The Fayetteville Wide Awake steps down and out. Cause—lack of patronage and popular appreciation. We are sorry for its enterprising publisher.

The Thermometer.

From the United States Signal Office at this place we obtain the following report of the thermometer, as taken this morning at 7:31 o'clock:

Augusta, 62; Charleston, 62; Galveston 71; Jacksonville, 70; Mobile, 62; Montgomery, 60; New Orleans, 64; Norfolk, 54; Savannah, 66; Wilmington, 56.

A Good Wife.

There are three things which a good wife should resemble, and yet three things she should not resemble. She should be like a town clock—keep time and regularly. She should not be like a town clock so loud that all town may hear her. She should be like a snail—prudent and keep within her own house. She should not be like a snail—carry all she has upon her back. She should be like an echo—speak when spoken to. She should not be like an echo—determined always to have the last word.

Departed.

The seven sickly looking specimens of humanity that have been lingering around our streets lately, and who called themselves Arabs, have left us. It was through the exertions of officer Robert McKenzie and deputy clerk W. K. Price, at the City Hall, that they were enabled to secure the necessary funds to leave on. We understand that after paying their passage on the steamship Defenator, from here to New York, that their benefactors had enough money left to provide each one of them with one dollar apiece.

The Guns for the Cape Fear Artillery.

Capt. H. G. Flanner, commanding the above named company, received yesterday the following communication from the Adjutant General of the State:

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA,
OFFICE OF ADJUTANT GENERAL,
RALEIGH, May 9, 1877.

DEAR CAPTAIN:—It gives me real pleasure to inform you that the Battery has been ordered to be sent you by the Chief of Ordnance, from the New York Agency. He does not inform me as to the exact time when you may expect its arrival in Wilmington.

Yours truly, &c.,
JOHNSTONE JONES.

We suppose our affectionate Uncle Sam will permit the guns to reach here in time to fire a national salute on the fourth day of July. No blame can be attached, however, to any State officer for the delay, and maybe no government officer is to blame. We will not venture the assertion that there is any blame to be attached to any one anywhere; only, we will just mildly remark, that therequisition has been sent in almost, if not quite, long enough to have had the guns all melted up and recast.

Men who take it "staight" sometimes go it crooked.

Pic-Nic of the Grand Lodge.

The Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows, now in session at Salisbury, will have an excursion from that place to-day to Henry's, the terminus of the Western N. C. R. R., just at the foot of the Blue Ridge. The party propose to pic-nic at Henry's and will return to Salisbury to-night.

For the Smithville Sufferers.

Messrs. Crapon, Galloway and Craig, a Committee to solicit relief for the families of the lost Smithville pilots, have thus far succeeded in securing contributions in money amounting to $425. This is the result of one day's work and as they have not yet concluded their appeals the amount will be considerably increased.

The Excursionists.

The excursion of business men from the West will arrive in Richmond to-night and they will be handsomely entertained there to-morrow, the people of the city and the corporation uniting to render their stay in that city as pleasant as it will be possible to make it. They are expected here about next Wednesday.

City Directory.

Messrs. Sheriff & Co. are here collecting material and making arrangements for the publication of a directory of the city. The directory gotten out by them in 1875 was a very creditable one, and we are assured that the forthcoming work will equal if not surpass the former one. A good and complete directory is always a necessity in a city, and is certainly a very great convenience.

Action of the Produce Exchange.

At a meeting of the Produce Exchange held to-day, it was Resolved, that a committee of six, of which the President shall be chairman, be appointed to receive the visiting merchants from Cincinnati, Louisville and other Western cities, who are expected here on the 16th inst. and extend to them such courtesies as they may deem proper during their stay with us; and it was further resolved, that the other organizations of the merchants of the city, be requested to co-operate with the committee from the Produce Exchange in extending a welcome to the Western visitors.

Worthy Chief Templar.

Mrs. Rebecca Blodsoe Duxton has been appointed by the Grand Lodge I. O. G. T. District Deputy Worthy Chief Templar for the 8th District, composed of the counties of Bladen, Brunswick, Columbus, Cumberland, New Hanover, Moore, Richmond and Robeson. Officers and members of the several Lodges desiring to communicate with the District Deputy W. C. T. will send to her address at Fayetteville, N. C. Lodges requiring the presence of the Deputy will please notify her to that effect.

Simply Shameful.

