Raleigh Observer: The many friends of Gen. Wiley D. Jones will deeply sympathize with him in this his hour of deep and sore affliction. His son-in-law, Mr. E. A. Carver, died Monday night of typhoid fever, and his daughter, Mrs. Carver, is lying at the point of death with the same disease. Yesterday morning his family instructor, Miss Cooper, died of the same fever. So there were two corpses in the house at one time, and another member of the family barely breathing.
Raleigh News: A correspondent in Barton's Creek township, this county, writes that he has a hen that laid seventy-three eggs at a litter. After performing this feat she treated herself to a well deserved month of recuperation and then commenced laying again, and at the next litter produced one hundred and seventy-seven eggs. She did not appear to have any disposition to set either time. Mayhap the truth of it was that there was but very little of her left. This fruitful biped is said to be still lively and healthy, and keeps on supplying the family with all the eggs they want.
