Simple and Useful.

A practical truck gardener in this vicinity says: Perhaps one of the most appropriate uses of an old fruit can that can be devised, is to make it contribute to the growth of new fruit to fill new cans. This is done in the following manner: The can is pierced with one or more pin holes, and then sunk in the earth near the roots of the strawberry or tomato or other plants. The pin holes are to be of such size that when the can is filled with water, the fluid can only escape into the ground very slowly. Thus a quart can, properly arranged, will extend its irrigation to the plant for a period of several days; the can is then refilled. Practical trials of this method of irrigation leave no doubt of its success. Plants thus watered flourish and yield the most bounteous returns throughout the longest drouths. In all warm localities where water is scarce, the planting of old fruit cans, as here indicated, will be found profitable as a regular gardening operation.

Yesterday Morning's Fire.

Yesterday morning, about 3.30 o'clock, one of the female members of Mr. J. W. Moody's family, residing on the corner of Fourth and Brunswick streets, was awakened by the dense smoke which filled her room. She woke the family, who had barely time to escape in their night-clothes. The alarm of fire was sounded, but so rapidly did the flames consume the building that it was too far gone to be saved. The fire originated in the store attached to the dwelling of Mr. Moody and owned by Mr. Christian Hussell. The first building consumed was that occupied by Mr. Moody as a store and dwelling. A one-story frame building occupied by C. H. Strode, was next destroyed, and at the same time the burning of the Strode building, the Brooklyn market house caught fire and was soon destroyed. A building opposite the market, owned by Allan Evans, and occupied by Carrie McKoy, was next ignited, and a house East of Strode's residence soon followed suit, but the fire on these two dwellings was extinguished by the fire department.

Mr. Hussell had $2,250 insurance on his property in the Franklin Insurance Company, represented in this city by Mr. Norwood Giles as follows: On Moody store and dwelling, $1,460; $40 on store fixtures; on the Strodes building $400; on the house next east of Strodes which was damaged $350. The City had no insurance on the Market House nor had Allen Evans on his property. He estimates his loss at about $50. On Mr. Moody's stock there was $850 in a company represented by Jno. W. Gordon & Bro., and $500 in a company represented by Atkinson & Manning, $200 on store and bar fixtures and $450 on household and kitchen furniture and wearing apparel with Gordon & Bro. Mr. Moody estimates his loss at $1,000 and Mr. Hussell says his will be very heavy. The origin of the fire is supposed to be the explosion of a kerosene lamp.

Fire in Bladen.

On the night of Thursday, the 28d inst, the barn with the whole of its contents, of Mr. F. J. Anders, residing near Beatty's Bridge, was totally destroyed by fire. Everything was perfectly safe when the family retired to rest at 11 o'clock, but when the alarm was raised, at midnight, by some colored people living on the plantation it was found that the torch had been so fensively and effectually applied that by that time the roof had fallen in so that nothing could be saved, and it was with the most utmost difficulty that the horses and mules in the stables, closely adjacent, could be rescued. This entails a severe loss, estimated at $800, as all the corn, peas and forage, with a large portion of Mr. Anders' farming implements, were stored in the building. No insurance.

Not Just Now.

For the past two weeks there has been a very general rumor afloat in this community to the effect that the Wilmington & Weldon and Columbia & Augusta Railroad Companies were going to erect a new and handsome iron bridge across the tracks at the head of Front street, to take the place of the wooden structure now in use. From Capt. John F. Divine, the General Superintendent of both roads, we learn that is not the intention of the company to build at present. An iron bridge builder has been in the city and has furnished estimates of the cost of erecting a bridge, but no steps tending towards its erection will be taken just now.

Is it the Same?

It was rumored at the City Hall this morning that James Anderson, who was arrested on Mr. Willson's piazza on Sunday morning before day, is the same who some seven or eight years ago, when a little boy, conspired with the little villain David Martin and two or three other colored boys to murder the lad Willie Carter. The photographs are all hanging up in a private apartment (and a very suitable place it is) in the City Hall and it was thought by some who looked at it this morning that the likeness between the picture and the defendant was discernible.

Death of a Worthy Young Man.

Mr. Edward D. Schriver, a very promising young man, and one who was held in very high esteem, died at his father's residence, at Castle Hayne, early this morning. Mr. Schriver was Postmaster and Station Agent at Castle Hayne, positions which he had held with great acceptability. He was only 23 years old and had been ill only about ten days.

Personal.

We understand that Gen. M. P. Taylor has accepted the general agency of the South Atlantic magazine, and will canvass Wilmington and other cities in the interest of that publication. Gen. Taylor is a genial gentleman and a very popular one withal and if anybody can succeed at the business most assuredly he will.

Another Importation.

Messrs. Giles & Murchison have just received another importation of earthenware from the English potteries by the British barque Nancy Holt. The above named gentlemen are the pioneers in this trade and deserve a liberal patronage for their enterprise. Besides they are the only direct importers of the articles named in Wilmington.

Going Back to Raleigh.

We believe that the gentlemen from this city who went to Raleigh last week as delegates in the interest of the city return to the State Capital to-morrow morning, or at least a majority of the delegation, we understand, will return and among them Major C. M. Stedman who we are informed by gentlemen present at the time made a very fine effort before the committee and outstripped all of his opponents in the speech he made, both in point of rhetoric and in logic.

City Court.

The first case called this morning was Jacob Thompson, colored, charged with disorderly conduct. The defendant appeared before His Honor and prayed a continuance of the case until to-morrow to afford him an opportunity to summon witnesses, which was granted and the case continued until to-morrow morning at half past nine.

James Anderson, colored, was the next case called, when after hearing the testimony of the officers who made the arrest, the Mayor directed that a warrant be made out against the defendant for attempting to break into Mr. Wm. A. Willson's house on Nun, between Fourth and Fifth streets. The warrant was duly executed and served on the defendant, and he was bound over to the Criminal Court in the sum of $200 justified bond, after which the prisoner was committed into the hands of the Sheriff who in turn handed him over to the tender mercies of Dan. Howard, the jailor.

The testimony proved that the prisoner was found on Mr. Willson's piazza about 4 o'clock Sunday morning in his stocking feet, and evidently trying to effect an entrance through a window into the house. The barking of his yard dog aroused Mr. Willson and about the time he reached the front door, Officers Gordon and Biddle of the police force made their appearance and escorted the individual to the Guard House.

After twenty years in the business the manufacturers of DOOLEY'S YEAST POWDER have succeeded in giving the public the nonpareil of chemical skill, the perfect solution of delicious baking. It's now only the fault of the housewife if bread, cakes and pastry are not luxuries as well as necessities, the crowning pleasure of the table.

The City Police were paid off to-day.
