No City Court to-day. New moon to-morrow morning, at 37 minutes past 6 o'clock.

Fire Myers was after the post yesterday. He hauled in eleven "three dollar" houses.

The tide in the river yesterday is said to have been one of the strongest within the recollection of the oldest inhabitant.

"Our Boarding House" will be witnessed by a fine house on Thursday if the present appearance of the box sheet may be taken as an evidence.

Just wait until the ice machine and floating compress commence work and we'll tell you about them. That is the best we can make out of this to-day.

The members of the Little Giant company contemplate changing their uniform, adopted some weeks ago. They now think of using coats instead of shirts.

The lower part of the river is still very full of water but up about Fayetteville much of the recent freshet has run off, there being some 25 or 30 feet less water there than there was a week ago.

There was a little set to between two sable "gemmen" this afternoon at the head of the Market House. They were both taken under the protecting wing of a Knight of the Star and escorted to the Guard House.

The new hose reel ordered for the Wilmington Steam Fire Engine Company No. 1, some weeks ago, is expected on the New York steamer to-day. It is said to be a perfect beauty and wital exceedingly substantial.

*Always keep it on hand, as delay increases suffering. If you have a Cough or Cold use Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup. It will cure you. Price 25 cents.

Unavailable. The following is a list of unavailable letters remaining in the City Postoffice: Lizzie LaGrange, Hamlet, P. O.; S. S. Brockway, Key West, Fla; Perry Mason, & Co Boston Mass.

Adjusted. We understand that the claim for damages by the collision yesterday between the Norwegian barque Kristine and the schooner John Douglass, has been satisfactorily adjusted, without recourse to law as we intimated would be the case yesterday, by the owners of the steam tug Alpha.

The Street Cars. Notwithstanding the disasters entailed by the fire last night, Mr. Canaday, the proprietor of the street railway, has had a car running to-day. A schedule will be kept up, as will be seen by notice published elsewhere, and every accommodation will be given as soon as it is possible to do so. We hope to see new cars on the track in a few days.

Indications. WAR DEPARTMENT, Office of the Chief Signal Officer, Washington D. C., Jan., 21st. For the South Atlantic and Gulf States clear, or partly cloudy weather. Southeast to Southwest winds, during the rest of Tuesday falling barometer.

BOTH PRUDENCE AND AMBITION concur in urging honest men to do the best possible thing, each in his own line of business. It is this feeling which has made DOOLEY'S YEAST POWDER the best in the market. The cans are always full weight, and its contents chemically pure and most skillfully compounded.

Wine for Invalids. The Port Grape Wine of New Jersey is the best medicinal wine in the market and it is said that the vintage of A. Speer for excels any other produced. It is heavy in body, rich in flavor, and well adapted for sickly persons and for general family use. For sale by J. C. Munds, Green & Flanner, and P. L. Bridgers & Co.

A Report. There was a report on the street to-day to the effect that early this morning a small frame building in the Northeastern section of the city was destroyed by fire. We have been unable to trace it to any reliable source and failed to find out anything about it. The fire department, so far as we can learn know, nothing about it.

Burning of the Street Cars, Horses & Stables, etc.

The lurid light in the eastern part of the city about 11 o'clock last night was caused by the burning of the stables of the Wilmington and Seaside Railway Company, situated just beyond the city limits at the eastern extremity of Market street.

Mr. W. P. Canaday, the owner of the property, and who resides at the corner of Seventeenth and Market streets, directly across the street from the stables, was aroused by the kicking of the horse, when he discovered the stable and car shed in a light blaze. The alarm was sounded and Mr. Canaday, with the assistance of two or three men from the neighborhood, succeeded in getting out one of the small cars which was all that was saved. The flames rapidly spread to a dwelling house occupied by Mr. Benjamin Sweden and owned by Mrs. Elizabeth Kennon. Mr. Sweden succeeded in saving most of his furniture.

Mrs. Kennedy held an insurance of $500 on her property in a company represented by Mr. Norwood Giles. The stable buildings of the Railway Company were insured for $500. The two large cars which were burnt were insured for $400 each, the three small cars at $300 each, the horses and mules, ten in number at $850. The carts, harness, plows, feed, cutter, etc., stored in the stable were insured for about $200. There was thirty bushels of food and twenty-five bales of hay consumed, on which there was no insurance. The insurance on the destroyed property as stated above was in companies represented by Mr. Norwood Giles. It is possible that the origin of the fire was accidental but it is the opinion of Mr. Canaday that it is the work of an incendiary. The engines did not go to the scene of conflagration because there was no water in the vicinity of the fire, the cistern on the corner of Seventh and Market street being the nearest to the scene of the conflagration.