A gentleman living on Third street who has given a great deal of his time and attention this Spring to his vegetable garden, and who had just begun to reap the reward of his industry in being able to supply his table with its early fruits, was greatly mortified and distressed when on going into his garden this morning to find that it had been almost entirely destroyed by a cow during the night. The gentleman's loss is quite heavy, especially so, when we take into consideration the fact that his family depended to a great extent on it for their Summer supply of vegetables. We are of the opinion that a law well directed loads of shot would have the effect of abating this intolerable nuisance.

The Murder in Duplin.

A private letter received in this city from Dr. J. Frank Newell, who examined the body, relative to the atrocious murder of Alex. McCullough, colored, near Hallsville, contains a full account of the dastardly affair, nearly all of which has, however, been anticipated. Dr. Newell describes McCullough as having been a quiet, inoffensive man, and the only motive which can be ascribed for the deed is that Sandlin, one of the murderers, could have freer access to his wife, with whom it is said that he had previously been on improper terms. Sandlin and his brother have both disappeared but a determined effort is being made to find them by an indignant and outraged community, and if they are caught they will receive the full punishment of the law. Mrs. Sandlin, the widowed mother of the young men, is an estimable lady, and has been utterly prostrated by the blow. The wife of the murdered man, who is thought to have been accessory to the fact, is passing the days of her widowhood in the county jail.

A Proper Correction.

We cheerfully give place to the following communication from Capt. Barr, commanding the Revenue steamer Colfax at this station. We will state, however, that our reporter in endeavoring to make up a correct account of the incidents and events of the day, made his tour of the wharf shortly before 3 o'clock, and noticed at that time the shipping in port that displayed their colors. We had no right to expect, neither did we expect, the Colfax to lower her colors, but in rendering an account of all the shipping in port we felt obliged to note the fact as we did, and as we thought it was, then. We certainly appreciate Capt. Barr's magnanimous conduct, and, as one who marched under the Confederate banner, we respectfully raise our chapetan to the commander of the Colfax in acknowledgement of the knightly courtesy shown by him on yesterday:

U. S. REVENUE STEAMER "COLFAX,"
WILMINGTON, N. C., May 11, 1877.
EDITOR OF REVIEW:

DEAR SIR:—In your notice of the ceremonies and observances of "Memorial Day," it was remarked that all the vessels in the port were dressed in flags, excepting the "Cutter."

Fearing a misunderstanding of the matter, I will be obliged to you to give a place to an explanation.

1st. No armed vessel of any government ever places the colors at half-mast in a domestic port, except by order from Headquarters.

2d. Officially, I would not half-mast the colors, even for the death of the President, except by order.

3d. No armed vessel over "dressed ship" as a mark of mourning.

4th. I had received no official notice of the ceremonies from the managers, nor any invitation to attend, except a courteous one, from my personal friends.

5th. The ceremonies being local and personal in their nature, it was not proper for a Government vessel to take part officially.

6th. The custom in armed vessels is, that the colors shall be half-masted at the commencement of any ceremony, in which they take part, and so remain until the close of the day.

Lastly—The colors and pendant of the "Colfax" were half-masted at 3 P. M. (at which time I was informed the ceremonies were to begin) and so remained, until hauled down as usual at sunset.

This was done simply as a mark of my personal sympathy with those who mourn for their honored and beloved dead.

Very Respectfully,
FRANK BARR,
Captain U. S. R. M.,
Comdr. of Rev. Str. Colfax.

I. O. O. F.—Meeting of the Grand Lodge in Salisbury.

(Cor. Raleigh Observer.)
Salisbury, May 9 1877.—The Grand Encampment I. O. O. F., of North Carolina convened in this city yesterday. The attendance was quite full and the proceedings were marked with much of interest to the Order. The following officers have been elected for the ensuing year, viz:

M. W. G. Chief Patriarch—T. B. Palamontain, Tarboro.

M. W. G. High Priest—C. M. Brown, Washington.

P. W. G. Senior Warden—J. L. Dudley, Wilmington.

R. W. G. Junior Warden—J. J. Stewart, Salisbury.

R. W. G. Secretary and Treasurer—R. J. Jones, Wilmington.

The Grand Lodge met last night at 8 o'clock in the handsome Hall of North State Lodge. Most of the subordinate Lodges in the State are represented by a highly respectable and intelligent body of men, and an enthusiastic feeling prevails as to the status and prospects of the Order—an Order which is daily diffusing countless blessings wherever it has a lodgment.

