

THE DAILY REVIEW.

VOL. 2. WILMINGTON, N. C., WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 31, 1877. NO. 241

LOCAL NEWS.

New Advertisements.
Mrs. L. FLANAGAN—Millinery and Fancy Goods.
S. JAWETT—Something Nice.
MUNSON & Co.—Cotton Flannel Drawers.
J. A. SPRINGER—Prices of Coal.
A. SHRIER—Very Low.
H. BURKHIMER—Special Notice.
JOS. E. SAMPSON, Register of Deeds—Renew at Once.
L. VOLLERS—Spiced Pig Feet.

The Berger Bell Ringers are down in Alabama.
Breaches of trust—those the tailor isn't paid for.

Four weeks to "Thanksgiving," dating from to-morrow.
The butt of the rifle often makes the rifleman the butt of ridicule.

Quite a number of coots were offered for sale in market this morning.
This issue of the REVIEW is printed on paper made entirely from wood. How do you like it?

Castles in the air are very well in their way, and their owner generally pays no taxes on real estate.

There is a large number of strangers in the city in attendance upon the Superior and U. S. District Courts.

The cow nuisance will soon be adopted and we delight in the idea that the streets of the city will no longer look like a cow pen.

Ladies are awful frail beings, but when a man has to put on a thick overcoat, ladies are plenty warm enough in a thin lace shawl.

There has been an immense amount of rainfall in the past few days. The road between this city and the sound is almost a sheet of water.

Dr. Snow, of Providence, R. I., a high medical authority, says: "Where sunlight, dryness, cleanliness and pure air prevail, diphtheria cannot."

To-day is the Festival of the Reformation and Dr. Bernheim will lecture this evening at St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church, corner of Market and Sixth sts.

The "Parisian Blondes and the Red Stocking Minstrels" are in Richmond, where they played last night, and are heading this way. They play Adam and Eve with Adam and the fig leaf left out.

It is stated on good authority that vegetables, the edible parts of which ripen under ground, such as potatoes, carrots and parsnips, are heat producing, while those that ripen above ground are cooling.

We were struck yesterday with the neat and cleanly appearance of the U. S. Court Room. The Marshal we think deserves some credit in having thus far kept the building in so neat a condition. We venture the assurance it is the cleanest court room in the State.

Church Services.
November 1st, 1877.—Joint Services in St. James' and St. John's Parishes—All Saints' Day.—Morning Prayer and Celebration of the Lord's Supper at St. James Church at 11 o'clock.

The Extension.
The Street Car track has been laid up Market, to Seventeenth street, and the cars will run over the newly laid track on or before Monday next. The switch between Eighth and Ninth streets has not yet been completed, but will probably be so by to-morrow night.

The Raleigh News says: We saw the Auditor's office yesterday the register or book of "privilege taxes," of New Hanover county, prepared by Alfred B. Lind, deputy clerk of that county, which is the neatest and most artistic thing of the kind we ever saw. It ought to be adopted as a model.

Caution to the Public
We understand there are unprincipled grocers and dealers who palm off on unwary purchasers Yeast Powder in bulk, or loose, for the genuine DOOLEY'S YEAST POWDER. For the protection of housekeepers and the public generally, we are authorized to state that the genuine DOOLEY'S YEAST POWDER is sold only in cans, securely labeled. The fac-simile signature of DOOLEY & BROTHERS, the manufacturers, is plainly printed on each label.

Just Received
Silk and Worsted Fringes. The most complete assortment in the city.
BROWN & RODDICK.

Lecture at Lippitt's Hall.

We have been requested to state that Rev. W. G. McKinney, a colored minister of the Episcopal Church, will lecture again next Friday evening, in Lippitt's Hall, the proceeds of the collection which will be taken up to go towards the erection of a church in Charlotte for the colored Episcopalians in that city.

Superior Court.
The case of Robert Smith, charged with the murder of James Murphy, removed from Bladen, came up for trial this morning. The entire forenoon was consumed in getting a jury, when Court adjourned to 3 o'clock. The following comprise the jury:

Luhr Vollers, R. H. Graat, W. H. Cotton, colored, Robert Henning, W. A. Willson, Sam'l C. Nixon, colored, E. G. Whitney, Isaac B. Northrop, W. L. Jacobs, Thos. Brownelle, colored R. M. McIntire, Elijah Lane, colored.
A large number of witnesses will be examined and the case excites a great deal of interest.

All Saints' Day.
To-morrow, the first of November, is celebrated in the Episcopal Church as the Festival of all Saints. The term "All Saints" is construed to mean all good and holy persons who have died in the faith and were distinguished for their holiness, and the object in view in commemorating them is to honor God by calling to mind their virtues and to encourage Christians by their good examples. On this Festival day the Churches are generally draped with solemn insignia and here with us the grey drooping moss, relieved here and there by a few colorless flowers, is generally the adornment used in the body of the church. The services are solemn but not sad and beautiful and impressive, for it is not an occasion when sorrow should be felt; the Church does not mourn for those who died the death of the righteous and who now rest in Paradise awaiting the sound of the archangel's trumpet.

