Rather cooler.

No City Court to-day.

Pleasant weather once more.

Wood is scarce and very high.

What has become of the skating rink?

W. H. J., care G. F. A., let us hear from you?

Several important changes in business circles yesterday.

News is very scarce to-day, and the heart of ye local is sad.

There was an administrators sale of the effects of the late Eli Murray this morning?

Everyone was on good behavior yesterday, consequently there were no police arrests.

With fish selling at 1 1/2 cents per bunch there is no danger of any one starving—but the fishermen.

The annual Masquerade Ball was a failure this year; or at least the projectors failed to get it up.

The dress ball of the scholars of Prof Agostini's dancing school will take place to-morrow evening.

The former pupils of General R. E.
Colston should bear in mind the meeting to-night at 8 o'clock, at the Armory of the Wilmington Light Infantry.

If you would rise in the world, young man, do not stop to kick at every cur who barks at you as you pass along.

Wooden shoes, it is thought, will age like wine. They are said to be cheaper than leather, but not so pleasant to the feet.

Wax in the ear is said to be a certain cure for warts: Grease the excrescence well upon going to bed, and next morning remove it with a sharp knife.

George Now, the little boy who was struck in the eye with a firecracker about a week ago has so far recovered as to be able to be out. He made a narrow escape from blindness.

Life is but short, and we should do all we can to prolong it. Check a Cough or Cold at once by using an old and reliable remedy such as Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.
Price only 25 cents a bottle.

A cautious man may seek recreation in toying with the hind hoofs of the abrupt mule, but only the most reckless will follow within a couple of rods of the agile young woman who kicks her train into the air and catches it on the fly.

A girl who will sit with a fellow all night on the stairs at a ball, with no clothes on above her waist worth speaking of, would faint away dead if the same fellow were to meet her on the stairs muffled from head to foot in three nightgowns. Curious, isn't it?

Don't Forget.

Don't forget the lecture to-morrow night. Tickets are for sale at the drug and book stores, and the small sum of fifty cents is all that is asked. Those who wish to enjoy a rare intellectual treat and, at the same time, bestow a charity upon a worthy object, should not fail to be in attendance at the Opera House to-morrow night.

Reported Captured and Killed.

There is a report in circulation in this city to the effect that the desperado Johnson was captured and subsequently killed near Conwayboro, S. C., on Tuesday; it runs as follows: Johnson was surrounded and ordered to surrender, which he did, and shortly after seized a favorable opportunity to attack his guard and wrench his gun from him and then took to his heels.
One of his captors saw the struggle from a distance between Johnson and the guard and hastened to them, but the outlaw had gotten some little distance off when he was shot down in his tracks. We give this only as a rumor and do not vouch for its correctness.

Nutritious Cookery.

Nothing is so well calculated to promote good health and good humor as light, easily-digested nutritious cookery. With that unrivalled article, DOOLEY'S YEAST POWDER, in the kitchen, elegant, white, light, and wholesome bread, rolls, biscuits, cake of every kind, and corn bread, waffles, muffins, buckwheat cakes, etc., are always possible in every household.

The Reason Why.

Some say it is because they danced too much last night, others that they sat up too late, and still some others because yesterday was such a disagreeable day.

But never mind gentlemen, you are bound to have that little headache all the same. The laws of nature when violated are certain to bring bodily punishment and suffering, irrespective of person or persons. Cold, comfort, but it is true nevertheless.

Most Too Good.

There are five clerks in the post office here, who are probably unequalled for morality. They neither curse, drink or smoke. As these are times when these vices are so prevalent, it is proper to make mention of these facts—Raleigh News.

Are they male or female? it male. then all we have to say is what the elder Welder told his son "Saimvel" after the death of his "dear departed wife" who was a "Vidder" when he married her—and you know what that was?

Hon. A. M. Waddell.

The following card from our distinguished representative Hon. A. M.
Waddell will show how much truth there is in the reported interviews published by a few enterprising sensational newspapers reporters.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30, 1878.

Messrs. EDITORS:—Recently several "interviews," purporting to have been held with me, have been copied in North Carolina papers. I have not been interviewed, that I know of since Congress assembled, but have been attributed to me conversations which never occurred, and in one instance a perversion of one remark made in reply to a mere salutation from a man whose connection with the press I did not even suspect. Oblige me by publishing this.

Yours truly,
A. M. WADDELL.

the headquarters of the North Carolina State Guard:

8, General Orders No. 27, relative to the chapter 272, Laws of 1876 '78, is hereby extended to the first day of March, 1879.

By order of the Governor and Commander-in-Chief. JOHNSTONE JONES, Adjutant General

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA.

1. Before a court martial which convened in Wilmington December 10th, 1878, pursuant to General Orders Nos. 9 and 10, Headquarters Second Brigade, were arraigned and tried:

1. Captain Alfred B Lind, Company
"A," 5th Battalion (colored) N. C. S. G.

S. G.

2. The foregoing proceedings and findings are approved. Captain Alfred B.
Lind is dismissed the service of North Carolina; his commission is revoked, and an election will be held to fill the vacancy.
Upon the recommendation of the commander of the Second Brigade, the commission of Captain Solomon W. Nash is revoked, and an election will be held to supply the vacancy.

By order of the Commander-in-Chief,
JOHNSTONE JONES,
Adjutant General.

A store was broken one night, but strange to say, nothing was carried off.

