(Special to News and Courier.) THE THIRD CONVICTION.

L. Cass Carpenter to Expiate His Rascalities.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Tuesday, November 13.—At 4 o'clock this evening the jury in the Carpenter case notified the court that they had agreed upon the verdict, and after a few minutes the solicitor and the clerk arrived. After the usual questions the jury rendered a verdict of guilty.

The verdict was not unexpected by the audience, as it appears from the testimony that Carpenter's guilt was clear, and the verdict a foregone conclusion.

Judge Carpenter, for the accused, offered the usual motion in arrest of judgment and an application for a new trial, upon the grounds that the verdict was in conflict with the testimony. At the same time, anticipating that the Judge would overrule the motion, he made a pathetic appeal in behalf of the prisoner, and hoped his Honor would consider the health of the accused and the apparently insignificant character of the offense as compared with other and more wealthy delinquents. Judge Townsend promised to consider the case when he came to pronounce sentence, and the court adjourned until Friday morning at 10 o'clock.

CAROLINA.

The stockholders of the Charlotte, Columbia & Augusta R. R., are to meet in Columbia on the 23d inst.

Charlotte Observer: The Young Men's Christian Association of this city is observing the week of prayer appointed by the international association, according to the programme published in Sunday's Observer. The prayers last night were for God's blessing on Christian association work generally; to-night the prayer will be that Christian young men may realize their responsibilities to others.

Charlotte Observer: A greater number of North Carolinians will attend the Columbia Fair, which began yesterday, than were ever seen at any previous exhibition of the South Carolina Agricultural Society. Charlotte will be quite fully represented. Several of our citizens have already gone and there are others yet to go. To-day and to-morrow will be the great days. To-day Gov. Vance is to deliver the annual address.

Statesville Landmark: On the 6th inst. Bennetts Mountain, some distance above Taylorsville, Alexander county, was the scene of a bloody shooting affray. Henry Hoke, formerly of Catawba county, and W. W. Stine were the participants. The affray resulted in Stine's shooting Hoke three times in different parts of the body with a pistol. At last accounts Hoke was still living, but in a very critical condition. Stine has been arrested, and is now confined in the Alexander county jail at Taylorsville. Too much brandy was the cause of the difficulty.

Statesville Landmark: Some years ago, the famous "Radical Big Injun" of the late campaign in Wilkes, better known as Steve Johnston, brought suit against parties in that county for a tract of land, the total value of which does not exceed two hundred dollars. A question of title was involved. Believing he would not get justice done him in Wilkes, Steve removed the case to Alexander county, where, after a number of postponements, the case was finally decided in favor of the defendants, thus leaving the costs for the Big Injun to pay. His lawyers' fees and the costs together amounted to the sum of two thousand dollars and more. This is an actual fact.

Important Rail Road Suit.

A bill has been filed in the United States Circuit Court by Colin M. Hawkins in his own name and all others who hold mortgage bonds of the Atlantic & North Carolina Railroad against the officials of said Road and summons issued for the defendants to appear before said Court in this City on Thursday afternoon the fourth Monday in November, to show cause why a receiver of the road should be appointed according to the prayer of the bill. It will be remembered that a branch of this case involving pretty much the same issues was tried in our State Courts and taken up to the Supreme Court where a decision was rendered in favor of the defendants. Mr. Hawkins being a resident of the State of Maryland brings his suit in the United States Court. The case promises to be one of much interest. The best legal talent of the State is employed on both sides, and the argument will be worth hearing.

Almost Murder.

E. C. Harmon was convicted of the murder of Elisha Tribit at the Fall term of Watauga court, and Judge Cleud sentenced him to be hanged on the 26th of October. Messrs. Armfield and Folk, the defendant's attorneys, appealed to the Supreme Court. This was the first man ever convicted of murder in that county and the officers up there not knowing much about "this appalling business," prepared for the execution on the 26th. The scaffold was erected on the 23d, and ministers paid frequent visits to the condemned man. On the 24th and 25th the poor fellow began to pray for life and death, sing the songs of Zion from a lonesome, and called for his attorneys. The morning of the 26th dawned clear, the village was crowded with people anxious to witness the execution. At 10 o'clock a messenger arrived, bearing a letter from Col. Geo. N. Folk to the sheriff, informing him that an appeal was taken and that if he hung the prisoner he was liable to indictment for murder. Had the messenger arrived an hour later Harmon would have been executed.

