

THEN AND NOW.
In 1860, says the Courier-Journal, the whole force employed in the executive departments of the United States Government was less than 500. To-day there are more than 2,500 employees in the Treasury Department alone. The Republicans say the increase of employees is due to the vast increase of business. The fact is the increase of employees is out of all proportion to the increase of business, and more than half the employees of the Government either have nothing to do or can do all their work in two hours of each day. The vast force of 105,000 officials and employees is handled and organized as an army of partisans to work for the retention of power by the Republican party, and by reference to the history of that organization since 1861 it will be seen that during every year of its power it has continued to make offices, and needless offices, solely to increase the number of dependents and workers.

NORTHERN MISREPRESENTATION.
For nearly or quite a half a century the press and people of the Northern portion of the Union have taken immense delight in misrepresenting the people and opinions of those of the South. Every utterance of a Southern statesman, every paragraph in a Southern newspaper, which could be misconstrued or distorted in such a manner as to feed the Northern appetite has been seized and used to our detraction and disadvantage. Such has been the determination to place our people in a false position before the world, and to bring odium and contempt upon them, that some of our best, purest and most gifted sons have gone to their graves with the foulest aspersions resting upon their fair fame and character.

Conspicuous among those whose pure and unsullied names have suffered, from these wilful misrepresentations is the Hon. Roger B. Taney, for many years Chief Justice of the United States Supreme Court. Learned in the law, pure and spotless in his character, of unsullied integrity, no man, in any country, ever wore the judicial ermine with greater dignity and honor to the nation; yet a single sentence, uttered by him in giving his opinion in the famous "Dred Scott" case, was taken and used by the Northern press and by Northern speakers, in such a manner as to not only misrepresent his meaning, but to amount to an absolute falsification.

In delivering that opinion, the Chief Justice had occasion, in connection with his line of argument, to remark, in referring to the colored race, that, "they had no rights which the white man was bound to respect." This quotation, taken from its connections, and from the middle of a sentence of which it formed a part, became a text from which sermons were preached a theme for columns of newspaper abuse upon the devoted head of him who gave them utterance, while at the same time it conveyed an idea diametrically opposite to the sentiments of that great and good man. What the Chief Justice did say, and the words are worthy of preservation for their historic interest, was: "It is difficult at this day to realize the state of public opinion in relation to the unfortunate race, which prevailed in the enlightened portions of the world at the time of the Declaration of Independence, and when the Constitution of the United States was framed and adopted. But the public history of every European nation displays it in a manner too plain to be mistaken."

"They had for more than a century before been regarded as beings of an inferior order, and altogether unfit to associate with the white race, either in social or political relations, and so far inferior that they had no rights which the white man was bound to respect; and that the negro might justly and lawfully be reduced to slavery for his benefit."

He was speaking of the sentiments and opinions of a people who had existed and died more than three-quarters of a century before, of a sentiment, at the time of which he was speaking, which prevailed everywhere throughout the enlightened world, not extracting the objectionable words from a sentence of which they formed only a part, and without giving the language which preceded and followed them, they were made to appear as the absolute opinion of the Chief Justice and the entire Court, and as such to furnish material for fresh outbursts of abuse of the South from the fanatical pen and press of the North.

It is perfectly evident that in using the phrase which has been made the foundation of so many unjust aspersions against him, he conveyed no approval of the sentiment, but was merely speaking of the opinion in which the colored race was held in 1776. Nothing could be more unfair and unjust than such a perversion of the real meaning and intention of the language of the Chief Justice by garbling and mutilating a sentence, innocent as a whole, with all its connections intact, but it was in keeping with the repeated acts of a people who sought every opportunity and every means, however legitimate or contemptible, by which our people might be traduced.

As it has been so it will continue to be, at least until after the next Presidential election. Never, at any time since the country had an existence, have there been greater abuse and vilification heaped upon our people than are now being poured upon us from the phials of wrath of Northern partisan hatred. It is the meat upon which they feed, and without which the dominant party would become annihilated in the shortest possible period of time.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 25, 1879.
There is a perceptible loss of interest in debate on the two appropriation bills—the Army and Legislative—in House and Senate. This is because the early debate in the House on the Army bill really exhausted the subject. There was no question except whether or not the Federal Government should exceed its granted powers by interfering with election. Whether such interference be by the Army, under command of the President, or by supervisors, appointed under the direction of the President, is immaterial. By reason of immoderate preparation, or for other reasons, there may be a greater disinclination among voters to submit to Army dictation or intimidation than to dictation or intimidation by civil officers of the central government, but the result is the same in either case. The citizen loses his proper influence in the government.

