Valuable Papers. *

We have before us now four papers which are of great intreinsic value as relics of some of the illustrious dead of the mighty past of this American Union. One of these papers is a letter from Chief Justice Marshall, of Virginia, written from Paris under date of April 12th, 1798, and addressed to Mr. James Hooe, at Nantz, desiring him to secure for him a passage to America. Another of the papers is a letter from President Monroe, entirely an autograph letter, dated Paris, June 27th, 1796, and addressed to Mr. James Hooe in charge of Mr. LaMotte, at Havre. The subject matter of the letter is in response to a communication from Mr. Hope to Mr. Madison, their Minister at the French Court, in reference to his (Mr. Hooe's) appointment to the Consulate at Harve.

The third paper is in the shape of a bond for making over a tract of land, written throughout and signed by the hand of the gallant Light Horse Harry Lee, the father of our own Robert E. Lee. The chrography in this letter is of peculiar kind, bold, dashing, aggressive, and seemingly characteristic of all we have been told relative to the writer.

The fourth and last of the series is a letter signed by no less a person than the illustrious Washington himself. It was written from Philadelphia under date of August 7th., 1793, and is addressed to Col. Robert Hooe, Alexandria, Va., and the subject matter of the letter is relative to the settement of an estate.

These venerable and valuable papers were given to Col. Jas. G. Burr, of this city, at Goldsboro, last week, by Dr. John H. Hill, an old Wilmingtonian, but now a resident of Goldsboro, he having received them at Alexandria many years ago. They were presented to Col. Burr to dispose of as he thought best, and 'he has determined upon presenting them, to the Historical and Scientific Society of this city at their next meeting.

> [Reported oor the Review.] Sampson Fair.

CLINTON, Friday, Dec. 14, 1877, The weather for the past few days has been very auspicious for the fair.

The attendence on Wednesday and Thursday was slim though on Friday everybody and his aunt turned out to hear Vance speak, which was the event of the occasion so to speak. By the way, speaking of Vance, reminds us that as he appeared on the grounds to-day, the brass band struck up the lively air of Dixie, which the old war Governor of North Carolina seemed to enjoy as much as the immense throng of spectators, who had assembled from far and near to listen to His Excellency's speech. For a country Fair the Sampson Fair will compare favorably with any held in the State. Floral Hall is well filled with the neat, handy work of the ladies, and consists of every variety and species of needle work, and in the culinary department we think the Sampson county ladies will equal if not suspass any in the Southern country. In Agricultural Hall the display was not as good as we had expected to see though the specimens exhibited were very fine. The exhibition of stock and poultry is exceedingly fair, numbers of thoroughbred hogs and cattle being on exhibition.

On the grounds are all the catch penny arrangements usually attendant on Fairs; but their legitimate receipts are not what was expected and in all probability some of them will have to leave their little game with the proprietor of the Hotel.

The newspaper fraternity is well represented; Capt. Sanders and Mr. Best of the Raleigh Observer, have pitched their tent on the grounds, and are entertaining their friends in royal good style. Besides the above named representatives of the Press, the Raleigh News, Fayetteville Gazette, Goldsboro Messenger, Wilson Advance, Wilmington Democrat, Farmer and Mechanic, Daily Review and Wilmington Journal, are also represented.

To-night the event of the season in the eyes of the youth and beauty of Clinton will be the ball, which will take place at the Academy. Every one is looking forward to it, and seems bent on having a good time.

Gov. Vance, while here, is the guest of the Mr. Edwin W. Kerr, and has been the recipient of several testimonials of public favor in the way of serenades and cheers from the people as he would pass along the streets. As we write the Governor is speaking, and, judging by the hearty cheers and applause which our worthy Governor is receiving, we imagine his audience is well pleased.

The racing is between horses of local fame, and some of them were very pretty and exciting, though no extraordinary time has so far been made.

