VIEWS AND REVIEWS.

The imports of dry goods for July reveal an increase of $570,338 over the same month last yesr.

Blind Tom is said to be losing his wonderful gift. Like Paul Morphy, the poor fellow must have overtasked that part of the brain which made him seem like a

A lot of street urchins paraded the streets of St. Louis with a tin pan by way of a drum, and a huge paper banner bearing the inscription, "We don't want bread. We want cake and pie or blood!"

The Young Men's Christian Association of Washingtan is using its best efforts to secure the services of Moody and Sankey for a meeting in October. The young men in Washington insist that no city on this continent stands more greatly in-need of religious effort. One of them says it is as true now as when Reverdy Johnson said it, over a quarter century ago, that "the man in the moon holds his nose when he goes over Washington."

The Calcutta Mohammedans have published an appeal to their Indian fellowsubjects of all creeds for help to the sick and wounded Turkish soldiers. Neither Christians nor Hindoos, however, have as yet shown any signs of responding. On the other hand, the Mohammedans of Singapore have quietly subscribed among themselves some $40,000 for remittance to Constantinople to aid in the war.

Father Ignatius, a Ritualist, has established in England a Benedictine monastry of which he is the Abbot. At a recent interview he thus expressed himself: "Many poor souls end their lives in a mad-house for want of a monastery. All men," he continued, "are not in love with the nineteenth century; the discoveries of modern science and the development of human thought give neither peace nor happiness."

Anna Brewster, writing from Rome says the pilgrimages have ended, and it i just as well they are over, for they have nearly killed the Pope ; if they had continued much longer he could not have survived. The sudden and unusual heat of the season, added to the fatigue of receiving such crowds of people, has made the Pope unusually feeble. One day recently his Holiness had a long fit of fainting. When he revived, his attendants and doctors, seeing that he was deeply affected by his situation, said encouraging words. The Pope shook his head and replied "Non me lusingate: lo sento bene disesser vicino alla mia fine." (Do not flatter. know well that I am near my end.)

Since the Czar's arrival on the Danube his communications with the Emperor Wilhelm have become uncommor by frequent. Telegrams announcing the passage of the Danube and the subsequent successes of the Russian army have been sent to the Kaiser at Ems at the same time that they were sent to the Empress at Czarskoe-Selo, and congratulatory answers came from the former frequently quicker than from the latter. The Emperor has [since left Ems. He spent two days with the Empress at Coblenz, paid a visit to the Grand Duke Ludwig IV at Darmstadt, and started for Gastein by way of the lake of Constanz and Munich. He travelled incognito. Orders were given to prevent as much as possible all publicity with reference to his journey. A short meeting with the Emperor Francis Joseph took place at Salzburg, and another interview, at which both Bismarck and Andrassy are to be present, has been arranged for the first days of August.

A correspondent of the N. Y. Evening Post gives a list of fashionable dances in Revolutionary times. These dances were "Flowers of Edinburgh," "Pea Straw," "Boston's Delight," "Haymaking," "College Hornpipe," "Faithful Shepherd," "Love and Opportunity," "Lady Hancock," "Innocent Maid," "Merry and Wise," "Stony Point," "Miss McDonald's Reel," "A Trip to Carlisle," "Free Mason's Jig." "Soldiers' Joy," and "I'll be Married in My Old Clothes," with many others, to the number in all of thirty-five. There is no mention of the minuet, but we have the figure of each, of the others. To dance "A Successfe! Campaign" lead down two comples on the outside and up the middl:, second couple the same, turn contrary partners, cast off, right hand and storming of the place by Gen. Wayne. To dance it, "first couple three hands round with the second lady, allemand; tiree hands round with the second gent'emen, allemand again; lead down two couples, up again, cast off one couple, hands round with third, right hand and left." To dance well in those days was a liberal SOUTH FROM Moltante

On dit, that the delegates from the "liberal wing" of the party in this State are to meet in convention soon at some point contiguous to clams and catfish where a platform of principles may be adopted and where arrangemnts will be made for a vigorous prosecution of the campaign in Virginia. Harmony and hominy, clam chowder and caution, pigfish and pig-headedness and crabs, fibious and amphibious, will mingle largely in the make-up of the party portfolios and the portly fold-overs.

THE NEW BOOK OF EXODUS.