Last evening was consumed mainly in the examination of credentials. To-day business begins.

On Thursday night there is to be a grand public demonstration, when an address will be delivered by Grand Representative Seaten Gales, of your city.

On Friday there is to be an excursion to "Henry," present terminus of the Western N. C. R. R.

The following officers were to-day elected by the Grand Lodge I. O. O. F.:

Grand Master—A. J. Burton, of Weldon.

Deputy Grand Master—Theo. F. Klutz, of Salisbury.

Grand Warden—C. M. Brown, of Washington.

Grand Secretary—J. J. Litchford, of Raleigh.

Grand Treasurer—R. J. Jones, of Wilmington.

Grand Chaplain—N. M. Jurney, of Beaufort.

Grand Representative to the Grand Lodge of the United States—W. H. Bagley, of Raleigh.

"Why are your biscuits so delicious?" asked Mrs. A. of Mrs. X. "Because I'll have none other than DOOLEY'S YEAST POWDER in the house," was the reply. This commendation is echoed throughout the land. It is full and running over in weight, and the article itself perfectly pure and strong. All grocers keep

PLEASE NOTICE.

We will be glad to receive communications from our friends on any and all subjects of general interest but:

The name of the writer must always be furnished to the Editor.

Communications must be written only on one side of the paper.

Personalities must be avoided.

And it is especially and particularly understood that the editor does not always endorse the views of correspondents, unless so stated in the editorial columns.

Mutton-headed people don't go wool gathering.

"I say, Nell, do you know why that fellow who trod on my toes last night is like the commander of a regiment?" She did not know. "Because, he's a cur, Nell."

Mrs. Stowe says we never know how much we love until we try to unlove. To a man who has tried to quit smoking this needs no argument.

An old detective says: "If I desired to train my son for a detective I would first make him a newspaper reporter. That beyond any other business is the business that makes stupid men smart, ordinary men able, and capable men brilliant; and what an experienced reporter cannot detect is not worth detecting."

There is perhaps no more perfect picture of perplexity than the countenance of a man who finds in his pocket a letter which his wife gave him a month ago to mail, and holds it up to the light in a futile effort to determine whether there is anything in it that would convict him if he were to carry it in his pocket the rest of the year and mail it on the anniversary of the day on which it was written.

The Postage Law—Third-class Matter.

There is so much inquiry as to what constitutes third-class mail matter, and the rates of postage thereon that we copy for the benefit of the public, the following division such matter, which we find vouched for as correct in the Courier-Journal:

Almanacs, books, printed, calendars. Catalogues, corrected proofs, handbills. Magazines, when not sent to regular subscribers.

Maps, printed, lithographed, or engraved.

Music, printed sheet.

Newspapers, when not sent to regular subscribers.

Occasional publications. Pamphlets. Posters.

Proof-sheet. Prospectuses.

Regular publications, designed primarily for advertising purposes, or for free circulation at nominal rates.

The rate of postage on the above is one cent for each two ounces or fraction thereof.

Blank Books, Blank Cards, Book manuscript.

Card boards and other flexible material.

Chromo lithographs, Circulars, Engravings.

Envelopes, Flexible patterns.

Letter envelopes. Letter paper. Lithographs.

Merchandise. Models. Ornamented paper.

Postal cards, when sent in bulk and not addressed.

Photographic views. Photographic paper.

Printed blanks. Printed cards. Sample cards.

Samples of ores, metals, minerals and merchandise.

Seeds, cuttings, bulbs, roots and scions.

Stereoscopic views.

The rate of postage on the above is one cent for each ounce or fraction thereof.

Any article of mail matter, subject to postage at the rate of one cent for each ounce or fraction thereof, which may be included in the same package with items subject to the rate of one cent for each two ounces or fraction thereof, will subject the entire package to the highest rate, viz., one cent for each ounce or fraction thereof.

Inserts placed between the pages of periodicals but having no connection with such publications as property parts thereof, will subject the entire package to postage at the rate of one cent for each two ounces or fraction thereof.

Glass, poisons, &c., are not mailable, but packages carefully sealed up, and prepaid at letter rates, should be forwarded to destination without inquiring as to the contents, unless known to contain matter which will endanger the safety of the mail.
