REVIEWAL.

Fifty tramps, after sleeping all night in a Cincinnati station-house, were offered work for two weeks in a coal yard, but not one of them would take it.

Captain Eads is now in Washington, claiming the first payment under the jetty contract. He reports a clear channel of 200 feet wide and 20 feet deep, from deep water in the river to deep water in the Gulf.

The Washington Republican, Grant's own, is in favor of putting the House under arrest, if it persists in declaring that Tilden is elected. Don Cameron, a fewdays ago, pointed Hewitt and Randolph follows on the subject of the Presidency: very distinctly to Fortress Monroet

The fur trade of Petersburg, Va., has lately grown into great proportions, and forms one of the most important branches of business. Beavers, foxes, muskrats, minks, coons and rabbits furnish the largest quantity of pelts, and it is surprising to know how many of these animals are killed in the vicinity.

The total number of miles of railroad on the 31st of December, 1875, were: United Kingdom, 16,658; Australia, including horse railroads, 2,285; British Guiano, 21; Cape of Good Hope, 149; Ceylon; 91; t anada, 4,443; India, 6,461; Jamaica, 25; Mauritius, 66; Natal, 54.

Sam Bowles, of the Springfield (Mass.) Republican, shrewdly insists that the reason why the best Republicans sometimes admit that they may be wrong, and that the best Democrats never do so, in regard to the Presidential trouble, is that Tilden was evidently elected while Hayes was elected only by the barest possibility.

Tuckolotoo or Hannah, the Esquimaux woman who, with her husband and child was among the party separated from the Polaris and floated for 150 days on the ice floe, has just died at Graton, Conn., having never recovered from the effects of that trying time. She had learned to speak and read English fluently, and in tended soon to join the Baptist church.

ington Union, that private advices had been received from Florida to the effect not care to interfere at this time. This is that the Supreme Court of the State would compel a recount of the vote for electors by the returning board on the face of the returns, which will give the State to Tilden and Hendricks. Senator Jones, of Florida, says there is not a shadow of a doubt but that the State cast its electoral vote for Tilden and Hendricks, and a fair count will so show.

Major McFarland, the engineer employed by the Interoceanic Canal Commission to report on a route uniting the Atlantic and the Pacific, says that the Nicaragua way is the most feasible. The distance would be sixty-one miles; there is no natural harbor at either end, and probability is that Schators Christiancy, The difficulty would be greater than in are the stumbling blocks in their way to making the Suez canal. The Darien route would be much shorter, but would involve tunnelling.

One result of the ordering of troops by President Grant from distant points to Washington, with a view to intimidating the House and inaugurating Hayes by force, is seen in the letter from the Secretary of the Treasury informing the Senate that the appropraision for the transportation of the United States troops is exhausted, and calling for an additional appropriation of $40,000. The Senate will of course, act formally on this request but it is hardly probable the House will

1.806 teachers of all classes, and 55,417 pupils, of whom 25,833 are females. The total expenditure for all purposes last year was $2,015,380 84 a decrease of over $65,000. The cost per scholar in the day schools for tuition and incidentals was $36.15, a decrease of seventy cents. Superintendent Philbrick thinks that question is an unswerving adherence to kindergartens in the less favored sections of the city would be of great service to parents who are too much occupied the people-Republicans and Democrats with their daily labor to give their children the care they need and that vacant poses with great confidence on the power school rooms might be used for this pur- of public opinion, which is crystalizing in pose,

A CABINET OFFICER'S VIEWS.

A member of the Cabinet, in a recent conversation with a correspondent of the New York Herald, expressed himself as Looking at the future of the Republican party I do not really believe that it will be for its ultimate advantage that it should continue in power under Mr. Hayes. I do not mean to say that Mr. Hayes has not been elected, but the suspicion of a non-election attaches to him and will attach to the Republican party during the next four years. In my opinion the severest blow that we could deal the Democratic party at the present time would be to surrender our position and allow Mr. Tilden to be inaugurated. The position open and working in the British Empire then would be this: He would have the House; the Republican party would have the Senate, so that no very great harm could be done. The laws, I mean the organic laws growing out of the amendments to the constitution and the reconstruction policy, could not be changed, and his administration would have to encounter the question of our financial, comnercial and industrial depression and provide a remedy. This no administraon could do, because our present unfortunate condition is due to causes over which alministrations have little or no