Hon. A. M. Waddell.
It is a fortunate thing for the people of the entire South, as well as of this State, that Hon. Alfred M. Waddell, the Representative in Congress from this district has been made Chairman of the Postal Committee in the House. Mr. Speaker Randall has shown remarkable discernment. Col. Waddell has made himself thoroughly conversant with the subject, and we do not think that any other member of the present Congress could be found who would fill the position more acceptably than will he. He has carefully studied that branch of the public service and his views thereon have been eagerly sought for as was sufficiently attested last Spring, when a communication from him, published in this paper, was read all over the country, one of the applicants for a copy of the paper containing it having been Postmaster James, of New York, and the communication itself having afterwards been published in the New York World with a warm editorial endorsement. In this instance it is evident that Col. Waddell is the right man in exactly the right place.

A Tragedy in Rockingham.
We learn of a tragedy which occurred at Rockingham yesterday morning. The jailer at that place, Mr. Alex. McDonald, entered as usual the jail yesterday morning, for the purpose of giving the prisoners confined there their breakfast. He had on him his pistol and as he always does locked the door behind him. While in the act of giving out the meal three prisoners, all colored, and all confined on a charge of murder in the same case, sprang upon him at the same time and threw him to the floor, where one of them choked him while the others endeavored to wrest from him the keys of the jail. In the course of the scuffle Mr. McDonald managed to get one hand free and thereupon quickly drew his pistol, shooting one of the prisoners, a fellow named Caness alias Jackson, and killing him on the spot and dangerously wounding another. The third party thereupon desisted, whereupon Mr. McDonald threw himself upon the man and secured him. It was a hard fight, one man against three, and the one man conquered and that too, without any assistance from the outside, which could not be had, as Mr. McDonald had the keys of the jail in his possession while he was being overpowered by the ruffians. The wounded man is seriously injured and may die.

Hotel Arrivals.
PURCELL HOTEL, Cobb Bros. Proprietors, October 30, 1877.—J. P. High, Whiteville; H. B. Short, Jr., Lake Waccamaw; Wm A. Gutherie, O. H. Blocker, Thomas A. Sutton, A. H. Worth, Fayetteville; D. Cromartie, W. W. Sutton, Evander Singletary, Bladen county; R. C. Badger, Raleigh; Wm B. Fanner, Philadelphia; L. A. Powell, Sampson; Hon. Geo. Davis, J. G. Burr, E. Everett, W. R. Kenan, city; G. W. Peggam, Virginia; Jno L. Collier, Georgia; R. T. Miller, Cincinnati; Capt Wm P. Graves, wife and servant, Capt A. D. Wolfe, wife and servant, U. S. A. John McKenzie, North Carolina; Thomas McGrary, Charlotte.

Good Samaritans.

The Charlotte Observer says: About ninety Good Samaritans and Daughters of Samaria, from Wilmington, arrived in this city last evening, and marched up Tryon street from the depot, preceded by a brass band. They have come to participate in the celebration of the anniversary of the two lodges of this order in this city to-day.

The Parade Yesterday.
After all, defying the inclement weather, the Cadets of the Cape Fear Military Academy, under command of the Principal, Maj. Burgess, concluded to brave the elements and parade yesterday afternoon, which they did to the delight of all beholders. The little fellows (and some of them are bigger than we are) presented a splendid appearance. They were without arms, but the precision with which they executed the marching movements called forth many expressions of approval.

Fine Tobacco.
Attention is invited to the advertisement of Mr. H. Burkholder as it appears in this issue. He has just received a large lot of beautiful tobacco, of approved brands, which he is prepared to offer to the trade, as well as to consumers, on very favorable terms. Mr. Burkholder's establishment is the oldest tobacco house in the State and all who trade with him may rest satisfied that everything will be found as represented.

U. S. District Court.
The following cases were disposed of by the United States District Court this morning:

N. B. Taylor, retailing liquor without a license. Case continued.
Same for peddling also continued.
John Dodge, judgment nisi.
Peter Evans, col., retailing liquor without license. Guilty.
Chas. R. Lawton, embezzeling money from Post Office at Magnolia. Submitted.
Francis Faulk, for distilling liquor without giving proper bond. Acquitted.

A Decision Rendered.
The case of the Bank of New Hanover vs. Williams, Black & Co., which has been pending in the Superior Court here ever since last Thursday morning, was brought to a decision here this morning by a decision from the Bench in favor of the defendants. Judge Moore, in announcing this decision, said in preface that he would make no remarks on the merits of the case but would simply find for the defendants. The case will be appealed to the Supreme Court. The amount involved was originally but little less than $3,000 but the interest and costs will probably increase it to nearly $5,000.

The receipts of cotton here to-day foot up 1,360 bales.
At this writing, 4 p. m., the indications are for clear and cold weather.

Liquor dealers whose license expires to-morrow, are invited by the Register of Deeds to walk up and renew.

Alderman F. W. Foster, who has been visiting his friends and relatives in the North for the past month, returned this morning. Mr. Foster was in Richmond at the Hayes ovation yesterday and describes it as a brilliant affair.

October steps down and out to-day without having had one cold day in the entire month.