It is gratifying to the moral sense, as well as instructive and amusing, says the Charleston News and Courier, to review the list of Radical politicians who once held high carnival in the State House, and ruled South Carolina with iron rods and brazen brows. DOf these the first to depart was Ex-Treasurer Niles G. Parker, against whom, during Chamberlain's term, the State obtained a verdict of $50,-000 for the fraudulent issue of Conversion bonds. He escaped from jail, was recaptured and released! under habeas corpus, and is in hiding in New Jersey. After l'arker, the roses hung sturdily upon their bushes, until the coming of Hamp-ton, when they begun falling thick and

1. The first under the new order of things, to disappear, was ex-Land Commissioner C. P. Leslie, who came to the conclusion that, when the Hampton govcrnment was firmly established, he could no longer clear his own skirts by threatening his accomplices.

2. After Leslie, and immediately upon Chamberlain's surrender, went J. Harvey Jones and E. V. Glover, carpet-bag Legislators of Georgetown county, who foresaw the wrath to come, and fled before the face of the sheriff.

3. Governor Hampton took formal possession of the State House on the 12th of April. On the night of the 11th of May, Mr. Daniel H. Chamberlain took his departure for New York.

1877, B. B. Whittemore, the fat fiend of Darlington and State Senator, departed for his home in Massachusetts, and has failed to respond to the affectionate request that he would come back and remove certain stains upon his escutcheon. 5. Mr. L. Cass Carpenter, formerly editor of the Radical organ of this State, ex-Congressman and ex-Revenue Collector, was arrested on the 28th of June at the instance of the Investigating Committee, charged with forgery, and is now out on bail awaiting trial.

6. Johnathan J. Wright, a Pennsylvania negro, Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, has been impeached by the Legislature for habitual drunkenness, and now awaits trial,

7. Y. J. P. Owens, ex-Senator from Laurens, who accumulated a large fortune by manipulating coupons and certificates, has mysteriously disappeared from the ken of South Caroliniaus.

A WAR GOVERNOR.

Gov. Hartranft, of Pennsylvania, it will be remembered, says the Macon Telegraph, offered Grant 100,000 militia of his State to enforce the counting in of Hayes and Wheeler. The same Hartranft was scared nearly out of his boots by the Pittsburg rioters, and lustily called on the Federal government for protection. It is not at all surprising to see a man who was so disgustingly officious in tendering his aid to set up a vile fraud so frightened by a mob that he was ready to submit to it be-

EATING ITS HEAD OFF

The last circular of Dun, Barlow & Co figured out the public indebtedness of the United States, in its various forms, at $7,375,000,000. Interest on this at six per cent., $430,000,000 a year, is greater than the surplus grain and cotton product. The St. Louis Farmer, adding private debts to the gross sum above mentioned swells the amount to $10,000,000 Placing the interest, a fair average, at eight per cent., there is an annual demand of $800,000,000. Adding to the gress interest the current expenses of the Federal and State governments, at least $600,000,000, we have the terrible load of $1,400,000,000, to carry. If $430,-000,000 will wipe out the surplus cotton and grain, what have we to meet the ballance-$970,000,000-with? The country is being eaten up cancerously by an unmanageable interest. If something be not quickly done to lessen the burden, or to increase the production of wealth to pay the debt, without crushing industry and enslaving the workmen, the Augusta Chronicle thinks that no man need look to the future for repose or prosperity.

AFFAIRS IN MISSISSIPPI.

General Steward L. Woodford, United States District Attorney of New York 4. On the 13th day of May, A. D. who delivered the commencement address before the students of the University of Oxford, Mississippi, a few weeks age has made a statement of the result of h observations in that State, which, coming from a strong Republican source, is worthy of notice. General Woodford said to reporter of the Washington Republican

"What attracted my attention more than anything else was that nearly every-body, white and black, was at work. J have been South during the past few years several times, and I never saw fewer men lounging about the stores than I did on the occasion of this last visit. I was also struck with the fact that there were nearly as many acres of corn under cultivation as of cotton, so that if the cetton crop fails the people down there need not be at a loss for the necessaries of life, with a lian thinkers and scholars of this country. good crop of corn in their granaries. A Washington paper says: "There are so many carpet-bag ex-officials of South Carolina weeping around Washington that when they are taken back to the State on criminal warrants the bar-: ooms will be entirely descried."

It is rather significent that all the late disturbances took place in Republican localities. Chicago and Pittsburg are Republican cities, and l'ennsylvania is a 14. On the 25th, A. O. SCRIBNER'S MONTHLY.