Germany Wants Belgium.

LONDON, Nov. 13.—The Pall Mall Gazette's leader asserts that Germany is urging Belgium to accept a German protectorate and make her military system conform to that of Germany in return for a German guarantee of Belgium's independence in all other respects and for territorial compensation. Germany argues that Belgium, in the event of another Franco-German war, would probably be the battle ground and be absorbed by the victor. A military convention with Belgium now would render Germany unassailable. The Gazette believes that these arguments have already made great way in high quarters.

APPLETON'S AMERICAN CYCLOPEDIA NEW REVISED EDITION.

Entirely rewritten by the ablest writers on every subject. Printed from new type, and illustrated with several thousand engravings and vignettes.

The work originally published under the title of THE NEW AMERICAN CYCLOPEDIA was completed in 1858, since which time the wide circulation which it has attained in all parts of the United States and the signal developments which have taken place in every branch of science, literature, and art, have induced the editor and publisher to submit it to an exact and thorough revision, and to issue a new edition entitled THE AMERICAN CYCLOPEDIA.

Within the brief period of the progress of discovery in every department of knowledge has made a new work of reference an imperative necessity. The movement of political affairs has kept pace with the discoveries of science and their fruitful application to the industrial and useful arts, and the convenience and refinement of social life, and the great and consequent revolutions have occurred, involving national changes of peculiar moment. The civil war of our country, which was at its height when the last volume of the old work appeared, has happily ended, and a new course of commercial and industrial activity has been commenced.

Large accessions to our geographical knowledge have been made by the indefatigable explorer of Africa. The great political revolutions of the last decade, with their general result of the lapse of time, have brought into view a multitude of new men, whose names are in every one's mouth, and of whose lives every one is anxious to know the particulars. Great battles have been fought and important sieges maintained, of which the details are as yet preserved only in the newspapers or in the transient publications of the day, and which ought now to take their place in permanent and authentic history.

The work, as begun after long and careful preliminary labor, and with the most ample resources for carrying it on to a successful termination. None of the original stereotype plates have been used, but every page has been printed on new type, forming, in fact, a new Cyclopaedia, with the same plan and compass as its predecessor, but with a far greater pecuniary expenditure, and with such improvement in its composition as has been suggested by longer experience and enlarged knowledge.

The illustrations which are introduced for the first time in the present edition have been added not for the sake of pictorial effect, but to give greater lucidity and force to the explanations in the text. They embrace the sciences of science and natural history, and depict the most important and remarkable features of scenery, architecture and art, as well as the various processes of mechanics and manufactures. Although intended for instruction rather than amusement, no pains have been spared to insure their artistic excellence, and the cost of their execution is enormous, and it is believed they will find a welcome reception as an admirable feature of the Cyclopaedia, and worthy of its high character.

This work is sold to subscribers only, payable on delivery of each volume. It will be completed in sixteen large octavo volumes, each containing about 800 pages, fully illustrated with several thousand wood engravings, and with numerous colored lithographic maps.

Price and Style of Binding. In extra cloth, per vol. $5.00; In Library Leather, per vol. $6.00; In Half Turkey Morocco, per vol. $7.00; In Half Russia, extra gilt edges, per vol. $10.00; In Full Russia, per vol. $10.00.

Thirteen volumes now ready. Succeeding volumes, until completion, will be issued once in two months. A specimen page of the AMERICAN CYCLOPEDIA, showing type, illustrations, etc., will be sent free to any subscriber. First-Class Canvassing Agents Wanted. Address the Publishers, D. APPLETON & CO., 549 & 55 BROADWAY, N. Y.