The event of yesterday (Thursday) was the speech of Senator Conkling. He was not expected to make a speech on the merits of the question, and upon an examination of his speech, I don't think he did. He made a speech intended to excite the North against the South. He commenced by saying that the North paid more of taxes than the South. This has nothing to do with any question under discussion but even if it had true conclusion the Senator would have us form in a high degree false. The Senator reckons import duties paid at the port of New York as a part of these taxes. These taxes are paid at New York, but are in reality paid by consumers in every section. But the fallacies of the Senator's speech are almost as numerous as its sentences. The only apparent object of the speech was to incense one section of the country against another. It was as unpatriotic as Blaine could have made it, and as illogical as anything of Logan's. The manner of Senator Conkling, and his excellent command of language, were all that made the effort tolerable. Garfield made a much more effective and net at all more dishonest and unpatriotic speech when the Army debate commenced in the House. Mr Conkling glowingly eulogized General Grant and prophesied his re-nomination.

After Conkling concluded, Senator Blaine again presented his amendment imposing fine and imprisonment on any one appearing at the polls with deadly weapons. It was voted down, 35 to 25, that being a strict party vote. Final action will be had on the Army bill to day at 3 o'clock. It will go to Mr Hayes for his sanction, and the general opinion is that he will veto it. The Greenback members of the House will first attempt to strike out from the Legislative Appropriation bill all that relates to test oaths for jurors, and to supervisors. This attempt failing, as it must, they will vote with the Democrats for the bill. Seventeen thousand dollars is the sum carpet-bag Ex-Senator Patterson charged as his expenses in a western investigating expedition last summer. Another committee, larger than his, failed further, was gone three times as long, took more testimony, and had only one-third as large expenses. The trouble with the Patterson Committee was that Patterson was all the Senator in the party. There was no responsible man to watch Patterson. Very faintly this illustrates the Patterson and Kellogg and Chamberlain way of doing business in the South. The carpet-bag official who did not need two honest Democrats to watch him was a rarity. The Southern people have abundant reason for thanking God that the days of the Patterson's are over.

Further evidence has been discovered and filed in relation to the alleged irregularities of Senator Ingalls in securing his re-election. There is now no doubt the Senate will order an investigation of the whole matter.

Serious Danger.

Threatens every man, woman or child living in a region of country where fever and ague is prevalent, since the germs of malarial disease are inhaled from the air and are swallowed from the water of such a region. Medicinal safeguard is absolutely necessary to nullify this danger. As a means of fortifying and acclimating the system so as to be able to resist the malarial poison, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is incomparably the best and the most popular. Irregularities of the stomach, liver and bowels encourage malaria; but these are speedily rectified by the Bitters. The functions of digestion and secretion are assisted by its use, and a vigorous as well as regular condition of the system promoted by it. Constitution and physique are thus defended against the threads of malaria by this matchless preventive, which is also a certain and thorough remedy in the worst cases of intermittent and remittent fevers.

Self Possessed tramp: "Will an gentleman—brown (to intending assuiver). 'Don't you give him anything—he's near here before to-day.' S-P-T (loftily): 'Will you have the kindness not to meddle with my business affairs?'—Puck.

MOONSHINE.
In the spring a poor man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of greens.—Steubenville Herald.
"It's only a spring opening, ma," explained that awful boy, as he exhibited his torn trousers after a leap over the picket fence.
Professor (looking at his watch)—"As we have a few minutes, I would like to have any one ask questions, if so disposed." Student—"What time is it, please?"
Curious, but we never saw this notice in any of our country exchanges: "Owing to press of poetry, a large number of advertisements are unavoidably crowded out but will positively appear in our next."—Pack.

Smart Sophomore—"What fruit would you most resemble when riding on a jack-ass?" Innocent-looking Freshman—"Give it up." S-S—"A beautiful pear."—I L F.
—"All right; come outside and I'll try it."—Harvard Advocate.

The superintendent addressed the Sunday school on obedience to the moral law and urged the keeping and not breaking of the commandments, and to fasten the impression, asked: "Is anything better for being broken?" "Yes," said a little boy, "a nag." The address proceeded no further.

We never weary of reading a good epithet, one which indicates the work of a life-time in a few short crisp words. Here is one, for instance, which needs no explanation. It was inscribed on the tomb of a cannibal: "He loved his fellow men." And here is a double obituary, which shows that the state of matrimony is sometimes a happy one:
I am anxiously expecting you A D 1827
Her: I am A D 1867.

A Sure Cure for Piles.
A SURE CURE for the blind, bleeding, itching and ulcerated piles has been discovered by Dr. William (an Indian remedy), called Dr. Williams' Indian Ointment. A single box has cured the worst old chronic cases of twenty-five and thirty years' standing. No one need suffer five minutes after applying the wonderful soothing medicine. Lotions, instruments and electrocaries do more harm than good. Williams' Ointment absorbs the tumors, allays the intense itching (particularly at night after getting warm in bed), acts as a poultice, gives instant and painless relief, and is prepared only for Piles, itching of the private parts and nothing else. "I consulted physicians in Philadelphia, Louisville, Cincinnati, Indianapolis and this city, and spent hundreds of dollars, and found no relief until I obtained a box of Dr. Williams' Indian Ointment some four months ago, and it has cured me completely."
JOSIAH M. BYRNE, Cleveland, O.
"Has done me more good than all the medicine I ever tried, and I have spent more than $100 with doctors, besides medicines I am sure cost me more than $40."
DAVID SPANISH, Graham, Ill.