AA UNBIVALED ILLUSTRATED MAGAZINI

When Scribner Issued its famous Midsummer Holiday Number in July, a friendly critic said of it: "We are not sure but that Scribner has touched high-water mark. We do not see what worlds are left to it to conquer." But the publishers do not consider that they have reached the ultima thule of excellence-they believe "there are other worlds to conquer, and they propose to

The prospectus for the new volume gives the titles of more than fifty papers (mostly illustrated), by writers of the highest merit. Under the head of

we have "A winter on the Nile," by Gen. Mc-Clellan ; "Saunterings About Constantinople," by Charles Dudley Warner; "Out of My Window at Moscow," by Eugene Schuy-ler; "An American in Turkistan," etc. Three serial stories are announced:

By Dr. Holland, the Editor, whose story of "Sevenoaks" gave the highes satisfaction to the readers of the Monthly. The scene of this latest novel is laid on the banks of the Hudson. The hero is a young man who has been always "tied to a woman" apron strings," but who, by the death of his mother, is left alone in the world, -to drift on the current of life, -with a fortune, but with-Another serial, "His Inheritance," by Miss Trafton, will begin on the completion of "That Lass o' Lewrie's, ' by Mrs. Hodgson Burnett. Mrs. Burhett's story, begun in August, has a pathos and dramatic power which have been surprise to the public. There is to be a series of original and exjuisitely illustrated papers of "Popular Science," by Mrs. Herrick, each paper complete in itself. There are to be, from various pens, papers

"Home Life and Travel." Also, practical suggestions as to town and country life, village improvements, etc., by well-known specialists. Mr. Barnard's articles on various industries of Great Britain include the history of "Some Expriments in Co-operation," "A Scottish Loaf Factory" in the November number, and "Toad Lane, Rochdale," in December. Other papers are, "The British Workingman's Home," "A Nation of Shop-

NEW REVISED EDITION.

itirely rewritten by the ablest writers on every subject. Printed from new type ond illustrated with Severai Thousand

Engravings and Maps
The work originally published under the Little of THE NEW AMERICAN CYLCOPA DIA was completed in 1873, since which time the wide circulation which it has attained in all parts of the United States and the signal developments which have taken place in every brance of science, literattre and art, have induced the editor and publisher to submit it to an exact and thorough revision, and to issue a new edition entitled THE AMERICAN CYCLOP EDIA. Within the last ten years the progress of discovery in every department of knowledge has made a new work of reference an im-

The movement of political affairs have kept pace with the discoveries of science and their fruitful application to the industrial and useful arts and the convenience and refinement of social life. Great wars, and consequent revolutions have occurred, involving national changes of peculiar moment. The civil war of our country, which was at its height when the last volume of the old work appeared, has happily ended, and a new course of commercial and industrial activity has been commenced.

Large accessions to our geographical knowledge have been made by the interatigable explorer of Africa. The great political revolutions of the last decade, with the natural result of the lapse of time, have brought into public view a multitude of new men, whose names are in every one's mouth, and of whose lives every one is curious to know the particulars Great battles have been fought and important sieges maintained; of which the details are as yet preserved only in the newspapers or in the trasient publications of the day, and which ought now to take their place in permanent and authentic history. In preparing the present edition for the press, it has accordingly been the aim of the editors to bring down the information to the lowest possible rates, and to furnish an accurate account f the most recent discoveries in science, of every frehs production in literaure, and of the newest inventions in the practical arts, as well as to give a succinct and original record of the progress political and historical events. The work has been begun after long and careful preliminary labor, and with the most ample resources for carrying it on to a succ ssful temination.

None of the original stereotype plates have been used, but every page has been printed on new type, forming, in fact, a new Cyclopeedia, with the same plan and compass as ts predesessor, but with a far greater pecunlary expenditure, and with such improvement in its composition as have been suggestedby longer experiencea ndenlarged know-

The illustrations which are introduced for the first time in the present edition nave been added not for the sake of pictorial ef-fect, but to give greater lucidity and force to the explanations in the text. They embrace all branches of science and natural history, and depict the most famous and remarkable features of scenery, architecture and art, as well as the various processes of mechanics instruction rather than embellishment, no pains have been spared to insure their artistic excellence; the cost of their execution is enormous, and it is believed they will find a welcome reception as an admirable feature of the Cyclopædia, and worthy of its high