Fell into the Fire. We regret to learn that a little son of Mr. Bryant Turlington, about two years of age, while playing in the parlor at his grand-father's residence, Mr. E. Turlington's, on Sunday afternoon last, accidentally fell into the fire, and although he was immediately seized and dragged from the flames, it was not before the child's arms and face were pretty severely scorched. We are glad to learn, however, that the little fellow is doing very well and that the burns are not likely to prove very serious.

Detained by Sickness. We are sorry to learn that Captain Oliver, the popular commander of the steamship Raleigh, is detained in Baltimore by severe indisposition. But his steamer is in good hands, however, Captain D. J. Price, of the Foley, having navigated her out this time. The Foley, which leaves Baltimore to-day, will be under command of Captain Bennett, of the same line, and formerly commander of the Lucile.

Personal. Messrs. N. F. Emmons and O. C. Newbury, of Hartford, Conn., are in the city. These gentlemen are on a prospecting tour in the South and are combining business with pleasure. They are the guests while in the city of Mr. F. A. Newbury, one of our enterprising Water street merchants, who by the way is a nephew of the first named gentleman and brother of the other.

Colonel Fremont in Florida. We understand that Col. S. L. Fremont, of this city, who was some time since appointed to assist Gen. Gilmore in the construction of the river and harbor works below Savannah, has been also assigned to the charge of the survey of the line for the proposed ship canal, which is to connect the St. Mary's river, in Florida, with the Gulf of Mexico. Col. Fremont is now in Florida for the execution of this undertaking, and is probably at this time in the canebrakes of the Okefenokee swamp. In addition to this survey, we learn that he has also another work on hand, besides that at Savannah, the deepening of the channel at Darien, Ga. So it will be seen that he will hardly eat any idle bread, for this winter, at all events.

This is the day set apart for the election of United States Senator. We have heard nothing from Raleigh but presume, as a matter of course, that Governor Vance has been elected by a strict party vote.

They were fishing for some of the lost freight of Mr. Vollers, flat to-day.

Fashionable Frivolities.

Gilded ornaments are all the rage. Gilded combs, and buckles for the shoes, are among these. Buckles of Rhine pebbles are used for the same purpose.

Many toilets are covered with beads and embroidery, all in bright colors. Materials are also used shot with metallic thread, and laces have gold and silver work intermixed. It is very difficult with these showy trimmings and materials to have a toilet which is in perfect taste, and not one over-trimmed. Lingers and modistes use a large number of gill, silver, steel, jet, stone and crystal ornaments. Old embroideries are much sought after, and there is no doubt but that many of the new articles are now passed off as such few persons knowing the difference. White satin-embroidered bridal dresses are de rigueur, and all colored satins are worked in elaborate designs.

Plush and seal-skin are the favorite trimmings for winter walking suits; they are both comfortable and elegant. The trimmings thus made consist of plastrons, vests, collars, cuffs, revers and bands. A Parisian suit, trimmed in this fashion, it is of colored cloth. The skirt has no train. It is trimmed down the front with three bias plush bands terminating in large plaittings, each placed a small distance from the other. Down the back falls a tunique, bordered with a band of plush. It is slightly raised in a puffing which is kept in place by two plush bands. The waist is cut in veston shape, and opens over a plush vest. The collar, revers, cuffs and pockets are all of plush. The suit is trimmed with enameled buttons.

Diamond buttons, so called, are a novelty and very effective on evening dresses. Each button is composed of several crystal Rhine pebbles, cut and set like diamonds. They are made in several sizes.

The hair is now dressed low, in puffs and ringlets. The back is dressed in the same way, with the braid often forming an oval. The forehead is still covered by the Breton bandeau. This bandeau consists of short, natural waves, which fall over the forehead without having any "part." A net made of hair, in the same color as the natural hair, is placed over this to keep it in place.

Crochet mittens are worn over kid gloves for walking and visiting purposes; in the latter case the mittens must be taken off before the wearer enters the parlor.

The fifth anniversary of the Grand United Order of Odd Fellows, Golden Lyre Lodge, (col.), was celebrated to-day. Delegations from the different lodges in Laurinburg, Charlotte and Charleston arrived here by the Carolina Central and W. C. & A. Railroads last night and participated in the celebration.

Horse Stolen and Recovered. This morning, about 8 o'clock, a large bay horse, valued at about $175, the property of Messrs. Behrends & Monroe, was stolen from their stable in the rear of Messrs. Mott & Campen's butcher shop on Market, one door east of Second street. The staple to the lock was drawn and the hinges of the door broken and the horse "spirited" away. Persons living in the vicinity of Market and Second streets heard the horse coming out, but thought nothing of it. This afternoon, about 2 o'clock, the animal was captured riderless near the city and turned over to Chief of Police Brock, who restored him to his rightful owner. The horse bears evidence of having been badly used.
