugh, Mrs. Seifert and Miss Carolyn Rowe.

As the guests were leaving Mr. and Mrs. Jack Jennings called attention to a register in the form of a wedding bell tied with a pink tulle.

The decorations were in green and white. The dining room was a vision of bride-like beauty. The centerpiece was lilies of the valley, and bride's roses. A shower of bride's roses was suspended from the chandelier.

Music was furnished by the orchestra under the direction of Messrs. Hardison and Whitley.

The bride and groom motored to Rocky Mount where they left on a New York Special.

The bride is one of the most popular young ladies in the town of Weldon and very talented and accomplished. Mr. Myatt is one of Smithfield's most popular and prosperous young business men.

The out-of-town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Albert Noble, Miss Aver Myatt, Mr. Robert Mellons, Mrs. Braxton Johnson, Smithfield; Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Weeks, Rocky Mount; Mr. and Mrs. Jere Zollicoffer, Miss Leah Perry, Mrs. Alex Cooper, Henderson; Judge and Mrs. Robinson, Goldsboro; Miss Elizabeth H. Clark, Washington, D. C.; Mrs. W. S. Simpson, Norfolk, Va.; Mrs. Cornelia Hawkins, Swansea, Mass.
