The finest day of the season thus far.

Man proposes, but he is not always accepted.

Fanny is always a popular name in summer.

It is not fair to strike an average when it is down.

Every fashionable dress has satin for a part of it.

Very low necks are again fashionable for evening.

Bonnets are of infinite variety, and their name is legion.

Green peas in market this morning at 70 cents a peck.

The bucksters captured the market again this morning.

Gold enameled bracelets are worn by very small children.

Black Breton bids fair to take the place of black French lace.

Children's dresses are being made longer by an inch or two.

Some talk of an excursion to the Blackfish rocks at an early day.

Celery raised in this city was offered for sale in the market today.

An exchange thinks it is the late frost that toughened spring chickens.

Billiardists ought to be good punctuators, they make so many points.

Mourning handkerchiefs have black borders two inches and a half wide.

One interment—that of an adult—in Bellevue Cemetery during the past week.

The signal office has a new storm signal. The old one was pretty well worn out.

Most of the Northwestern States can now produce five female lawyers to the acre.

Is there any one in the city who can eat twelve soda crackers in twelve minutes?

Never be angry with a man who threatens to blow your brains out. He flatters you.

Several nice small frame houses are being erected in different portions of the city.

Quite a large party of pleasure seekers went down the river on the steam-yacht Passport this morning.

Seth Green says fish have much sustaining power. He means, perhaps, that they are good to prop a gate.

A brand new flag was run to the mast head over the Custom House this morning. Shoot the man on the spot who dares pull it down?

We are requested to state that the Cornet Concert Club is not languishing, and that the members are not despondent. They will commence Monday evening to practice their music for Memorial Day and expect to turn out with a full band.

Prof. Chase, of Wilmington, N. C., who has been sojourning among us for several months, and made himself like one of the family in every household, leaves to-day for Wilmington, to attend the bedside of his afflicted daughter, who is now so dangerously ill that her physicians have given out her recovery. We hope she may survive, and with her parents, come among the mountains and make their homes here as was expected. We like such company.—Ashville Journal.

City Court.

Jim Mills was again before His Honor this morning, ~~on a~~ complaint, same old line, 10 or ten days in the City Prison. He went below to sleep for ten days then to wake up, "scow off" and like Rip to find many changes.

Duplex Drink.

The loving twins, the Davis brothers, colored, whose habit is to alternate in their worship to Bacchus we saw in the morning. They could not decide which was on a tender last night and both indulged in too much jug juice. One generally gets drunk and the other takes care of him, but to-day they got on a dable duplex drunk. Mayor Fishblade will interview them on Monday.

Pronounced Insane.

Mary Smith, colored, and Laura Knight, a white woman, were brought before Justice E. D. Hall this morning, who, after investigating their case and condition, pronounced them insane, and sent them to the insane department at the city poor house. It is supposed that the insanity of the colored woman has been caused by undue religious excitement. The white woman was in jail here some three years ago, but was sent from here to her home in Florence, S. C., from which place she has escaped and again found her way to this city.

Sunday School Concert.

As will be seen in our advertising columns, the Sunday School connected with the Front Street Methodist Church will give a concert at the Front Street Methodist Church on Tuesday night, the 29th inst., commencing at 8 o'clock. The admission is free, but we hope that every citizen will carry something to help swell the collection which is to be taken up. We can hardly imagine that any one will feel poor enough to "dead head" on a Sunday School concert, and we hope there may be a house crowded to its utmost capacity on that occasion. The music will be of a fine order, and there is not a doubt that it will be rendered in exquisite taste.

Off for the Old Country.

Messrs J. W. Gerds and C. F. Von Kampen, two German citizens of this place, left here this morning on the steamship Benefactor, for New York, at which point they will sail for Europe. Mr. H. Busch and family will also leave here on Wednesday, but by rail, and will join their friends in New York and the entire party will sail from that port for Bremen, on Saturday next, on the steamship Mosel, of the North German Lloyd line, they having already secured passage on that boat. They will remain in Europe until the middle of September and expect to be back in Wilmington by the latter part of that month. They calculate to travel pretty extensively on the Continent before they return.

Election of Officers of Bellevue Cemetery.

The third annual meeting of the stockholders of this organization was held at the City Hall last night, at which there was a good attendance. There have been twenty-five interments during the past year, and the Treasurer's report showed that the Company was free from debt, and had a balance on hand.

The following were the officers elected for the ensuing year:
President—E. W. Manning.
Vice President—John A. Everett.
Secretary and Treasurer—John S. McEachern.

Directors—John D. Bellamy, Jr., James Alderman, P. H. Smith, Jas. H. McGarity, J. H. Morton, Jno. C. Berneman and James Bagley.
The Company is in a healthy financial condition, and the balance of funds now on hand will be expended, by the unanimous vote of the stockholders, towards the further advancement of the Cemetery.

The Passport is the steamer's name, America's her nation; J. W. Harper commands the same, and Smithville's her destination. She'll make her regular trips, you know, and an extra trip on Sunday, as ad. in this REVIEW will show; so do not wait till Monday.
Mr. Cicero Burruss, of Messrs Burruss, Son & Co., bankers, of Norfolk, is here on a visit to his brother, Mr. E. E. Burruss, President of the First National Bank.