The Fair financially was a success, and we are glad to learn that a sufficient amount of money was taken in at the gate and ball to pay off the debt of the Association and the premiums offered for meritorious articles on exhibition.

TolMr. W. K. Pigford, President of the Association and Mr. Hardy Royal, one of his able assistants, we doff our hat for courtesies and attention shown us. Before closing our report we must speak of the success of Mr. W. McLauchlin and Chas. Johnson, of this city, agents of Wheeler & Wilson's sewing machines, over their competitors. The Judges in this departmen unanimously awarded the prize to the Wheeler & Wilson machine, and our young friend, .Mr. McLauchlin, gained more glory for himself by selling the lady operative of a compeditive machine, one of the machines he represented.

Mayor's Court.

F. Anderson, a white seaman, was tried for being drunk and disorderly on the strests. He was fined $10, and committed until the money is forthcoming.

Charles Collins, assault and battery, case continued until to-morrow.

Delafair Towers and Abo McKenzie, for fighting, were fined $2.10 each.

Isham Smith, for being disorderly, was fined $10 and also committed until the fine is paid.

Brooklyn was on its muscle Saturday night and as a consequence there was a general knock down and drag out entertainment which lasted until a Justice of the Peace commanded the force in the name of the State.

Maurice Daly and Cyrelle Dion, two noted billiardist, passed through this city last night en route for Charleston where they play to-night, and give exhibitions of their skill. They played in Raleigh Thursday and Friday nights.

Interesting Postal Rulings.

CONKLING'S TERMS.

The Betirement of Evarts Before h Will Accept Overtures from Hayes.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.-The Administration is unquestionably in a sad quandary about the New York appointments. Haves wants to stand by Evarts, and probably will, but a strong pressure is being brought to bear on him to induce him to carry the issue with Conkling no further. It is known that John Sherman has taken pains to let Conkling know that he had no sympathy with the personal fight which Evarts had made against him, and the nominations of Roosevelt and Prince were made in spite of his advice to the contrary. But, notwithstanding these facts, it is known here that Hayes still stands by him to yield. The reception by the Union League of New York city to Hayes is to be utilized by the Anti-Conkling Republicans to stiffen backbone, and it is thought that after the holiday recess the Southern Democrats will be able to dragoon their Northern colleagues to supporting Hayes against Conkling. Conkling has no idea of making advances to Hayes, and would undoubtedly reject any that might be made to him so long as Evarts remains in the Cabinet. His only terms will be the retirement of Evarts in Newbernian: The schooner "Mary L. Chase," wrecked near Hatteras inlet a few days after the loss of the "Huron," has had her cargo, consisting of one hundred thousand cocoanuts and a large quantity of fustic, washed ashore at that point.

Charlotte Democrat: In accordance with an application we sent to the Postmaster General, "Hebron P. O." has been opened at 7-mile Pump on the C., C. & A. Railroad, this county. Another new office has been opened in this county called "River View," W. B. Withers P. M. This office is on the road from Charlotte to Beattie's Foard, near the latter point.

Charlotte Democrat: About 18 months ago Mr. J. Springs Davidson bought a fine Berkshie Sow in Penusylvania, for which he paid a considerable sum. Since then he has sold several pigs at $10 each. Two fine pigs were shipped by Mr Davidson last week to New Hanover county, and he has orders for others. Mr. Davidson has done a good deal to improve the breed of hogs and cattle in this section.

Spirit of the South: Henry Quick, colored, was caught in this vicinity on Tuesday last and placed in jail here, to await the requisition of Gov. Raleigh Observer: The State Auditor was on yesterday notified by the Chairthough the Board had met on several occasions to appoint a Collector, but could find no one that was willing to give a bond in the sum of $10,000 as required. The chairman asked what was to be done? The Auditor, who by the way isconstituted a Judical officer, replied that in such cases the Board of Commissioners were legally bound for the State tax, quoting chap. 106, sec. 11, of Battle's Revisal. He furthermore informed the Board that they were under a misapprehension in regard to the law fixing the bond of the Sheriff or tax collector; that the bond required was double the amount of the State tax which in Swain county would be only about $1,400 instead of $10,000 as they supposed.

