The trash and offal is accumulating on the street and has been decaying rapidly under the fierce sun of the past three days.

Rafts of timber, wood and turpentine made a floating bridge nearly half way across the Cape Fear at the foot of Chestnut street this morning.

Robeson County Superior Court will convene at Lumberton next Monday. Judge McKay will preside. The Link-haw case will be tried at this term.

We are glad to see out on the streets to-day Captain W. P. Oldham and Mr. Platt D. Walker. Both of these gentlemen seem to have recovered from their recent illness and are moving around among the busy throng of life.

There is Nothing Like Having
A sufficient quantity of a good thing. Dooley's Yeast Powder is the best in the baking line; and there economy in buying the one pound and five pound cans. It is cheaper in proportion than the smaller sizes.

War and Gold—A hotel near based on gold prices. In order to accommodate both classes of travelers, the Grand Central Hotel, on Broadway, New York, is now kept on both plans, the American at $2.50 to $3.00, and the European at $1.00, and upwards, per day. An elegant Restaurant, at moderate prices, is conducted by the Hotel.

Spot Fish.

Health Officer James and Clerk of the Market Williams, condemned and sent out of market yesterday thirty bunches of fish, the property of a huckster. This morning two hundred bunches brought from Onslow county shared the same fate.

Cocking Main.

A chicken dispute is on the tapis for to-morrow, to continue for two days. The pit will be on Eagle's Island opposite the city, and the cocks of this city are to be pitted against others from Halifax county. To-morrow will be devoted to the chicken fights in matching and trimming, and in the afternoon one fight will be had. Friday and Saturday the mains will be contested and the winners of the three days' fight announced.

Badly Bitten.

Mr. Daniel O'Connor, while in the prosecution of his business, was set upon by a very savage dog on Monday, near the corner of Fourth and Bladen streets, and severely bitten through the right hand. The dog made a leap at Mr. O'Connor who to shield himself made a grab at the vicious animal's throat but missed his mark and plunged his hand into his mouth. The dog was finally beaten off, but not until he had succeeded in wounding the gentleman. Is is not the first time this dog has made savage assaults upon pedestrians, but it will probably be the last, as orders have been issued for his execution.

The Club Opening.

The rooms of the Carolina Club were formally opened last evening. By invitation of the members many gentlemen were present and a goodly number of ladies. The harpers were there and discoursed some of their delightful music and "bim-bim," when the ladies had become accustomed to the scene, they were induced to venture a waltz or two on the floor in and among the billiard tables. These latter were, of course, the great points of attraction for the gentlemen, notwithstanding the always greater attractiveness of the ladies. One of the tables was allotted by a sort of tacit understanding to the press gang and there a four-handed game, participated in by representatives from the Star and the Sun and the Review (the Moon) progressed with painful slowness. At about 10 o'clock it was announced that the ladies had promised to play a game of pool and then we suddenly remembered that we had an engagement elsewhere and couldn't wait to record the result. The game, however, as we understand, did not come off.

Legislative Locals.

In the Senate on Monday, Mr. Henderson presented a petition from citizens of Wilmington, praying for the modification of the liquor tax.

In the House, a bill to incorporate the North Carolina Coast Canal Company was taken up. This canal is to provide an inland water communication from the navigable waters of Virginia to the Cape Fear free from the dangers of Hatteras and the coast of this State. The stock is placed at $1,000,000, and the charter is for ninety years. The bill passed both its readings.

Bill to authorize the payment of outstanding school debts in Brunswick passed its readings.

Bill to allow the laying off of a public road from Quaker Bridge, in Jones county, to New river, in Onslow county, allowing twenty-five convicts to work on the same, passed final reading.

Bill to repeal the prohibition of the sale of liquor in two miles of French's church, Bladen county, passed.

Bill to allow the use of convicts to the Louisburg branch of Wilmington and Weldon Railroad Company, passed.

Bill for the internal improvement of Sampson county by the removal of obstructions in the rivers, and allowing 100 convicts therefor, passed.

Bill to incorporate the town of Qubele, Robeson county, passed.

We are very glad to learn that Mr. John M. Henderson is somewhat better to-day. The assertion, we understand, is from the physician in attendance and is therefore the more gratifying.

A horse which was being driven in a light wagon attempted to run away this morning at the depot of the O. C. Railway, but only succeeded in turning the wagon over and creating a brief excitement among the lookers on.

City Court.