LOOKS LIKE WEAKENING. Some little while ago the Revolutionists n Louisiana, profiting by past experience, degraphed to President Grant requesting that United States troops be sent there I. for the purpose of 'maintaining the Kellogg dynasty in power. If this was not exactly the way they were asked for it was the purpose to which it was intended to apply them. The response went out Liles, of Ansoo. from the President on Monday, and, alas for the delusive hopes of the Revolutionists, It is currently reported, says the Wash- their prayer was not granted, the answer being in effect that the Administration did looked upon as a weakening of the administracive backbone and the course which the President has taken in thus refusing the call for troops has been warmly approved by prominent men of all shades of political opinion. That this refusal is based upon a returning sense of justice or a simple desire to do what is right in the premises is less evident than that there is premises is less evident than that there is the beginning of a panic in Grant and his Dowell, Mitchell and Yancey—G. They can carry out none of their schemes unless assured beforehand of the support of the Scuate, and the the cost would be about $110,000,000. Frelinghuysev, Edmunds and Conkling

WHAT SENATOR GORDON THINKS. Senator Gordon, of Georgia, has addressed a letter to Governor Colquitt of that State, which is approved by leading Democratic members of Congress. He thinks that Governor Tilden was fairly, peaceably, constitutionally elected. Such is the conviction he thinks of the country, of all Democrats, and of a large body of Republicans who supported Mr. Hayes. How any unp. ejudiced man can doubt it. or how his inauguration can be defeated with any show of compliance with law, seems to him beyond comprehension In An old man walked through Virginia view of the considerations which Senator no secret that there are Republicans in both houses of Congress who will never consent that the Vice-President of the United States shall exercise the extraordinary and dangerous powers which the extremists seek to confer upon him, and he knows of no other method by which Mr. Haves can be counted in. The very act of appointing a joint committee to report Boston has 509 day and evening schools, a plan would seem to be an abandonment of such a scheme and a recognition of the constitutional power of the two houses of Congress over the entire subject. The Constitution provides for all contingencies which have arisen and for all likely to arise in this case, and the surest guarantee of a aceful settlement of this grave the law and the precedents. AMERICAN LYCLOPADIA

NEW REVISED EDITION.

Entirely rewritten by the ablest writers on every subject. Printed from new type, ond illustrated with Several Thousand Engravings and Maps

The work originally published under the title of THE NEW AMERICAN CYLCOPÆ DIA was completed in 1873, since which time the wide circulation which it has attained in all parts of the United States and the signal developments which have taken place in every brance of science, literattre, and art, have induced the editor and pub-lisher to submit it to an exact and thorough revision, and to issue a new edition entitled THE AMERICAN CYCLOPÆDIA.

Within the last ten years the progress of discovery in every department of knowledge has made a new work of reference an imperative want.

The movement of political affairs have kept pace with the discoveries of science and their fruitful application to the industrial and useful arts and the convenience and refinement of social life. Great wars, and consequent revolutions have occurred, involving national changes of peculiar moment. The civil war of our country, which was at its height when the last volume of the old work appeared, has happily ended, and a new course of commercial and industrial activity has been commenced. Large accessions to onr geographical knowledge have been made by the indefatievery one is curious to know the particulars Great battles have been fought and important sieges maintained; of which the details are as yet preserved only in the newspapers or in the trasient publications of the day, and which ought now to take their place in permanent and authentic history.

In preparing the present edition for the press, it has accordingly been the aim of the editors to bring down the information to the lowest possible rates, and to furnish an accordingly been the simple of the lowest possible rates, and to furnish an according to the lowest possible rates, and to furnish an according to the lowest possible rates, and to furnish an according to the lowest possible rates, and to furnish an according to the lowest possible rates, and to furnish an according to the lowest possible rates, and to furnish an according to the lowest possible rates, and to furnish an according to the lowest possible rates, and to furnish an according to the lowest possible rates, and to furnish an according to the lowest possible rates. curate account of the most recent discoveries in science, of every frehs production in literaure, and of the newest inventions in the practical arts, as well as to give a succinct and original record of the progress political and historical events.

The work has been begun after long and careful preliminary labor, and with the most ample resources for carrying it on to a successful temination.

None of the original stereotype plates have been used, but every page has been printed on new type, forming, in fact, a new Cyclopædia, with the same plan and compass as its predesessor, but with a far greater pecuniary expenditure, and with such improvement in its governor; it is gove ment in its composition as have been suggested by longer experience and enlarged knowledge.

The illustrations which are introduced for the first time in the present edition nave been added not for the sake of pictorial effect, but to give greater lucidity and force to the explanations in the text. They embrace all branches of science and natural history, and depict the most famous and remarkable features of scenery, architecture and art, as well as the various processes of mechanics and manufactures. Although intended for instruction rather than embellishment pa instruction rather than embellishment, no pains have been spared to insure their artistic excellence; the cost of their execution is enormous, and it is believed they will find a welcome reception as an admirable feature of the Cyclopædia, and worthy of its high