THE WAR.

Heavy Battle at Metc hka with a Russian Success.

LONDON, Dec. 15-A Russian officia despatch dated Bogot, December 13, says: - "Sixty battalions of Turks yesterday nesday night, when on opening one he attacked the forces of the Grand Duke Vladimir all along the line, directing, however, their principal efforts against the left and centre. They attacked Metchka six times, but were each time repulsed with great loss.

"At 1 p. m. the Thirty-fifth division of the Twelfth Russian army corps appeared on the scene, and attacking the Turks in flank, compelled them, with the co-operation of the rest of the Russian forces, to retire upon Krasna, their retreat to Jovan Clftlik being cut off.

"The Grand Duke Tladimir narrowly escaped being killed by a ball which struck very near him." A Bucharest special despatch says a bullet also grazed Crude Turpentine..... the Czarewitch's head in this engage-Suleiman Pacha, describing the same affair, claims that he carried some of the entrenchments of Metchka, but was unable to hold them owing to the fire from the heights and the arrival of Russian reinforcements. He consequently withdrew to his original positions after a seven hour's battle. Three thousand Russians were killed.

The battle described above is probably the same which was reported in yesterday's despatches to have taken place near Metchka, although there is a discrepancy | Northrop & Cumming. as to the date, one despatch making it the 11th and the other the 12th.

A telegram from Kamarh, dated December 13, says:- "Cannonading is proceeding to-day between the Turkish and Russian positions.

Bad weather is setting in throughout Bulgaria.

A proclamation of the Servian government was issued at Belgrade yesterday announcing that the Servian army has been ordered to cross the frontier, where Turkish troops are already concentrating.

The Sultan's Speech.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Dec. 14-In his Sultan declared that Russia began the war. Turkey, compelled to defend herself against aggression, had offered the utmost resistance. The Ottomans had displayed a most patriotic spirit, as evinced by the self-denial of all classes, and the courage of the Turkish soldiers had excited the admiration of the world. His Majesty spoke with special approbation of the formation of a civic guard. His non-Mussulman subjects had shown a conscientious desire to share in the defence of the country. The Constitution granted to non-Mussulman subjects perfect equality in the eye of the law. Therefore, as they had acquired corresponding duties at home, it was only natural that they should share the military service, and the Government had decided to enlist non-Mussulman subjects in the ranks of the army. The only safeguard for the Empire was completely to carry out the Constitution. The Sultan's dearest wishes were to see all the classes of his subjects enjoy the blessings of complete equality, and the country profit by the acceptance of modern ideas, financial reforms, the fulfillment of national engagements the adjustment of taxation in acments, the adjustment of taxation in accordance with the rule of sound political economy, the collection of revenue on an equitable system, reform to facilitate the tenure and sale of landed property, the bestowal of municipal privileges as the basis of an administrative system, and finally by the reorganization of the gendarmerie. Unfortunately the calamities of war had retarded the accomplishment of these reforms. Nevertheless the Sultan hoped for the future progress of reform. Various measures had been prepared by the Council of State, and would be submitted to the consideration of Parliament, concerning civil procedure, the general election, ministerial functions, the High Court of Justice, the public press, taxation, and the state of siege. He concluded as follows: "Truth can be elicited on questions of political and civil rights only by perfect liberty of discussion. That liberty having been conferred by the Constitution, you require from me no further instructions. Our relations with friendly powers are of a most cordial kind. May the Most High bless our common efforts.' The peace and war parties are contending for the supremacy. It is believed that the war party will prevail. There is trouble in Lebanon in consequence of the refusal of the inhabitants to furnish a military contingent or send Deputies to Parliament, based on the fact that the Lebanon is under European guarantee.