The proprietor was making his brag of it, at the same time expressing his surprise at losing nothing. "Not all surprising," said his neighbor; "the robbers lighted a lamp didn't they?" "Yes," was the reply.
"Well," continued the neighbor, "they found your goods marked up so high that they couldn't afford to take them." The "boss" didn't advertise and the thief knew the goods were shop-worn and no count for that reason.

Death of a Young Wilmingtonian.

It is with deep regret that we feel called upon to announce to-day the death of one of our former citizens—a young Wilmingtonian, who had scarcely reached the prime of life, as regards age, ere he was called away, but who, so far as usefulness is concerned, had long since attained the vigor of his manhood. The sad intelligence was received here this morning by telegram of the death in Savannah at 9 o'clock this morning of Richard Bradley, Jr., in the thirty-sixth year of his age.
The deceased was a son of Mr. Richard Bradley, formerly of this city, but now and for many years past a resident of Savannah Georgia.

During the first three years of the war Richard Bradley, Jr. enlisted in the cause of his country and served his own native State as a private, in the battery of artillery which was originally organized by Col. Robt. H. Cowan, but afterwards known as Moore's battery, after the first named gentleman was promoted to a Colonelcy in the Infantry.

During the last year of the war Mr.
Bradley received the appointment from Governor Vance as private secretary to his Excellency, and in that capacity was serving at the time of the surrender, and when hostilities were said to have ceased.

We understand that the remains will reach here to-morrow morning, and that the last sad rites will be performed tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock at St.
Jame's Church.

Harbor Master's Report.

From Capt. Joseph Price we have the following report of the vessels arrived at this port during the month of December 1878:

American.	Arrived.	Tonnage.
Schooners,	5,	1,113
Steamers,	13,	9,445
Total,	18,	10,558

Foreign.	Arrived.	Tonnage.
Schooners,	2,	232
Brigs,	7,	1,837
Barquentines,	5,	1,595
Barques,	18,	6,390
Total	32,	10,054.

Total number of vessels, American and Foreign, 50. Total amount of tonnage 20,612.

The following rich incident actually occurred not long since in the recitation room of a law school not a thousand miles from Raleigh. One of the professors, to test the ability of a student he was examining, propounded this question: "Mr.
—, what do you think should be done with a man that had committed suicide." The student scratched his head a moment as if to brighten his ideas, and then responded: "Well it is my opinion, as a professional man, that he ought to be made to support the child."

We are glad to welcome back to the field of honest labor once more our esteemed temporary, Wade H. Harris, Esq., who has just returned from a Christmas visit to the home of his fathers in Concord.

For the Review.

Generous Deeds.

Thankful that some hearts have been led to "consider the poor," in this inclement season, the Ladies of the Benevolent Society feel impelled to express, in this public way, their gratitude to those at whose hands many sufferers have been blessed with comforts beyond the reach of their utter poverty.

Shortly before Christmas Day a gentleman placed at our disposal five cords of wood, which were soon distributed among many who greatly needed it. Then two of our merchants sent us timely donations in calico, stockings, &c., which have contributed much to the comfort of many, so far as yet distributed. Within the past few days another gentleman gave ten loads of wood, to be dispensed by himself, at our instance, which has been done where the residences could be distinctly directed to.

Again, about Christmas, the Express brought us, for our poor, a box containing four nice comfortable, sent from Groton, Connecticut, by a species of little girls from four to fourteen years in age—a worthy example.

These facts, we hope, will induce others to "go and do likewise," saying "we have the poor always with us."

Not Medicine But Food.

The fall and early winter season is the harvest time of hacking coughs and debilitating forms of Catarrh, just as the later spring is the seed time of malarial fevers.
To know a certain cure of the one, and a preventive of the other, is to have within our reach the most inestimable blessing of the period. We do know of them, for these really marvelous properties are combined in Scott's Emulsion of Pure Cod Liver Oil with the Hypophosphates of Lime and Soda.

There is no form of physical waste and prostrated vitality, that a bountiful use of the Emulsion will not change to glowing health and full life and vigor, and then it is not a disagreeable medicine, but the most delightful kind of food.

Found Guilty--Suit for Damages, &c.

AT THE LAST Term of Quickton Market Court, Judge Sharp, presiding, quite an interesting case was read from the civil docket. It seems that L. J. OTTERBOURG, of "Men's Wear Depot" in this city, was arraigned for selling Clothing, Hats, Furnishing Goods and Linen Collars below a proper margin, the same proving disastrous to others doing a similar business. After arguments, by the Attorneys on both sides, Defendant was allowed to testify, To-wit: "In consideration of the general money depression prevailing in the country, I was reduced NOT BELOW A LIVING MARGIN, but in proportion to aforesaid hard times, &c. Jury retired, returned immediately, with the verdict of guilty, not of the charge but guilty of "JUST LIBERALITY TO THE PATRONS OF MEN'S WEAR DE-POT." We congratulate friend OTTER-BOURG on the above achievement that he may sell a hundred SUITS and SUIT every body, is all the damage we wish him.

IN WISHING MY FRIENDS A HAPPY NEW YEAR, I thank them for the kind, patronage they have given me for several years, and take pleasure in informing them that, for the coming year, I have made an engagement with Mr. A. DAVID, Clothier, corner Front to see them, and where, from the large assortment and larger variety, I will have a better chance to continue to deserve their favors.
