Raleigh Observe: The President of the State National Bank received a letter yesterday commencing as follows: "Dear I can't pay you that money now.

Statesville Landmark: We have Toceived, from a gentleman . who has just returned from a trip through Surry and Stokes counties, the gladdening intelligence that the tobacco crops in those counties are more favorable than ever known before in the history of tobacco culture.

Raleigh Observer: The Secretary

Augusta Air-Line Railroad has been completed to Hamlet, and in a few days a sleeping car will fun through from Charlotte to Weldon. No rates or time table have been published as yet, but it is understood that quick time will be made between this point and Norfolk with a view of competing for the passenger travel to and from the North, while the rate will doubtless be the same as by other routes.

Statesville Landmark: Mr. Humphrey Reid; who resides near Cool Springs, in this county, had his barn, together with 60 or more bushels of wheat, gearing and other articles of minor value, destroyed by fire. Also a valuable threshing machine. belonging to Messrs. Walter & Steele, whose company had been threshing in the barn that day. Several persons were sleeping in the barn the night it burned, and barely escaped with their lives. It is thought to have been the work of an incendiary.

Weldon News: Mr. W. T. McMarks, living about ten miles from this place, has Monday, He also sent specimens of the Agriculture, and to Prof. Kerr, State the 10th inst. Dog story in Charlotte Observer : In proof of the fact that a dog does reason, we cite the instance of one which found himself in the streets a few mornings ago without a collar on, and a policeman taking a dead aim at him with a musket. He was an old stager; he never had worn any collar, and still he had passed through every dog-killing season unscathed. At the instant the gun fired the dog dropped to the ground. He moaned piteously once or twice and then his voice was stilled and his form motionless. The policeman ran up the street to get a cart in which to have the carcass hauled off, and when he returned there was an equal absence of any dog and any evidence of blood in the street. Dog hadn't been touched. Had been there before.

(Charlotte Observer.) Dead in the Woods-The Bodies of Three Men Found with Bullet

Holes Through Them. A story of singular horror comes to us from Wilkes county; a story which would be hardly credible if it had come through a less reliable man than Mr. Thomas P. Denny, a former citizen of Wilkes, but now a resident of the southern part of this common. Mr. Denny, returning from a visit to his old home, was in the city go, in the lower edge of Wilkes county, near the Yadkin line—a section of the small orders higher prices have to be charged. yesterday and reports that a few days county which is sparsely populated and almost entirely out of communication with the outside world-there were found the bodies of three men named Speaks, Mitchell and Johnston, the bodies pierced with balls and entirely lifeless.