Carbolic acid and lime are good disinfectants. You can be supplied at the City Hall with a sufficient quantity to disinfect your premises.

The Colored Insane Asylum.

The Board of Directors of the colored Insane Asylum had a very interesting meeting this week at Goldsboro. Mr. M. M. Katz, the member from this city, was present and there was a full Board. Mr. Edwards, the former Secretary, having resigned, Mr. J. A. Bonitz, of Goldsboro, was elected to fill the vacancy and Mr. Dewey, of Goldsboro, was chosen Treasurer.

Mr. Katz informs us that the work is progressing satisfactorily and that the building will be pushed forward to completion as rapidly as possible.

The Silver Wedding.

One of the most notable events of the season was the silver wedding of Dr. and Mrs. Bernheim, which was celebrated last night at their residence, the parsonage of St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church. At quite an early hour a large number of invited guests had assembled, among whom were a number of ladies and gentlemen outside of St. Paul's Church, personal friends of the host and hostess, as well as nearly every member of Dr. Bernheim's congregation.

The occasion had been looked forward to with much pleasure and during the day many handsome presents were tendered. These were arranged on a table for the inspection of the guests and prominent among them we noticed an elegant silver tea-service, presented by the members of St. Paul's congregation. This service consisted of a beautiful urn, butter-dish, spoon-holder, waiter and a dozen spoons, with the initials "G. D. B. and E. C. B." neatly engraved on them. On the waiter was the following additional inscription: "Presented by members of St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church, at Wilmington, N. C., to Rev. G. D. Bernheim, D. D., and Mrs. E. C. Bernheim, on the Anniversary of their Silver Wedding, April 25th, 1879."

The festivities of the occasion were formally inaugurated by the entrance into the parlor of Dr. and Mrs. Bernheim, followed by their children. They advanced to the centre of the room, and stood before Rev. J. R. Wilson, D. D., of the First Presbyterian Church, who made to them a beautiful little address, teeming with warm congratulations, good wishes and earnest hopes for many more years of happy wedded life. Dr. Wilson spoke very feelingly of Dr. Bernheim's residence in our city, the high regard and eminent esteem in which he was held by all classes and all denominations of our people, and of his faithful and indefatigable efforts for good in our midst. Dr. Bernheim replied briefly, but to the point. Producing a handsome wedding ring he tenderly took in his own hand of the faithful partner of his sorrows as well as of his joys and placing it on her finger beside the ancient emblem of their union he said, in a voice which trembled in its intensity:

"I place this additional ring upon your finger, my dear wife, as a renewed pledge of our affection. A quarter of a century has the first wedding ring served as the emblem of our love; may this one ever remind us of the happy surroundings of our silver wedding."

The impressive scene was at an end, and those present crowded around the happy pair with renewed congratulations. Then the doors of the supper room were thrown open and the guests were marshaled for the feast. This was laid in the long school-room, which was beautifully arrayed in flowers and adorned with the "flags of all nations," festooned on the walls. Two long tables, extending the entire length of the room, were filled with the bountiful wedding supper which had been prepared. They were adorned with flowers and covered with a tempting array of delicacies, prominent among which was a huge wedding-cake, presented with the compliments of Mr. and Mrs. Vollers. Twice were these tables filled, so great was the number of guests present, the estimate being that there were, in all, nearly two hundred persons present last evening. It was nearly 1 o'clock before the last of the guests had departed and the curtain had fallen upon an occasion which will be remembered for many years by all who were so fortunate as to be present last night at Dr. and Mrs. Bernheim's silver wedding.

Mr. Lumsden laid before us this morning some of his delicious "real cream" ice-cream. It could not have come at a better time or fallen on a more thirsty soil.

No interments in Pine Forest Cemetery during the week.

It is a Horse.

We are rejoiced to learn that our friend of the dray and beer kegs, who we said met with an accident in going up the hill in front of our office, on account of the stubbornness of a mule, but which proved to be a horse, has exchanged the animal and has got a horse now "for sartin" and has trimmed his ears so close that he never will be taken for a mule by any one.

Two interments—both adults—in Oakdale Cemetery this week.

Mr. J. C. Mundy's soda water fountain is at work. Call and taste its cooling powers.

The Register of Deeds has issued during the week six marriage licenses—three to white and three to colored couples.

The "Baby's Best Friend" is the most appropriate title for Dr. Bull's Baby Syrup. It is absolutely free from Opium, Morphia and other powerful agents, is perfectly safe and reliable under all circumstances and by allaying the usual Stomach and Bowel Disorders of babyhood keeps the child from fretting and crying, so injurious to itself and annoying to all. Price 25 cents.

On Broadway, New York, the great thoroughfare, a prominent feature of even that famous street, convenient to all places of interest, and noted for its luxurious appointments—is situated the Grand Central Hotel, which is now kept on both plans, the American at $2.50 to $3.00, and the European at $1.00 and upwards, per day. An elegant Restaurant, at moderate prices, is conducted by the Grand Central.