After a lapse of many days there have again broke loose among some of the whitom inhabitants of Paddy's Hollow and Mary Eliza Lively, who was arrested yesterday afternoon for disorderly conduct, upon the affidavit of Duncan Holmes, colored, was arraigned this morning before Alderman Bowden, Mayor pro temp, upon the charge above stated.

Duncan was the first witness called, when after having been duly sworn and kissed the book, he proceeded to state his grievances and the reasons as well as the motives which induced him to have a warrant issued for his boarder's arrest, for it appeared upon the evidence of the prosecuting witness, that Mary Eliza had been an inhabitant of the Greenback boarding house on the corner of Dock and South Water streets, which is presided over by Duncan Holmes, where it is said Greenbackers to the number of fifty or sixty, or seventy, or eighty, or somewhere along there, have been colonized in order to secure a residence in the Fourth Ward in anticipation of the municipal election, for several months. But yesterday, for some reason best known to Duncan, he proceeded to oust the defendant from his premises, whereupon the aforesaid Lively enlivened things right smartly in that neighborhood for awhile, threatening and abusing her irate landlord, and arming herself with a few of the brick bats from Messrs. P. Cumming & Co's pile near at hand, dared him to show his old greenback grayhead outside of the four walls of his club house and she would change the appearance of his physiognomy completely and entirely, or words to that effect, all of which pressing invitations Duncan of the Greenbackers prudently declined to accept. He had possibly read of one other Duncan who was king among his people, having been murdered at the hands of a woman, after accepting a kind invitation and hospitality, and this modern king, profiting by the experience of his illustrious namesake at the hands of Lady Macbeth wisely and prudently denied himself the pleasurable feast he was invited to, and reciprocated the cordial invitations by inviting his enraged boarder to meet him at Philippi, i. e. before His Honor, where the thing would be definitely settled, as was done by the defendant being required to pay $3 fine or serve twenty days in the City Prison.

Richard Bowen, a colored youth of 17 summers, whose paternal was trying to force him aboard of a flat last night against his will, having taken him from the Greenback Club House, made such a disturbance on the streets by hallooing and screaming that the police were attracted, and upon making inquiry found that the man who had the boy in charge was his step-father who, as before stated wanted the boy to go with him on the flat, while the boy said he wanted to go home to his ma, but that in preference to going with his step-daddy he would rather go to the Guard House; consequently the police took him in—no witnesses appearing against him this morning he was discharged—and this ends the chapter.

A Chapter of Accidents.

The schooner Shekinah, Capt. Shaw, from Elizabeth City, with a cargo of 4,005 bushels of corn for Messrs. B. F. Mitchell & Son, arrived here last night after a long and tedious passage of nearly five weeks. The Shekinah, after leaving Elizabeth City was detained for a while by the low water and after getting down to Ocracoke Inlet she found so much sea upon the bar as to prevent her crossing. After the sea subsided so that the bar could be crossed she put to sea, but a heavy gale set in which sprung her mainmast, and the schooner was compelled to put into Shallotte under a double reefed foresail. She remained in the latter place a short time and in attempting to get to sea, got ashore on the bar at Shallotte and laid there one tide and then got off, though somewhat hogged. She eventually got to sea yesterday and came to this city without further accident, and fortunately without damage to the cargo.

"What is beauty?" inquires a noted writer. Hold on—don't make up your returns yet—have mailed you our photograph.

Flowers are worn in the shape of "cachepeignes," or else a band of pearls or of gilt encircles the head just in front of the chignon, and small bunches of flowers are worn at the side and at the top of the narrow catogan braids or curls.

There have been large fires in the woods to the west and north of the city and the smoke was so dense yesterday as to almost obscure the sun as it was setting.

Our former young townsman, Mr. Alfred V. Wood, who left Wilmington some ten months ago to take up his residence at Brunswick, Georgia, is here on a short visit to his relatives and friends.

The regular Wednesday evening service will be held in St. John's Church this evening, on which occasion a lecture will be delivered by the Rector, Rev. Dr. Patterson. Services at 8 o'clock. Seats free.

In Distress.

The Schooner E. G. Porter, Captain Curtis, bound from Frontera-Tobasco, Mexico, loaded with mahogany and fustic, was towed up to the city to-day.

The Captain reports that on the 4th of March, when 21 days out and off Hatteras, he encountered a gale and lost small spars and sails. The vessel will undergo repairs here and proceed on her voyage.

The Captain has consigned his ship to Messrs E. G. Barker & Co.
